The 16-Man Board of Directors of the

APRTA*

elected democratically by the 2,000 AP member broadcasters it serves. Its by-laws provide that all categories of member broadcasters be represented . . . from 250-watt local radio stations to 50,000-watt AMs, FMs and television.

* (The Associated Press Radio and Television Association)

By probing and dissecting every aspect of the broadcast circuit, analyzing the suggestions and recommendations of individual stations and making periodic reports, the APRTA has kept AP broadcast members on top!

POPULARITY

It's one thing to reach an audience . . . another to hold it . . .

one measure of a station's ability to hold an audience is the mail it receives.

In 1959, KIRO's 'Garden personality, Cecil Solly, alone received over 124,000 letters:

Important

WILLIAM C. DEKKER
Vice President and Media Director
McCann-Erickson, Inc., New York City

"Our membership in the Audit Bureau of Circulation speaks for our belief and confidence in that organization."

FRANK COULTER, jR.
Associate Director, Media Relations
Young & Rubicam, Inc., New York

"I've always felt that a paid circulation magazine must be a little more responsive in its editorial policy to the needs of its readers . . . (the reader) can just as easily knock off his name if he does not feel that the magazine is doing a conscientious editorial job. Since A.B.C. audits only paid circulation, this becomes an important measure of reader response."

JAMES LUCE
Television Group Head
J. Walter Thompson

"Paid circulation, as measured by A.B.C., is the only measurement of reader interest and reader responsiveness. Paid circulation is self-purging and the man who pays his money intends to read the periodical. This is the principle behind A.B.C. and it's the sound way to buy space."

FRANK KEMP
Vice President and Media Director
Compton Advertising, New York

"I'm highly in favor of Audit Bureau of Circulations, and believe that all trade papers should be audited."

A. C. DEPIERRO
Vice President, Charge of Media
Geyer, Morey, Madden & Ballard, Inc., New York

"Helping to eliminate the guess-work from media buying through your membership in Audit Bureau of Circulations is a significant benefit to advertisers and their agencies. Audit Bureau of Circulations reports are a vital part of our every day working tools and we commend you for adding your publication to the impressive list of Bureau Members."

DR. E. L. DECKINGER
Vice President, Media Director
Grey Advertising Agency, Inc.

"A.B.C. reports are to the agency space buyer what a law library is to the attorney—indispensable for the efficient exercise of his professional function. Paid circulation is a vital dimension in the measurement of publication acceptance. We who grew up in the era of A.B.C. find it hard to understand how advertising even managed to function without it."

Media Buyers Rely on Audit Bureau of Circulations

BROADCASTING is the only magazine in the vertical radio-tv field qualifying for membership in the Audit Bureau of Circulations

Here's a cross-section of media buyers—and what they say about the Audit Bureau of Circulations.

BROADCASTING has the largest paid circulation in its field. BROADCASTING distributed more paid circulation in four months than all others in the field combined distribute in a year.

There's no abracadabra to Audit Bureau audits. It is a standard of measurement of PAID circulation. The rules were written by advertisers and agencies.

WHAT HAPPENS WHEN A NATION SPENDS MORE ON GAMBLING THAN IT SPENDS FOR HIGHER EDUCATION?

If you can find any Romans around, ask them. They lived pretty high on the hog in their day. That is, until some serious-minded neighbors from up North moved in. The rest is ancient history.

You'd think their fate would have taught us a lesson.

Yet today we Americans spend twenty billion dollars a year for legalized gambling, while we spend a niggardly four-and-a-half billion for higher education. Think of it! Over four times as much! We also spend six-and-a-half billion dollars a year for tobacco, nine billion dollars for alcoholic beverages, and billions more on other non-essentials.

Can't we read the handwriting on the wall?

Our very survival depends on the ability of our colleges and universities to continue to turn out thinking men and women. Yet today many of these fine institutions are hard put to make ends meet. Faculty salaries, generally, are so low that qualified teachers are leaving the campus in alarming numbers for better-paying jobs elsewhere.

In the face of this frightening trend, experts estimate that by 1970 college applications will have doubled.

If we are to keep our place among the leading nations of the world, we must do something about this grim situation before it is too late. The tuition usually paid by a college student covers less than half the actual cost of his education. The balance must somehow be made up by the institution. To meet this deficit even the most heavily endowed colleges and universities have to depend upon the generosity of alumni and public spirited citizens. In other words, they depend upon you.

For the sake of our country and our children, won't you do your part? Support the college of your choice today. Help it to prepare to meet the challenge of tomorrow. The rewards will be greater than you think.

It's important for you to know what the impending college crisis means to you. Write for a free booklet to HIGHER EDUCATION, Box 36, Times Square Station, New York 36, New York.

THE BIG SPLASH IN "THE LAND OF THE SKY BLUE WATERS"

Meet the Hamm's Bear. He's a symbol of the Land of Sky Blue Waters where famous Hamm's Beer is brewed. Symbol, too, of one of television's smartest advertising campaigns. The Hamm's Bear gets himself in one kind of trouble after another while slick background copy sells entertained viewers on Hamm's beer. Of course, Hamm's uses SPOT television, because they want to sell only the markets they're in.

The spot medium has more advantages than you might realize. Your nearest H-R man is an expert on spot. He'll show you how spot can do the right job for you. Call him.

TIE UP THE YOUNG HOUSEWIFE WITH ABC's NEW FLAIR!

Just when she needs a break, ABC Radio gives it to her! Weekdays from 1 to 1:55 p.m., starting October 3rd, she'll tune in to FLAIR, a new kind of program designed for women "with a flair for living and a flair for fun." Not just "background music," FLAIR will actively engage the attention of young suburban housewives. Family women. The ones who are the best and busiest buyers in the U.S.

An artful mix of good popular music with short features, FLAIR will deal with such diverse subjects as makeup, baby care, comedy, recipes, overseas pickups and Hollywood interviews. The people—glamorous people, respected people—who headline these features will be fun to be with, interesting to hear.

FLAIR is a good example of how ABC Radio is shaping itself to fit the bright, new market of the Sixties, the broad new market of the suburbs. If this is your market, FLAIR is your opportunity. And ABC is your best radio network buy.

ABC-TV NETWORK RATES

(As of August 10, 1960)

Below are gross rates for Class A hour. Class A time is 6-11 p.m., Sunday through Saturday. Class B rate (75% of Class A rate) applies to stations not primarily affiliated with ABC-TV. Class C time (50% of Class A rate) is 11 p.m. to sign-off Sunday through Saturday, 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday and Sunday, and 5-6 p.m. Monday through Friday. Class D time (33.3% of Class A rate) is daytime hours up to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, except for special programs on national holidays, which are charged as Class C. Rates for periods less than one hour are charged at these percentages of the hour rate: 80% for 45 minutes; 60% for 30 minutes; 40% for 15 minutes; 33⅓% for 10 minutes and 26⅔% for 5 minutes.

ABC has no must-buy list of basic stations. Its rate card states: "Advertisers are required to purchase for each program a minimum cleared gross for station time equivalent to $80,000.00 for each Class A hour telecast."

Dial Turning: a popular American sport

SOURCE: *SUNDAY-SATURDAY 8-10:30 P.M. NIELSEN MULTI-NETWORK MARKETS, DEC. 1953-1958.† NIELSEN 24 MARKETS, DEC. 1, 1959.

In the '50s television came of age. Its growing pains were necessarily marked by occasional dislocations and disenchantments as well as by many brilliant cultural achievements.

And in the '50s, as television emerged as the world's largest mass medium, it became clear that the television audience is actually many audiences, with widely diverse tastes.

The programming obligations of the broadcasters must therefore be based on a democratic concept of cultural freedom—that is, the rights of the people to want what they want when they want it.

Obviously no one is told what to watch in this country. Instead of arm-twisting, we go in for dial-twisting. It is this broad freedom of choice, as it naturally evolved in the '50s, which makes the graph on the left worth noting. This graph shows at a glance how consistent has been ABC's gain in average share of audience* over the peak viewing periods of seven Decembers.

Today, in a medium where cultural democracy supplies the most definitive of measurements, ABC has now gained the largest share of audience.† This is an expression of popularity achieved, it would seem, by giving more people what they want when they want it. This will continue to be our goal for the sixties.

CBS RADIO NETWORK RATES

(As of August 15, 1960)

Rate card provides for sale of 5- and 2½-min units in specified Mon-Fri daytime programs and 5-min segments on specified weekend programs & after 6:30 PM, NYT, on Mon-Fri, plus 5-min segments on a run-of-schedule basis. Fixed position: 5-min units (wkday) cost $1,450 each, if order is for fewer than 4 units per week for under 13 weeks; 2½-min (wkday) and 5- min (wkend) units cost $1,100 each for fewer than 6 per week for less than 13 weeks. Run-of-schedule: 5-min segments are $950 each for a minimum buy of 6-10 per week. These prices reduce as frequency and contract length increase, and the categories are combinable for discounts. Rates include talent and facilities for full network, with time charges rebatable on a pro-rata basis for stations not carrying. Rate card further provides for sale of other program lengths in multiples and fractions of a full hour.

Some say that television cannot be expected to produce great programs because it is a medium of mass communications. We hold a different view. As we see it, the one sure way to attract audiences (and advertisers as well) is to produce the best possible quality of entertainment and information. This, apparently, is also the way television's most distinguished juries see it. Recently, for example, the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences awarded 13 Emmys to the CBS Television Network, as compared to 5 for the second network and 2 for the third. This makes a total of 67 awards* that our programs have received since the year began–more than the other two networks combined. Looking at it from this point of view, we feel it is no accident that this network, which consistently wins the largest number of awards for program excellence, should also consistently attract the largest audiences in all television. CBS

NBC RADIO NETWORK RATES

NBC Radio does not list rates for affiliates individually. It sells on a "full network" basis. Privately it has set up a schedule of percentages to compute rebates to advertisers for stations that fail to clear. These percentages are not made public.

Gross costs of participations, full network, follow:

| Participation or Segment | "MONITOR" | Weekday Programming |
|---|---|---|
| 5 minutes | $1,530 | .... |
| 1 minute | 1,350 | $1,350 |
| 30 seconds | 1,000 | 1,000 |
| 6 seconds | 400 | 400 |

These prices are based on a full network clearance.

Gross time charges on the full network for sponsored programs, effective June 1, 1960, follow:

| Length of Program | Total Gross Network Charge |
|---|---|
| 5 minutes | $1,736.87 |
| 10 minutes | 3,269.37 |
| 15 minutes | 4,597.50 |
| 20 minutes | 5,721.37 |
| 25 minutes | 6,768,.50 |
| 30 minutes | 7,662.50 |
| 35 minutes | 8,582.00 |
| 40 minutes | 9,399.37 |
| 45 minutes | 10,114.50 |
| 50 minutes | 10,727.50 |

Radio Stations in Mexico And the Caribbean Area

Note: The following list of Mexican and Caribbean radio stations is based on available data from the U. S. Federal Communications Commission, the communications ministries of the various countries and from other sources. Like other countries in the North American Regional Broadcasting Agreement area, most follow the 1950 NARBA, although all are not signatory.

World Wide Distribution of Radio Receiver Sets

The number of radio sets in the world (excluding the U.S., its possessions and Canada) increased by 12 million in 1959 for a total of 165,667,000, according to the U.S. Information Agency report of March 2, 1960. Wire speakers, for public listening, reached 38.9 million, a 22% increase of 7 million over the 1958 total. The following statistics are approximate and should be treated with caution, particularly when they refer to newly-developing countries.

College or University Campus—Limited Radio Stations in the U.S.

The following college or university campus-limited stations are operated principally by students enrolled in the schools. Their transmission is by wire, and reception is limited to on campus listening. College radio is represented nationally by three organizations: the Intercollegiate Broadcasting System, the Ivy Network, and the College Radio Corp. Station affiliation to one or more of these groups is listed beside the call letters. For further information, see the listings IBS, Ivy, and CRC on page B-27.

CIRCULATION?

The TV and RADIO RUNDOWN

Effie may well be the first to open this TV-radio "business" publication she's just found in Mr. Timebuyer's basket. Gets lonely here at night, and Effie likes the pictures on the slick paper.

But what about Mr. Timebuyer? Why didn't the pictures and fancy layouts captivate him? Well, he's a busy man and he puts it this way:

"There isn't time to read them all!"

There isn't time to plow through the 1,000-odd pages of assorted reading matter sent him monthly under the guise of TV-radio "information". He's particularly tight-fisted with time for magazines that arrive gratuitously, without being asked for.

After all, he receives – and pays for – BROADCASTING every week. Its pages give him, concisely and accurately, the full background of latest facts on everything significant in the television and radio business. When he can get all this from one publication, why bother to read a whole basketful of others?

BROADCASTING is the only TV-radio business journal qualifying for membership in the Audit Bureau of Circulations – which verifies paid circulation publications exclusively. This is an important assurance for advertisers who would rather have their messages in a medium people want enough to pay for – instead of ones that have to be given away. Makes sense, don't you think?

Planning a Radio Station?

RCA presents 3 basic plans to meet all requirements!

These versatile plans illustrate how the very latest equipment can be arranged to perform efficiently with a minimum of capital and personnel. Since programming requirements vary, three basic plans, representing three specific categories of operation, are provided.

Plan "A" is for a typical small station and requires a minimum investment. A "combined" studio-transmitter operation contributes to its overall efficiency.

Plan "B," also is for a "combined" operation, but it provides additional facilities to allow for announce booth and other local program material. A typical community station of moderate size, it meets the widest range of applications.

Plan "C," with separate studio and transmitter locations, is functionally designed for big city operation. It highlights the advantages of a spacious two-studio station.

Building layouts, together with a discussion of equipment requirements and current trends, are included in a new Brochure. For your free copy, write to RCA Department YB-22, Building 15-1, Camden, N. J. In Canada: RCA VICTOR Company Limited, Montreal.

How to Apply for a Broadcasting Station

(updated to July 1960)

Any qualified citizen, firm, or group may apply to the Federal Communications Commission for authority to construct a standard (am), frequency modulation (fm), or television (tv) broadcast station.

Licensing of these facilities is prescribed by the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, which sets up certain basic requirements. In general, applicants must satisfy the Commission that they are legally, technically and financially qualified, and that operation of the proposed station would be in the public interest.

The licensing procedure is detailed in Part 1 of the Commission's Rules, "Practice and Procedure," while station operation is covered by Part 3, "Radio Broadcast Services." The latter includes technical standards for am, fm, and tv stations: fm frequency allocations by classes of stations, and tv channel assignments by states and communities.

Following is a summary of the consecutive steps to be followed in applying for authorization to build and operate a broadcast station. The application procedure is substantially the same whether the facility sought is am, fm, or tv.

Selecting a Frequency

Am broadcast stations operate on "local," "regional," or "clear" channels. Stations of 250 watts power serve small communities; stations of 500 watts to 5 kilowatts power cover centers of population and surrounding areas; stations of 10 to 50 kilowatts power are for large area coverage, particularly at night. There is no separate classification for am operation by educational stations. To determine whether an am frequency is available for assignment in a particular area, it is necessary for the applicant to have a frequency search made by a competent engineer. The Commission does not make such studies for prospective applicants.

Class A fm stations employ up to 1 kw in power for community service; and Class B stations use more power for metropolitan or rural coverage. Operating fm stations may apply for a "Subsidiary Communications Authorization" to furnish background music and other supplemental program service. Noncommercial educational fm stations are in a separate category. The minimum power for commercial fm stations is 250 w; educational fm stations operate with power as low as 10 w. Fm applicants must determine what frequencies they can use in consideration of existing stations and pending applicants in their areas.

An applicant for a commercial tv station must request a vhf (very high frequency) or a uhf (ultra high frequency) channel assigned to the community involved for operation there or a place within a 15-mile radius. "Satellite" and tv "translator" stations serve communities unable to afford regular tv stations. They pick up and rebroadcast locally the programs of outside stations, with the latters' permission. "Satellites" operate on channels assigned to the places in which they are located; "translators" operate on the upper 14 uhf channels. Channels are set apart for noncommercial educational tv operation.

[Editor's note: July 28, 1960, the FCC announced new rules for the operation of vhf translators or "boosters."]

Applying for a Construction Permit

Once a prospective licensee has decided upon the type of station he desires, and the place where it would be located, the next step is to apply for a construction permit. This is done on FCC Form 301, "Application for Authority to Construct a New Broadcast Station or Make Changes in an Existing Broadcast Station," which covers am, fm, or tv broadcast. This form requires information about the citizenship and character of the applicant, as well as his financial, technical, and other qualifications, plus details about the transmitting apparatus to be used, antenna and studio locations, and the service proposed. A specific channel or frequency must be requested. Triplicate copies are required, one of which must be executed under oath or affirmation.

Application Processing

Applications for new broadcast stations are twice reported by the Commission—when first tendered and, again, when accepted for filing. Such an application is not acted upon until at least 30 days after public notice is given of its acceptance.

Applications are, in general, processed in the order in which accepted. They are reviewed in their engineering, legal, and financial aspects by the Broadcast Bureau, which makes recommendations to the Commission.

If, upon examination of an application, the Commission determines that there are no engineering or other conflicts, that the applicant is qualified, and that all other requirements are met, the application is granted without hearing and a construction permit is issued. All such grants are announced publicly.

Any grant made by the Commission without hearing is subject to protest within 30 days, during which the protesting party may request a hearing. Within 30 days thereafter the Commission determines whether the objection merits a hearing.

The law requires that, in general, decision on noncontested applications be made within three months from the date of the original filing, and within six months from the conclusion of a hearing in those cases which go through a hearing.

Hearings

Where it appears that an application violates the Commission's rules and regulations; that serious interference would be caused; or that the minimum separation requirements for tv stations are not met; or if other serious questions of a technical, legal, or financial character are involved, a hearing is usually required. The Commission must accord a hearing to competing applicants.

If unable to grant an application, the Commission is required to notify the applicant and other known parties in interest as to the reason. The applicant is usually given 30 days in which to reply. After that, if the Commission is still unable to make a grant, a hearing is ordered.

In designating an application for hearing, the Commission gives public notice of the issues for the information of the applicant and others concerned. Findings are made upon the basic qualifications (legal, financial, and technical) of the applicant in the hearing order. The hearing notice generally allows the applicant 60 days or more in which to prepare. Even after being designated for hearing, an applicant may find it possible to amend his application to resolve engineering or other problems.

Hearings are customarily conducted by an examiner. The hearing examiner has authority to administer oaths, examine witnesses and rule upon the admission of evidence. A prehearing conference is generally held within a few weeks after a case has been designated for hearing, either at the request of one of the parties or on the presiding officer's own initiative. Additional prehearing conferences may be held when the need therefore arises.

CONCERNING FCC RULES AND REGULATIONS

"How to Apply for a Broadcast Station License" is a concise report prepared by the FCC Office of Reports & Information as a lay language guide. Serious applicants will also wish to study the FCC Rules & Regulations. Excerpts of the rules begin on page C-12.

Within 20 days after the close of a record by the hearing examiner, each party and the chief of the Broadcast Bureau of the Commission has the privilege of filing proposed findings of fact and conclusions to support their contentions. After review of the evidence and statements, the hearing examiner issues an initial decision.

If he wishes to contest the initial decision, the applicant or any other interested party has 30 days from the date on which the initial decision was announced to file exceptions. In all cases heard by an examiner, the Commission will hear oral argument on timely request of any party. After oral argument, the Commission may adopt, modify, or reverse the hearing examiner's initial decision. Within 30 days thereafter, any party involved may petition for rehearing.

If no exceptions are filed, and the Commission does not initiate a review of the hearing examiner's initial decision, the latter becomes effective 50 days after its issuance, unless otherwise ordered by the Commission. Court appeals can be taken within 50 days following announcement of the Commission decision.

Construction Permit

When and if an application meets requirements, it is granted and a construction permit is issued. The permittee may then suggest call letters which, if available and conforming to the rules, are issued. A maximum of 60 days from date of the construction permit is provided in which construction shall begin, and a maximum of 6 months thereafter as the time for completion (or 8 months in all). Application to modify a broadcast construction authorization, or to make changes in an existing station, or to modify a license, is made on the same form (301) used in seeking initial construction authorization. If the permittee is unable to build his station within the time specified, he must apply for extension of time on Form 701 ("Application for Additional Time to Construct a Radio Station"), giving the reasons. Upon completion of construction the permittee conducts equipment (not program) tests.

License

The final step is to apply for the actual license on Form 302 ("Application for New Broadcast Station License"). Applicants must show compliance with all terms, conditions, and obligations set forth in the original application and the construction permit. After applying for a license and receiving authority from the Commission, the holder of a construction permit then conducts program tests. A station license is issued if no new cause or circumstance has come to the attention of the Commission that would make operation of the station contrary to public interest.

Am, fm, and tv broadcast stations are licensed for the statutory limit of three years. Applications for renewal of license are made on Form 303 ("Application for Renewal of Broadcast Station License").

Forms for Other Purposes

If the holder of a construction permit or license desires to assign the same to someone else, he makes application on Form 314 ("Application for Consent to Assignment of Radio Broadcast Station Construction Permit or License").

Should the permittee or the licensee wish to transfer corporate control, he applies on Form 315 ("Application for Consent to Transfer Control of Corporation Holding Radio Broadcast Station Construction Permit or License"). In certain cases Form 316 ("Application for Assignment or Transfer—Short Form") may be used when the transfer or assignment involves no substantial changes in interest.

The Television Code of the National Assn. of Broadcasters

Preamble

Television is seen and heard in every type of American home. These homes include children and adults of all ages, embrace all races and all varieties of religious faith, and reach those of every educational background. It is the responsibility of television to bear constantly in mind that the audience is primarily a home audience, and consequently that television's relationship to the viewers is that between guest and host.

The revenues from advertising support the free, competitive American system of telecasting, and make available to the eyes and ears of the American people the finest programs of information, education, culture and entertainment. By law the television broadcaster is responsible for the programming of his station. He, however, is obligated to bring his positive responsibility for excellence and good taste in programming to bear upon all who have a hand in the production of programs, including networks, sponsors, producers of film and of live programs, advertising agencies, and talent agencies.

The American businesses which utilize television for conveying their advertising messages to the home by pictures with sound, seen free-of-charge on the home screen, are reminded that their responsibilities are not limited to the sale of goods and the creation of a favorable attitude toward the sponsor by the presentation of entertainment. They include, as well, responsibility for utilizing television to bring the best programs, regardless of kind, into American homes.

Television and all who participate in it are jointly accountable to the American public for respect for the special needs of children, for community responsibility, for the advancement of education and culture, for the acceptability of the program materials chosen, for decency and decorum in production, and for propriety in advertising. This responsibility cannot be discharged by any given group of programs, but can be discharged only through the highest standards of respect for the American home, applied to every moment of every program presented by television.

In order that television programming may best serve the public interest, viewers should be encouraged to make their criticisms and positive suggestions known to the television broadcasters. Parents in particular should be urged to see to it that out of the richness of television fare, the best programs are brought to the attention of their children.

Advancement of Education and Culture

1. Commercial television provides a valuable means of augmenting the educational and cultural influences of schools, institutions of higher learning, the home, the church, museums, foundations, and other institutions devoted to education and culture.

2. It is the responsibility of a television broadcaster to call upon such institutions for counsel and cooperation and to work with them on the best methods of presenting educational and cultural materials by television. It is further the responsibility of stations, networks, advertising agencies and sponsors consciously to seek opportunities for introducing into telecasts factual materials which will aid in the enlightenment of the American public.

3. Education via television may be taken to mean that process by which the individual is brought toward informed adjustment to his society. Television is also responsible for the presentation of overtly instructional and cultural programs, scheduled so as to reach the viewers who are naturally drawn to such programs, and produced so as to attract the largest possible audience.

4. In furthering this realization, the television broadcaster:

a) Should be thoroughly conversant with the educational and cultural needs and desires of the community served.

b) Should affirmatively seek out responsible and accountable educational and cultural institutions of the community with a view toward providing opportunities for the instruction and enlightenment of the viewers.

c) Should provide for reasonable experimentation in the development of programs specifically directed to the advancement of the community's culture and education.

Acceptability of Program Material

Program materials should enlarge the horizons of the viewer, provide him with wholesome entertainment, afford helpful stimulation, and remind him of the responsibilities which the citizen has towards his society.

The intimacy and confidence placed in television demand of the broadcaster, the networks and other program sources that they be vigilant in protecting the audience from deceptive program practices.

a) (i) Profanity, obscenity, smut and vulgarity are forbidden, even when likely to be understood only by part of the audience. From time to time, words which have been acceptable, acquire undesirable meanings, and telecasters should be alert to eliminate such words. (ii) Words (especially slang) derisive of any race, color, creed, nationality or national derivation, except wherein such usage would be for the specific purpose of effective dramatization such as combating prejudice, are forbidden, even when likely to be understood only by part of the audience. From time to time, words which have been acceptable, acquire undesirable meanings, and telecasters should be alert to eliminate such words.

b) (i) Attacks on religion and religious faiths are not allowed. (ii) Reverence is to mark any mention of the name of God, His attributes and powers. (iii) When religious rites are included in other than religious programs the rites are accurately presented and the ministers, priests and rabbis portrayed in their callings are vested with the dignity of their office and under no circumstances are to be held up to ridicule.

c) (i) Contests may not constitute a lottery. (ii) Any telecasting designed to "buy" the television audience by requiring it to listen and/or view in hope of reward, rather than for the quality of the program, should be avoided. (see Contests).

d) Respect is maintained for the sanctity of marriage and the value of the home. Divorce is not treated casually nor justified as a solution for marital problems.

e) Illicit sex relations are not treated as commendable.

f) Sex crimes and abnormalities are generally unacceptable as program material.

g) Drunkenness and narcotic addiction are never presented as desirable or prevalent.

h) The administration of illegal drugs will not be displayed.

i) The use of liquor in program content shall be de-emphasized. The consumption of liquor in American life, when not required by the plot or for proper characterization, shall not be shown.

j) The use of gambling devices or scenes necessary to the development of plot or as appropriate background is acceptable only when presented with discretion and in moderation, and in a manner which would not excite interest in, or foster, betting nor be instructional in nature. Telecasts of actual sport programs at which on-the-scene betting is permitted by law should be presented in a manner in keeping with Federal, state and local laws, and should concentrate on the subject as a public sporting event.

k) In reference to physical or mental afflictions and deformities, special precautions must be taken to avoid ridiculing sufferers from similar ailments and offending them or members of their families.

l) Exhibitions of fortune-telling, astrology, phrenology, palm-reading, and numerology are acceptable only when required by a plot or the theme of a program, and then the presentation should be developed in a manner designed not to foster superstition or excite interest or belief in these subjects.

m) Televised drama shall not simulate news or special events in such a way as to mislead or alarm. (see News).

n) Legal, medical and other professional advice, diagnosis and treatment will be permitted only in conformity with law and recognized ethical and professional standards.

o) The presentation of cruelty, greed and selfishness as worthy motivations is to be avoided.

p) Excessive or unfair exploitation of others or of their physical or mental afflictions shall not be presented as praiseworthy.

q) Criminality shall be presented as undesirable and unsympathetic. The condoning of crime and the treatment of the commission of crime in a frivolous, cynical or callous manner is unacceptable.

r) The presentation of techniques of crime in such detail as to invite imitation shall be avoided.

s) The use of horror for its own sake will be eliminated; the use of visual or aural effects which would shock or alarm the viewer, and the detailed presentation of brutality or physical agony by sight or by sound are not permissible.

t) Law enforcement shall be upheld, and the officers of the law are to be portrayed with respect and dignity.

u) The presentation of murder or revenge as a motive for murder shall not be presented as justifiable.

v) Suicide as an acceptable solution for human problems is prohibited.

w) The exposition of sex crimes will be avoided.

x) The appearances or dramatization of persons featured in actual crime news will be permitted only in such light as to aid law enforcement or to report the news event.

y) The use of animals, both in the production of television programs and as a part of television program content, shall at all times, be in conformity with accepted standards of humane treatment.

z) Quiz and similar programs that are presented as contests of knowledge, information, skill or luck must, in fact, be genuine contests and the results must not be controlled by collusion with or between contestants, or any other action which will favor one contestant against any other.

aa) No program shall be presented in a manner which through artifice or simulation would mislead the audience as to any material fact. Each broadcaster must exercise reasonable judgment to determine whether a particular method of presentation would constitute a material deception, or would be accepted by the audience as normal theatrical illusion.

GENERAL ELECTRIC

Responsibility Toward Children

1. The education of children involves giving them a sense of the world at large. However, such subjects as violence and sex shall be presented without undue emphasis and only as required by plot development or character delineation. Crime should not be presented as attractive or as a solution to human problems, and the inevitable retribution should be made clear.

2. It is not enough that only those programs which are intended for viewing by children shall be suitable to the young and immature. (Attention is called to the general items listed under Acceptability of Program Materials). Television is responsible for insuring that programs of all sorts which occur during the times of day when children may normally be expected to have the opportunity of viewing television shall exercise care in the following regards:

a) In affording opportunities for cultural growth as well as for wholesome entertainment.

b) In developing programs to foster and promote the commonly accepted moral, social and ethical ideals characteristic of American life.

c) In reflecting respect for parents, for honorable behavior, and for the constituted authorities of the American community.

d) In eliminating reference to kidnapping of children or threats of kidnapping.

e) In avoiding material which is excessively violent or would create morbid suspense, or other undesirable reactions in children.

f) In exercising particular restraint and care in crime or mystery episodes involving children or minors.

Decency and Decorum in Production

1. The costuming of all performers shall be within the bounds of propriety and shall avoid such exposure or such emphasis on anatomical detail as would embarrass or offend home viewers.

2. The movements of dancers, actors, or other performers shall be kept within the bounds of decency, and lewdness and impropriety shall not be suggested in the positions assumed by performers.

3. Camera angles shall avoid such views of performers as to emphasize anatomical details indecently.

4. Racial or nationality types shall not be shown on television in such a manner as to ridicule the race or nationality.

5. The use of locations closely associated with sexual life or with sexual sin must be governed by good taste and delicacy.

Community Responsibility

A television broadcaster and his staff occupy a position of responsibility in the community and should conscientiously endeavor to be acquainted fully with its needs and characteristics in order better to serve the welfare of its citizens.

Treatment of News and Public Events

News

1. A television station's news schedule should be adequate and well-balanced.

2. News reporting should be factual, fair and without bias.

3. Commentary and analysis should be clearly identified as such.

4. Good taste should prevail in the selection and handling of news: Morbid, sensational or alarming details not essential to the factual report, especially in connection with stories of crime or sex, should be avoided. News should be telecast in such a manner as to avoid panic and unnecessary alarm.

5. At all times, pictorial and verbal material for both news and comment should conform to other sections of these standards, wherever such sections are reasonably applicable.

6. Pictorial material should be chosen with care and not presented in a misleading manner.

7. A television broadcaster should exercise due care in his supervision of content, format, and presentation of newscasts originated by his station, and in his selection of newscasters, commentators, and analysts.

8. A television broadcaster should exercise particular discrimination in the acceptance, placement and presentation of advertising in news programs so that such advertising should be clearly distinguishable from the news content.

9. A television broadcaster should not present fictional events or other non-news material as authentic news telecasts or announcements, nor should he permit dramatizations in any program which would give the false impression that the dramatized material constitutes news. Expletives, (presented aurally or pictorially) such as "flash" or "bulletin" and statements such as "we interrupt this program to bring you . . ." should be reserved specifically for news room use. However, a television broadcaster may properly exercise discretion in the use in non-news programs of words or phrases which do not necessarily imply that the material following is a news release.

10. All news interview programs should be governed by accepted standards of ethical journalism, under which the interviewer selects the questions to be asked. Where there is advance agreement materially restricting an important or newsworthy area of questioning, the interviewer will state on the program that such limitation has been agreed upon. Such disclosure should be made if the person being interviewed requires that questions be submitted in advance or if he participates in editing a recording of the interview prior to its use on the air.

Public Events

1. A television broadcaster has an affirmative responsibility at all times to be informed of public events, and to provide coverage consonant with the ends of an informed and enlightened citizenry.

2. Because of the nature of events open to the public, the treatment of such events by a television broadcaster should be effected in a manner to provide for adequate and informed coverage as well as good taste in presentation.

Controversial Public Issues

1. Television provides a valuable forum for the expression of responsible views on public issues of a controversial nature. In keeping therewith the television broadcaster should seek out and develop with accountable individuals, groups and organizations, programs relating to controversial public issues of import to its fellow citizens; and to give fair representation to opposing sides of issues which materially affect the life or welfare of a substantial segment of the public.

2. The provision of time for this purpose should be guided by the following principles:

a) Requests by individuals, groups or organizations for time to discuss their views on controversial public issues, should be considered on the basis of their individual merits, and in the light of the contribution which the use requested would make to the public interest, and to a well-balanced program structure. b) Programs devoted to the discussion of controversial public issues should be identified as such, and should not be presented in a manner which would mislead listeners or viewers to believe that the program is purely of an entertainment, news, or other character.

Political Telecasts

Political telecasts should be clearly identified as such, and should not be presented by a television broadcaster in a manner which would mislead listeners or viewers to believe that the program is of any other character.

Religious Programs

1. It is the responsibility of a television broadcaster to make available to the community as part of a well-balanced program schedule adequate opportunity for religious presentations.

2. The following principles should be followed in the treatment of such programs: a) Telecasting which reaches men of all creeds simultaneously should avoid attacks upon religion. b) Religious programs should be presented respectfully and accurately and without prejudice or ridicule. c) Religious programs should be presented by responsible individuals, groups and organizations. d) Religious programs should place emphasis on broad religious truths, excluding the presentation of controversial or partisan views not directly or necessarily related to religion or morality.

3. In the allocation of time for telecasts of religious programs it is recommended that the television station use its best efforts to apportion such time fairly among the representative faith groups of its community.

Subliminal Perception

The use of the television medium to transmit information of any kind by use of the process called "subliminal perception," or by the use of any similar technique whereby an attempt is made to convey information to the viewer by transmitting messages below the threshold of normal awareness, is not permitted.

Production Practices

The broadcaster shall be constantly alert to prevent activities that may lead to such practices as the use of scenic properties, the choice and identification of prizes, the selection of music and other creative program elements and inclusion of any identification of commercial products or services, their trade names or advertising slogans, within a program dictated by factors other than the requirements of the program itself. This expressly forbids the acceptance by producer, talent, or any other personnel of cash payments or other considerations in return for including any of the above within the program.

Presentation of Advertising

1. Ever mindful of the role of television as a guest in the home, a television broadcaster should exercise unceasing care to supervise the form in which advertising material is presented over his facilities. Since television is a developing medium, involving methods and techniques distinct from those of radio, it may be desirable from time to time to review and revise the presently suggested practices:

a) Advertising messages should be presented with courtesy and good taste; disturbing or annoying material should be avoided; every effort should be made to keep the advertising message in harmony with the content and general tone of the program in which it appears.

b) A sponsor's advertising messages should be confined within the framework of the sponsor's program structure. A television broadcaster should avoid the use of commercial announcements which are divorced from the program either by preceding the introduction of the program (as in the case of so-called "cowcatcher" announcements) or by following the apparent sign-off of the program (as in the case of so-called "trailer" announcements). To this end, the program itself should be announced and clearly identified, both audio and video, before the sponsor's advertising material is first used, and should be signed off, both audio and video, after the sponsor's advertising material is last used.

c) Advertising copy should contain no claims intended to disparage competitors, competing products, or other industries, professions or institutions.

d) Since advertising by television is a dynamic technique, a television broadcaster should keep under surveillance new advertising devices so that the spirit and purpose of these standards are fulfilled.

e) Television broadcasters should exercise the utmost care and discrimination with regard to advertising material, including content, placement and presentation, near or adjacent to programs designed for children. No considerations of expediency should be permitted to impinge upon the vital responsibility towards children and adolescents, which is inherent in television, and which must be recognized and accepted by all advertisers employing television.

f) Television advertisers should be encouraged to devote portions of their allotted advertising messages and program time to the support of worthy causes in the public interest in keeping with the highest ideals of the free competitive system.

g) A charge for television time to churches and religious bodies is not recommended.

Acceptability of Advertisers and Products—General

1. A commercial television broadcaster makes his facilities available for the advertising of products and services and accepts commercial presentations for such advertising. However, a television broadcaster should, in recognition of his responsibility to the public, refuse the facilities of his station to an advertiser where he has good reason to doubt the integrity of the advertiser, the truth of the advertising representations, or the compliance of the advertiser with the spirit and purpose of all applicable legal requirements. Moreover, in consideration of the laws and customs of the communities served, each television broadcaster should refuse his facilities to the advertisement of products and services, or the use of says William B. Comer, Station Manager

KBCH Radio

BC-1T 1KW Transmitter

We are more than happy with the wonderful results we are receiving with our new Gates Transmitter, Model BC-1T 1000 watt, and we certainly heartily recommend it to anyone . . . William B. Comer, Station Manager, KBCH Radio, Oceanlake, Oregon.

BC-5P-2 5KW Transmitter

Marshall W. Rowland of WQIK Radio, Jacksonville, Florida, says about the BC-5P-2 transmitter:

As owner and manager of WQIK, I have never seen such enthusiasm as shown by my entire staff, including our engineer. The new sound, the quality, plus the coverage we are now getting with our new Gates equipment can be described in only one word. TREMENDOUS.

FM-250B 250 Watt FM

Referring to the Gates FM-250B 250 watt FM transmitter, Walt Wilson, Chief of KDEN-FM, Denver, says:

We like the trouble-free dependability, good audio quality, ease of testing and maintenance, accessibility of tubes. We are continually being complimented for having the best signal and quality

Gatesway Audio System

The number of inputs and the versatility in fitting this console into our application makes it the equivalent of a custom built unit. Robert Cross, Chief Engineer, KROC Radio, Rochester, Minn.

William T. Arrington, Chief Engineer, WMRB Radio, Greenville, South Carolina, writes about the Gatesway console:

The most flexible control board I have ever operated. The cueing circuits are particularly convenient . . . the hi pass filter is another wonderful feature. The size of the Gatesway lends itself to a large or small control room. The accessibility to the point of servicing is the best.

Nite Watch Automatic Programing System

There is no question but that Nite Watch has been a great benefit to our operation and we feel that it is one of the best investments we have ever made in equipment. Ted Nelson, Vice President, KFEQ Broadcasting Co., St. Joseph, Mo.

Dualux Audio System

With so many worthwhile features, it is difficult to say which particular feature of the Dualux is best—we like them all. Maurice Hill, Chief Engineer, KXOA Radio, Sacramento, California.

I would unhesitatingly recommend the Gates Dualux to any radio station, small or large. In my opinion, this is the finest dual channel console on the market today. William H. Emerson, Chief Engineer, KOPR Radio, Butte, Montana.

advertising scripts, which the station has good reason to believe would be objectionable to a substantial and responsible segment of the community. The foregoing principles should be applied with judgment and flexibility, taking into consideration the characteristics of the medium and the form and content of the particular presentation. In general, because television broadcast is designed for the home and the family, including children, the following principles should govern the business classifications listed below:

a) The advertising of hard liquor should not be accepted.

b) The advertising of beer and wines is acceptable only when presented in the best of good taste and discretion, and is acceptable subject to Federal and local laws.

c) Advertising by institutions or enterprises which in their offers of instruction imply promises of employment or make exaggerated claims for the opportunities awaiting those who enroll for courses is generally unacceptable.

d) The advertising of firearms and fireworks is acceptable only subject to Federal and local laws.

e) The advertising of fortune-telling, occultism, astrology, phrenology, palm-reading, numerology, mind-reading, character-reading or subjects of a like nature is not permitted.

f) Because all products of a personal nature create special problems, such products, when accepted, should be treated with especial emphasis on ethics and the canons of good taste. Such advertising of personal products as is accepted must be presented in a restrained and obviously inoffensive manner.

The advertising of intimately personal products which are generally regarded as unsuitable conversational topics in mixed social groups is not acceptable. (See Television Code Interpretation No. 4)

g) The advertising of tip sheets, race track publications, or organizations seeking to advertise for the purpose of giving odds or promoting betting or lotteries is unacceptable.

h) The role and capability of television to market sponsor' products are well recognized. In turn, this fact dictates that great care be exercised by the broadcaster to prevent the presentation of false, misleading or deceptive advertising. While it is entirely appropriate to present a product in a favorable light and atmosphere, and techniques may be used to depict the characteristics of the product as they appear in actuality, the presentation must not, by copy or demonstration, involve a material deception as to the characteristics, performance or appearance of the product.

2. Diligence should be exercised to the end that advertising copy accepted for telecasting complies with pertinent Federal, state and local laws.

3. An advertiser who markets more than one product should not be permitted to use advertising copy devoted to an acceptable product for purposes of publicizing the brand name or other identification of a product which is not acceptable.

4. "Bait-switch" advertising, whereby goods or services which the advertiser has no intention of selling are offered merely to lure the customer into purchasing higher-priced substitutes, is not acceptable.

Advertising of Medical Products

1. The advertising of medical products presents considerations of intimate and far-reaching importance to the consumer, and the following principles and procedures should apply in the advertising thereof· a) A television broadcaster should not accept advertising material which in his opinion offensively describes or dramatizes distress or morbid situations involving ailments, by spoken word, sound or visual effects: b) Because of the personal nature of the advertising of medical products, claims that a product will effect a cure and the indiscriminate use of such words as "safe," "without risk," "harmless," or terms of similar meaning should not be accepted in the advertising of medical products on television stations.

Contests

1. In addition to complying with all pertinent Federal, state and local laws and regulations, all contests should offer the opportunity to all contestants to win on the basis of ability and skill rather than chance.

2. All contest details, including rules, eligibility requirements, opening and termination dates should be clearly and completely announced and/or shown, or easily accessible to the viewing public, and the winners' names should be released and prizes awarded as soon as possible after the close of the contest.

3. When advertising is accepted which requests contestants to submit items of product identification or other evidence of purchase of product, reasonable facsimiles thereof should be made acceptable.

4. All copy pertaining to any contest (except that which is required by law) associated with the exploitation or sale of the sponsor's product or service, and all references to prizes or gifts offered in such connection should be considered a part of and included in the total time allowances as herein provided. (See Time Standards for Advertising Copy.)

Premiums and Offers

1. Full details of proposed offers should be required by the television broadcaster for investigation and approved before the first announcement of the offer is made to the public.

2. A final date for the termination of an offer should be announced as far in advance as possible.

3. Before accepting for telecast offers involving a monetary consideration, a television broadcaster should satisfy himself as to the integrity of the advertiser and the advertiser's willingness to honor complaints indicating dissatisfaction with the premium by returning the monetary consideration.

4. There should be no misleading descriptions or visual representations of any premiums or gifts which would distort or enlarge their value in the minds of viewers.

5. Assurances should be obtained from the advertiser that premiums offered are not harmful to person or property.

6. Premiums should not be approved which appeal to superstition on the basis of "luck-bearing" powers or otherwise.

Time Standards for Advertising Copy

1. In accordance with good telecast advertising practices, the time standards for advertising copy as follows [see chart below]:

2. Reasonable and limited identification of prize and statement of the donor's name within formats wherein the presentation of contest awards or prizes is a necessary and integral part of program content shall not be included as commercial time within the meaning of paragraph 1, above; however, any oral or visual presentation concerning the product or its donor over and beyond such identification and statement, shall be included as commercial time within the meaning of paragraph 1, above.

3. Station breaks (spot announcements scheduled between programs) shall consist of not more than two announcements plus the conventional sponsored 10 second station ID. However, the aggregate total of the announcements shall not exceed 70 seconds within the station's highest rate period for announcements. Station break announcements shall not adversely affect a preceding or following program. (Effective Oct. 30, 1960.)

4. Announcement programs are designed to accommodate a number of announcements, which are carried within the body of the program and are available for sale to individual advertisers. Commercial announcements may not consume more than 6 minutes for any 30 minute program and no program shall have commercial content in excess of this ratio. Not more than 3 announcements shall be scheduled consecutively. Where the program exceeds 30 minutes in length, the required ID, not exceeding 10 seconds, may be in addition to these commercial time allowances.

5. Programs presenting women's services, features, shopping guides, market information, and similar materials, provide a special service to the listening and viewing public in which advertising material is an informative and integral part of the program content. Because of these special characteristics the time standards set forth above may be waived to a reasonable extent.

6. Any casual reference by talent in a program to another's product or service under any trade name or language sufficiently descriptive to identify it should, except for normal guest identifications, be condemned and discouraged.

7. Stationary backdrops or properties in television presentations showing the sponsor's name or product, the name of his product, his trade-mark or slogan may be used only incidentally. They should not obtrude on program interest or entertainment. "On Camera" shots of such materials should be fleeting, not too frequent, and mindful of the need of maintaining a proper program balance.

8. The above commercial time standards do not include opening and closing "billboard" announcements which give program or announcement sponsor identification. Each opening and closing "billboard" regardless of the number of sponsors shall not exceed 20 seconds in programs longer than one half-hour or 10 seconds in programs of one half-hour or less. (Effective Oct. 30, 1960).

Dramatized Appeals and Advertising

1. Appeals to help fictitious characters in television programs by purchasing the advertiser's product or service or sending for a premium should not be permitted, and such fictitious characters should not be introduced into the advertising message for such purposes.

2. Dramatized advertising involving statements or purported statements by physicians, dentists, or nurses must be presented by accredited members of such professions.

Sponsor Identification

Identification of sponsorship must be made in all sponsored programs in accordance with the requirements of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and the Rules and Regulations of the Federal Communications Commission.

Interpretations of the Television Code by the Code Review Board

Combination ("Piggy-Back") Announcements

The NAB Television Code Review Board has reviewed a number of spot announcements advertising more than one product. The Board has concluded that when unrelated products are advertised as separate and distinct messages within one announcement, they in effect constitute separate announcements. The Board observes that it is an acceptable practice to advertise related (e.g., various frozen food products, or automobiles of one manufacturer) or compatible (e.g., pancakes and syrup, or furniture and carpeting) products within the framework of a single announcement, when integrated to form a single message.

No. 2, June 7, 1956, revised June 9, 1958

"Pitch" Programs

The "pitchman" technique of advertising on television is inconsistent with good broadcast practice and generally damages the reputation of the industry and the advertising profession.

Sponsored program-length segments consisting substantially of continuous demonstration or sales presentation, violate not only the time standards established in the Code, but the broad philosophy of improvement implicit in the voluntary Code operation and are not acceptable.

Hollywood Film Promotion

The Television Code Review Board has formally concluded that the presentation of commentary or film excerpts from current theatrical releases in some instances may constitute "advertising copy" under section 1, "Time Standards for Advertising Copy." Specifically, for example, when such presentation, directly or by inference, urges viewers to attend, it shall be counted against the advertising copy time allowance for the program of which it is a part.

Non-Acceptability of "Intimately Personal Products"

The Television Code Review Board has reviewed several advertisements in view of Paragraph 1f) "Acceptability of Advertisers and Products—General" and in particular of the specific language ". . . . the advertising of intimately personal products which are generally regarded as unsuitable conversational topics in mixed social groups is not acceptable."

The Board has concluded that products for the treatment of hemorrhoids and for use in connection with feminine hygiene are not acceptable under the above stated language.

No. 5, Jan. 15, 1957, Revised June 9, 1958

Advertising Copy Defined

"Advertising Copy," for the purposes of the section entitled "Time Standards for Advertising Copy," is defined as follows: Reference (aural, visual, or both) to a commercial product or service, unless such reference is permissive under the provisions of paragraphs No. 2 (awarding of prizes), No. 7 (guest identification), or No. 8 (visual sponsor or product displays).

No. 6, July 17, 1958, Oct. 2, 1958

Dramatized Appeals and Advertising (Section 2)

1. The term "statement" shall include the portrayal in any manner, of a physician, dentist or nurse. Thus, the simulation of such professional people may not be undertaken even by visual means only.

2. There are instances presently on the air of advertising depicting persons obviously of some professional standing. By the nature of the props and setting, such portrayals could be that of medical, dental or nursing profession members, even though direct reference so indicating is not made. Such presentations, unless made by accredited members of these professions, are not acceptable.

3. This restriction does not preclude reference to comprehensive scientific research, studies or surveys, providing, however, that such claims can be fully supported.

4. The Board recognizes the need for time to change existing film commercials affected by this amendment and advises that all such advertising produced prior to June 18th may be used until January 1, 1959. All "live" advertising and filmed announcements prepared subsequent to this date will be considered violations.

5. The term "accredited" defined. In this context the use of the word "accredited" is synonymous with "having legal sanction." Thus, an "accredited" member of the medical profession is one who has completed the required education in a recognized institution of learning, who has passed all necessary state examinations, and who has been granted leave by his resident state to practice a particular branch of medicine.

No. 7, Jan. 23, 1959

Prize Identification

The Television Code Review Board considers that oral and/or visual prize identification of up to ten seconds duration may be deemed "reasonable and limited" under the language of this Section. Where such identification is longer than ten seconds, the entire announcement or visual presentation will be charged against the total commercial time for the program period. The Board recognizes that some subscribers have current contractual obligations which will preclude immediate application, but advises that all prize agreements made after February 1, 1959 should comply with the interpretation.

The Radio Broadcaster's Creed

We Believe:

That radio broadcasting in the United States of America is a living symbol of democracy; a significant and necessary instrument for maintaining freedom of expression, as established by the First Amendment to the Constitution of the United States;

That its influence in the arts, in science, in education, in commerce, and upon the public welfare is of such magnitude that the only proper measure of its responsibility is the common good of the whole people;

That it is our obligation to serve the people in such manner as to reflect credit upon our profession and to encourage aspiration toward a better estate for all mankind; by making available to every person in America such programs as will perpetuate the traditional leadership of the United States in all phases of the broadcasting art;

That we should make full and ingenious use of man's store of knowledge, his talents, and his skills and exercise critical and discerning judgment concerning all broadcasting operations to the end that we may, intelligently and sympathetically:

Observe the proprieties and customs of civilized society;

Respect the rights and sensitivities of all people;

Honor the sanctity of marriage and the home;

Protect and uphold the dignity and brotherhood of all mankind;

Enrich the daily life of the people through the factual reporting and analysis of news, and through programs of education, entertainment, and information;

Provide for the fair discussion of matters of general public concern; engage in works directed toward the common good; and volunteer our aid and comfort in times of stress and emergency;

Contribute to the economic welfare of all by expanding the channels of trade, by encouraging the development and conservation of natural resources, and by bringing together the buyer and seller through the broadcasting of information pertaining to goods and services.

Toward the achievement of these purposes we agree to observe the following:

1. PROGRAM STANDARDS

A. News

Radio is unique in its capacity to reach the largest number of people first with reports on current events. This competitive advantage bespeaks caution—being first is not as important as being right. The following standards are predicated upon that viewpoint.

NEWS SOURCES. Those responsible for news on radio should exercise constant professional care in the selection of sources—for the integrity of the news and the consequent good reputation of radio as a dominant news medium depend largely upon the reliability of such sources.

NEWSCASTING. News reporting should be factual and objective. Good taste should prevail in the selection and handling of news. Morbid, sensational, or alarming details not essential to factual reporting should be avoided. News should be broadcast in such a manner as to avoid creation of panic and unnecessary alarm. Broadcasters should be diligent in their supervision of content, format, and presentation of news broadcasts. Equal diligence should be exercised in selection of editors and reporters who direct news gathering and dissemination, since the station's performance in this vital informational field depends largely upon them.

COMMENTARIES·AND ANALYSES. Special obligations devolve upon those who analyze and/or comment upon news developments, and management should be satisfied completely that the task is to be performed in the best interest of the listening public. Programs of news analysis and commentary should be clearly identified as such, distinguishing them from straight news reporting.

EDITORIALIZING. Some stations exercise their rights to express opinions about matters of general public interest. Implicit in these efforts to provide leadership in matters of public consequence and to lend proper authority to the station's standing in the community it serves, is an equal obligation to provide opportunity for qualified divergent viewpoints.

The reputation of a station for honesty and accuracy in editorializing depends upon willingness to expose its convictions to fair rebuttal.

Station editorial comment should be clearly identified as such.

B. Public Issues

A broadcaster, in allotting time for the presentation of public issues, should exert every effort to insure equality of opportunity.

Time should be allotted with due regard to all elements of balanced program schedules, and to the degree of interest on the part of the public in the questions to be presented or discussed. (To discuss is "to sift or examine by presenting considerations pro and con.") The broadcaster should limit participation in the presentation of public issues to those qualified, recognized, and properly identified groups or individuals whose opinions will assist the general public in reaching conclusions.

Presentation of public issues should be clearly identified.

C. Political Broadcasts

Political broadcasts, or the dramatization of political issues designed to influence an election, should be properly identified as such.

D. Advancement of Education and Culture

Because radio is an integral part of American life, there is inherent in radio broadcasting a continuing opportunity to enrich the experience of living through the advancement of educaton and culture.

The radio broadcaster, in augmenting the educational and cultural influences of the home, the Church, schools, institutions of higher learning, and other entities devoted to education and culture:

Should be thoroughly conversant with the educational and cultural needs and aspirations of the community served;

Should cooperate with the responsible and accountable educational and cultural entities of the community to provide enlightenment of listeners;

Should engage in experimental efforts designed to advance the community's cultural and educational interests.

E. Religion and Religious Programs

Religious programs should be presented respectfully and without prejudice or ridicule.

Radio broadcasting, which reaches men of all creeds simultaneously, should avoid attacks upon religion.

Religious programs should be presented by responsible individuals, groups, or organizations.

Religious programs should place emphasis on broad religious truths, excluding the presentation of controversial or partisan views not directly or necessarily related to religion or morality.

F. Dramatic Programs

In determining the acceptability of any dramatic program containing any element of crime, mystery, or horror, proper consideration should be given to the possible effect on all members of the family.

Radio should reflect realistically the experience of living, in both its pleasant and tragic aspects, if it is to serve the listener honestly. Nevertheless, it holds a concurrent obligation to provide programs which will encourage better adjustments to life.

This obligation is apparent in the area of dramatic programs particularly. Without sacrificing integrity of presentation, dramatic programs on radio should avoid:

Techniques and methods of crime presented in such manner as to encourage imitation, or to make the commission of crime attractive, or to suggest that criminals can escape punishment;

Detailed presentation of brutal killings, torture, or physical agony, horror, the use of supernatural or climatic incidents likely to terrify or excite unduly;

Episodes involving the kidnapping of children;

Sound effects calculated to mislead, shock, or unduly alarm the listener;

Disrespectful portrayal of law enforcement;

The portrayal of suicide as a satisfactory solution to any problem.

G. Children's Programs

Programs specifically designed for listening by children should be based upon sound social concepts and should reflect respect for parents, law and order, clean living, high morals, fair play, and honorable behavior.

They should convey the commonly accepted moral, social, and ethical ideals characteristic of American life.

They should contribute to the healthy development of personality and character.

They should afford opportunities for cultural growth as well as for wholesome entertainment.

They should be consistent with integrity of realistic production, but they should avoid material of an extreme nature which might create undesirable emotional reaction in children.

They should avoid appeals urging children to purchase the product specifically for the purpose of keeping the program on the air or which, for any reason, encourage children to enter inappropriate places.

H. General

Sound effects and expressions characteristically associated with news broadcasts (such as "bulletins," "flash," etc.) should be reserved for announcement of news, and the use of any deceptive techniques in connection with fictional events and non-news programs should not be employed.

When plot development requires the use of material which depends upon physical or mental handicaps, care should be taken to spare the sensibilities of sufferers from similar defects.

Stations should avoid broadcasting program material which would tend to encourage illegal gambling or other violations of Federal, State and local laws, ordinances, and regulations.

Simulation of court atmosphere or use of the term "court" in a program title should be done only in such manner as to eliminate the possibility of creating the false impression that the proceedings broadcast are vested with judicial or official authority.

When dramatized advertising material involves statements by doctors, dentists, nurses, or other professional people, the material should be presented by members of such profession reciting actual experience, or it should be made apparent from the presentation itself that the portrayal is dramatized.

In cases of programs broadcast over multiple station facilities, the originating station or network should assume responsibility for conforming such programs to this Radio Code.

II. ADVERTISING STANDARDS

Advertising is the principal source of revenue of the free, competitive American system of radio broadcasting. It makes possible the presentation to all American people of the finest programs of entertainment, education, and information.

Since the great strength of American radio broadcasting derives from the public respect for and the public approval of its programs, it must be the purpose of each broadcaster to establish and maintain high standards of performance, not only in the selection and production of all programs, but also in the presentation of advertising.

A. Time Standards for Advertising Copy

As a guide to the determination of good broadcast advertising practice, the time standards for advertising copy are established as follows:

The maximum time to be used for advertising, allowable to any single sponsor, regardless of type of program, should be—

|---|---|---|---|
| 5 | minute | programs | 1:30 |
| 10 | " | " | 2:10 |
| 15 | " | " | 3:00 |
| 25 | " | " | 4:00 |
| 30 | " | " | 4:15 |
| 45 | " | " | 5:45 |
| 60 | " | " | 7:00 |

The time standards allowable to a single advertiser do not affect the established practice of allowance for station breaks between programs.

Any reference in a sponsored program to another's products or services under any trade name, or language sufficiently descriptive to identify it, should, except for normal guest identifications, be considered as advertising copy.

While any number of products may be advertised by a single sponsor within the specified time standards, advertising copy for these products should be presented within the framework of the program structure. Accordingly, the use on such programs of simulated spot announcements which are divorced from the program by preceding the introduction of the program itself, or by following its apparent sign-off should be avoided. To this end, the program itself should be announced and clearly identified before the use of what have been known as "cow-catcher" announcements, and the programs should be signed off after the use of what have been known as "hitch-hike" announcements.

B. Presentation of Advertising

The advancing techniques of the broadcast art have shown that the quality and proper integration of advertising copy are just as important as measurement in time. The measure of a station's service to its audience is determined by its over-all performance, rather than by any individual segment of its broadcast day.

Programs of multiple sponsorship presenting commercial services, features, shopping guides, marketing news, and similar information, may include more material normally classified as "commercial" or "advertising," if it is of such nature as to serve the interests of the general public and, if properly produced and intelligently presented, within the established areas of good taste.

The final measurement of any commercial broadcast service is quality. To this, every broadcaster should dedicate his best efforts.

C. Acceptability of Advertisers and Products

1. A commercial radio broadcaster makes his facilities available for the advertising of products and services and accepts commercial presentations for such advertising. However, he should, in recognition of his responsibility to the public, refuse the facilities of his station to an advertiser where he has good reason to doubt the integrity of the advertiser, the truth of the advertising representations, or the compliance of the advertiser with the spirit and purpose of all applicable legal requirements. Moreover, in consideration of the laws and customs of the communities served, each radio broadcaster should refuse his facilities to the advertisement of products and services, or the use of advertising scripts, which the station has good reason to believe would be objectionable to a substantial and responsible segment of the community. The foregoing principles should be applied with judgment and flexibility, taking into consideration the characteristics of the medium and the form of the particular presentation. In general, because radio broadcasting is designed for the home and the entire family, the following principles should govern the business classifications listed below:

a) The advertising of hard liquor should not be accepted.

FCC Rules Regulating Radio-Television

(Selected sections amended to July 1, 1960. Compiled with the cooperation of Pike & Fischer Inc., publisher of Pike & Fischer Radio Regulation.)

ALLOCATIONS AND DEFINITIONS

In am rules . . .

§3.1 Standard broadcast station.—The term "standard broadcast station" means a station licensed for the transmission of radio-telephone emissions primarily intended to be received by the general public and operated on a channel in the band 535-1605 kilocycles, inclusive.

§3.2 Standard broadcast band.—The term "standard broadcast band" means the band of frequencies extending from 535-1605 kilocycles.

§3.3 Standard broadcast channel.—The term "standard broadcast channel" means the band of frequencies occupied by the carrier and two side bands of a broadcast signal with the carrier frequency at the center. Channels shall be designated by their assigned carrier frequencies. The 107 carrier frequencies assigned to standard broadcast stations shall begin at 540 kilocycles and be in successive steps of 10 kilocycles.

§3.4 Dominant station.—The term "dominant station" means a class I station, as hereinafter defined, operating on a clear channel.

§3.5 Secondary station.—The term "secondary station" means any station except a class I station operating on a clear channel.

§3.6 Daytime.—The term "daytime" means that period of time between local sunrise and local sunset.

§3.7 Nighttime.—The term "nighttime" means that period of time between local sunset and 12 midnight local standard time.

§3.8 Sunrise and sunset.—The term "sunrise and sunset" means for each particular location and during any particular month, the time of sunrise and sunset as specified in the instrument of authorization.

§3.9 Broadcast day.—The term "broadcast day" means that period of time between local sunrise and 12 midnight local standard time.

§3.10 Experimental period.—The term "experimental period" means that time between 12 midnight and local sunrise. This period may be used for experimental purposes in testing and maintaining apparatus by the licensee of any standard broadcast station on its assigned frequency and with its authorized power, provided no interference is caused to other stations maintaining a regular operating schedule within such period. No station licensed for "daytime" or "specified hours" of operation may broadcast any regular or scheduled program during this period.

§3.11 Service areas.—(a) The term "primary service area" of a broadcast station means the area in which the ground wave is not subject to objectionable interference or objectionable fading.

(b) The term "secondary service area" of a broadcast station means the area served by the sky wave and not subject to objectionable interference. The signal is subject to intermittent variations in intensity.

(c) The term "intermittent service area" of a broadcast station means the area receiving service from the ground wave but beyond the primary service area and subject to some interference and fading.

§3.12 Portable transmitter.—The term "portable transmitter" means a transmitter so constructed that it may be moved about conveniently from place to place, and is in fact so moved about from time to time, but not ordinarily used while in motion. In the standard broadcast band, such a transmitter is used in making field intensity measurements for locating a transmitter site for a standard broadcast station. A portable broadcast station will not be licensed in the standard broadcast band for regular transmission of programs intended to be received by the public.

§3.13 Auxiliary transmitter.—The term "auxiliary transmitter" means a transmitter maintained only for transmitting the regular programs of a station in case of failure of the main transmitter.

Allocations—(am)

§3.21 Three classes of standard broadcast channels.

(a) Clear channel: A "clear channel" is one on which the dominant station or stations render service over wide areas and which are cleared of objectionable interference within their primary service areas and over all or a substantial portion of their secondary service areas.

(b) Regional channel: A "regional channel" is one on which several stations may operate with powers not in excess of 5 kilowatts. The primary service area of a station operating on any such channel may be limited, as a consequence of interference, to a given field intensity contour.

(c) Local channel: A "local channel" is one on which several stations operate with powers not in excess of 1 kilowatt daytime, and 250 watts nighttime. The primary service area of a station operating on any such channel may be limited as a consequence of interference to a given field intensity contour.

NOTE: The power ceiling for Class IV stations under the North American Regional Broadcasting Agreement (NARBA) is 250 watts. The Agreement between the United States of America and the United Mexican States Concerning Radio Broadcasting in the Standard Broadcast Band would permit daytime operation of Class IV stations with a maximum power of 1 kilowatt in all areas of the United States more than 100 kilometers (62 miles) from the United States/Mexican border. Pursuant to the U.S./Mexican Agreement and informal coordination with the other NARBA signatories, the Commission will consider applications proposing the use of daytime power in excess of 250 watts by a Class IV station providing such station is located more than 100 kilometers (62 miles) from the U. S. Mexican border, or if located in the State of Florida, providing that such station is not located south of 28 degrees north latitude and between 80 and 82 degrees west longitude. (See Note under Section 3.28(b).)

§3.22 Classes and power of standard broadcast stations.—(a) Class I station: A "class I station" is a dominant station operating on a clear channel and designed to render primary and secondary service over an extended area and at relatively long distances. Its primary service area is free from objectionable interference from other stations on the same and adjacent channels and its secondary service area free from interference except from stations on the adjacent channel, and from stations on the same channel in accordance with the channel designation in section 3.25 or in accordance with the Engineering Standards of Allocation. The operating power shall be not less than 10 kilowatts nor more than 50 kilowatts. (Also see section 3.25 (a) for further power limitation.)

(b) Class II station: A "class II station" is a secondary station which operates on a clear channel (see section 3.25) and is designed to render service over a primary service area which is limited by and subject to such interference as may be received from class I stations. A station of this class shall operate with power not less than 0.25 kilowatt nor more than 50 kilowatts. Whenever necessary, a class II station shall use a directional antenna or other means to avoid interferences with class I stations and with other class II stations, in accordance with §3.182.

[EDITOR'S NOTE: Since 1945 the FCC has been considering various changes in the Clear Channel assignments, including the question of a daytime skywave. On April 15, 1958, FCC issued a Notice of Further Rule-Making in which it proposed to breakdown various clear channels. This is still pending FCC action.]

(c) Class III station: A "class III station" is a station which operates on a regional channel and is designed to render service primarily to a metropolitan district and the rural area contiguous thereto. Class III stations are subdivided into two classes:

(1) Class III-A station: A "class III-A station" is a class III station which operates with power not less than 1 kilowatt nor more than 5 kilowatts, and the service area of which is subject to interference in accordance with §3.182.

(2) Class III-B station: A "class III-B station" is a class III station which operates with a power not less than 0.5 kilowatt and not more than 1 kilowatt night and 5 kilowatts daytime, and the service area of which is subject to interference in accordance with the Engineering Standards of Allocation.

NOTE: The term "metropolitan district" as used in this paragraph is not limited in accordance with the definition given by the Bureau of the Census but includes any principal center of population in any area.

(d) Class IV station. A "class IV station" is a station operating on a local channel and designed to render service primarily to a city or town and the suburban and rural areas contiguous thereto. The power of a station of this class shall not be less than 0.1 kilowatt and not more than 0.25 kilowatt nighttime, and 1 kilowatt daytime, and its service area is subject to interference in accordance with Section 3.182.

§3.23 Time of operation of the several classes of stations.—The several classes of standard broadcast stations may be licensed to operate in accordance with the following:

(a) "Unlimited time" permits operation without a maximum limit as to time.

(b) "Limited time" is applicable to class II (secondary stations) operating on a clear channel with facilities authorized before Nov. 30, 1959. It permits operation of the secondary station during daytime, and until local sunset if located west of the dominant station on the channel, or if located east thereof, until sunset at the dominant station; and in addition during night hours, if any, not used by the dominant station or stations on the channel.

(c) Daytime permits operation during the hours between average monthly local sunrise and average monthly local sunset. Daytime stations operating on local channels with a power of 0.1 kw or 0.25 kw may, upon notification to the Commission and to the Engineer in Charge of the radio district in which they are located, operate at hours beyond those specified in their license.

(d) "Sharing time" permits operation during hours which are so restricted by the station license as to require a division of time with one or more other stations using the same channel.

(e) Specified hours means that the exact operating hours are specified in the license. (The minimum hours that any station shall operate are specified in Section 3.71.) Specified hours stations operating on local channels with a power of 0.1 kw or 0.25 kw, except those sharing time with other stations may, upon notification to the Commission and the Engineer in Charge of the radio district in which they are located, operate at hours beyond those specified in their license.

§3.24 Broadcast facilities; showing required.—(a) Applications for new stations or for modifications of existing authorizations shall be filed on FCC Form 301; for licenses, on FCC Form 302; for renewal of licenses, on FCC Form 303.

(b) An authorization for a new standard broadcast station or increase in facilities of an existing station will be issued only after a satisfactory showing has been made in regard to the following, among others:

(1) That the proposed assignment will tend to effect a fair, efficient, and equitable distribution of radio service among the several states and communities.

(2) That objectionable interference will not be caused to existing stations or that if interference will be caused the need for the proposed service outweighs the need for the service which will be lost by reason of such interference. That the proposed station will not suffer interference to such an extent that its service would be reduced to an unsatisfactory degree (For determining objectionable interference, see §§3.182 and 3.186).

(3) That the applicant is financially qualified to construct and operate the proposed station.

(4) That the applicant is legally qualified. That the applicant (or the person or persons in control of an applicant corporation or other organization) is of good character and pos-

c) The advertising of fortune-telling, occultism, spiritualism, astrology, phrenology, palm-reading, numerology, mind-reading, or character-reading is not acceptable.

d) All advertising of products of a personal nature, when accepted, should be treated with special concern for the sensitivities of the listeners.

e) The advertising of tip sheets, publications, or organizations seeking to advertise for the purpose of giving odds or promoting betting or lotteries is unacceptable.

2. An advertiser who markets more than one product should not be permitted to use advertising copy devoted to an acceptable product for purposes of publicizing the brand name or other identification of a product which is not acceptable.

3. Care should be taken to avoid presentation of "bait-switch" advertising whereby goods or services which the advertiser has no intention of selling are offered merely to lure the customer into purchasing higher-priced substitutes.

D. Contests

Contests should offer the opportunity to all contestants to win on the basis of ability and skill, rather than chance.

All contest details, including rules, eligibility requirements, opening and termination dates, should be clearly and completely announced or easily accessible to the listening public; and the winners' names should be released as soon as possible after the close of the contest.

When contestants are required to submit items of product identification or other evidence of purchase of product, reasonable facsimiles thereof should be made acceptable.

All copy pertaining to any contest (except that which is required by law) associated with the exploitation or sale of the sponsor's product or service, and all references to prizes or gifts offered in such connection should be considered a part of and included in the total time limitations heretofore provided.

All such broadcasts should comply with pertinent federal, state, and local laws and regulations.

E. Premiums and Offers

The broadcaster should require that full details of proposed offers be submitted for investigation and approval before the first announcement of the offer is made to the public.

A final date for the termination of an offer should be announced as far in advance as possible.

If a consideration is required, the advertiser should agree to honor complaints indicating dissatisfaction with the premium by returning the consideration.

There should be no misleading descriptions or comparisons of any premiums or gifts which will distort or enlarge their value in the minds of the listeners.

"Design Pre-Tested" STAINLESS TOWERS

Resist Nature's Mighty Forces!

The top of that TV tower you see is only temporarily deflected—by the weight of 40 tons of ice.

Later—as the ice fell—the tower straightened completely!

Tremendous stresses like these spell destruction to ordinary towers. But Stainless designs are pre-tested between huge hydraulic presses at the Stainless plant to determine their behavior under just such load conditions.

That is one reason for Stainless' enviable record of dependability. Stainless towers are economical, too; they cost less to install and maintain. Specify Stainless towers, and get extra years of service for your investment.

(5) That the technical equipment proposed, the location of the transmitter, and other technical phases of operation comply with the regulations governing the same, and the requirements of good engineering practice. (See technical regulations of this subpart and §3.188.)

(6) That the facilities sought are subject to assignment as requested under existing international agreements and the rules and regulations of the Commission.

(7) That the population within the 1 v/m contour does not exceed 1.0 percent of the population within the 25 mv/m contour; Provided, however, that where the number of persons within 1 v/m contour is 300 or less the provisions of this subparagraph are not applicable.

(8) That, in the case of an application for a Class II station, the proposed station would radiate, during two hours following local sunrise and two hours preceding local sunset, in any direction toward the 0.1 mv/m groundwave contour of a co-channel United States Class I station, no more than the maximum radiation values permitted under the provisions of §3.187.

(9) That the public interest, convenience, and necessity will be served through the operation under the proposed assignment.

§3.25 Clear channels: Class I and II stations.—The frequencies in the following tabulations are designated as clear channels and assigned for use by the classes of stations given:

(a) To each of the channels below, except as provided in the note to this paragraph (below). there will be assigned one class I station and there may be assigned one or more class II stations operating limited time or daytime only: 640, 650, 660, 670, 700, 720, 750, 760, 770, 780, 820, 830, 840, 870, 880, 890, 1020, 1040, 1100, 1120, 1160, 1180, 1200 and 1210 kilocycles. There also may be assigned to these frequencies class I stations operating unlimited time in Alaska, Hawaii, Virgin Islands and Puerto Rico which will not deliver over 5 microvolts per meter groundwave day or night or 25 microvolts per meter 10 percent time skywave at night at any point within the continental limits of the United States. The power of the class I stations on these channels shall not be less than 50 kilowatts.

NOTE: On the frequency 770 kc, two class I stations may be assigned.

(b) To each of the channels below there may be assigned class I and class II stations: 680, 710, 810, 850, 940, 1000, 1030, 1060, 1070, 1080, 1090, 1110, 1130, 1140, 1170, 1190, 1500, 1510, 1520, 1530, 1540, 1550, and 1560 kilocycles.

NOTE: Class I and II stations on 1540 kilocycles shall deliver not over 5 microvolts per meter groundwave or 25 microvolts per meter 10 percent time skywave at any point of land in the Bahama Islands, and such stations operating nighttime (i.e., sunset to sunrise at the location of the class II station) shall be located not less than 650 miles from the nearest point of land in the Bahama Islands.

(c) For class II stations which will not deliver over 5 microvolts per meter groundwave or 25 microvolts per meter 10 per cent time skywave at any point on Canadian border and provided that such stations operating nighttime (i.e. sunset to sunrise at the location of the class II station) are located not less than 650 miles from the nearest Canadian border: 540, 690, 740, 860, 990, 1010, and 1580 kilocycles.

NOTE: A station on 1010 kilocycles shall also protect a class I-B station at Havana, Cuba.

(d) In continental United States, for class II stations which operate daytime only with power not in excess of 1 kilowatt and which will not deliver over 5 microvolts per meter groundwave at any point on the Mexican border, and in Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands, for class II stations which will not deliver over 5 microvolts per meter groundwave or 25 microvolts per meter 10 per cent time skywave at any point on the said border: 730, 800, 900, 1050, 1220 and 1570 kilocycles.

NOTE: See North American Regional Broadcasting Agreement for use of 1050 kc by a station in New York (Appendix I, Table IV).

NOTE: See agreement with Mexico for further use of 1220 kc.

(e) On the frequency 770 kilocycles, two Class I stations may be assigned.

§3.26 Regional channels: Classes III-A and III-B stations.—The following frequencies are designated as regional channels and are assigned for use by class III-A and III-B stations: 550, 560, 570, 580, 590, 600, 610, 620, 630, 790, 910, 920, 930, 950, 960, 970, 980, 1150, 1250, 1260, 1270, 1280, 1290, 1300, 1310, 1320, 1330, 1350, 1360, 1370, 1380, 1390, 1410, 1420, 1430, 1440, 1460, 1470, 1480, 1590, and 1600 kilocycles.

NOTE: See North American Regional Broadcasting Agreement for special provisions concerning the assigning of class II stations in other countries of North America to 560, 570, 590, 630 and 1270 kcs. Such stations shall be protected from interference in accordance with Appendix II, Table I, of said agreement.

§3.27 Local channels: Class IV stations.—The following frequencies are designated as local channels and are assigned for use by class IV stations: 1230, 1240, 1400, 1450, and 1490 kilocycles.

§3.28 Assignment of stations to channels.—(a) The individual assignments of stations to channels which may cause interference to other United States stations only shall be made in accordance with the provisions of this Part for the respective classes of stations involved. (For determining objectionable interference see §§3.182 and 3.186.)

(b) In all cases where an individual station assignment may cause interference with or may involve a channel assigned for priority of use by a station in another North American country, the classifications, allocation requirements and engineering standards set forth in the North American Regional Broadcasting Agreement shall be observed.

NOTE: Pending action with respect to ratification and entry into force of the North American Regional Broadcasting Agreement, Washington, 1950 (referred to herein as NARBA) and the agreement between the U.S.A. and the United Mexican States Concerning Radio Broadcasting in Standard Broadcast Band (referred herein to as the U.S./Mexican Agreement), no assignment for a standard broadcast station will be made which would be inconsistent with the terms of those agreements, except for the power ceiling permitted for Class IV stations on local channels, pursuant to Section 3.21 (c). [EDITOR'S NOTE: This paragraph still is in the FCC rules although both NARBA and the Mexican agreement were ratified in the spring of 1960 by the Senate.]

(c) Upon showing that a need exists, a class II, III or IV station may be assigned to a channel available for such class, even though interference will be received within its normally protected contour; provided: (1) no objectionable interference will be caused by the proposed station to existing stations or that if interference will be caused, the need for the proposed service outweighs the need for the service which will be lost by reason of such interference; and (2) primary service will be provided to the community in which the proposed station is to be located; and (3) the interference received does not affect more than 10% of the population in the proposed station's normally protected primary service area. However, in the event that the nighttime interference received by the proposed station would exceed this amount, then an assignment may be made if the proposed station would provide either a standard broadcast nighttime facility to a community not having such a facility or if 25% or more of the nighttime primary service area of the proposed station is without primary nighttime service.

§3.29 Class IV stations on regional channels.—No license will be granted for the operation of a class IV station on a regional channel, provided, however, that class IV stations presently authorized to operate on regional channels will not be required to change frequency or power but will not be protected against interference from class III stations.

In fm rules . . .

§3.201. Numerical designation of fm broadcast channels.—For convenience, the frequencies available for fm broadcasting (including those assigned to non-commercial educational broadcasting) are given numerical designations which are shown in the table below:

§3.202 Areas of the United States.—For the purpose of allocation the United States is divided into two areas. The first area—Area I—includes southern New Hampshire; all of Massachusetts, Rhode Island, and Connecticut; southeastern New York as far north as Albany-Troy-Schenectady; all of New Jersey, Delaware, and the District of Columbia; Maryland as far west as Hagerstown; and eastern Pennsylvania as far west as Harrisburg. The second area—Area II—comprehends the remainder of the United States not included in Area I.

NOTE: In some of the territory contiguous to Area I, the demand for frequencies requires that applications be given careful study and consideration to insure an equitable distribution of facilities throughout the region. This region includes the remainder of Maryland, Pennsylvania, and New York (except the northeastern corner) not included in area I; Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Ohio and Indiana; southern Michigan as far north as Saginaw; eastern Illinois as far west as Rockford-Decatur; and southeastern Wisconsin as far north as Sheboygan. Other regions may be added as required.

§3.203 Class A Stations.—(a) A class A station is a station which operates on a class A channel and is designed to render service primarily to a community or to a city or town other than the principal city of an area, and the surrounding rural area. The coverage of a class A station shall be not more than the equivalent of 1 kilowatt effective radiated power and antenna height of 250 feet above average terrain, as determined by the methods prescribed in the technical standards of this subpart.

(For the purpose of determining equivalent coverage, the 1 mv/m contour should be used. A class A station will not be licensed with more than 1 kilowatt effective radiated power. The power rating of the transmitter used for a class A station shall be not less than 250 watts nor more than 1 kilowatt. The signal intensity requirements of §3.311 shall determine the minimum coverage of a class A station. Class A station will normally be protected to the 1 mv/m contour; however, assignments will be made in a manner to insure, insofar as possible, a maximum of service to all listeners, whether urban or rural, giving consideration to the minimum signal capable of providing service.)

(b) The following frequencies, except as provided in paragraphs (c) and (d) of this section, are designated as class A channels and are assigned for use by class A stations:

| Frequency | Channel | Frequency | Channel | Frequency | Channel |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 92.1 | 221 | 96.7 | 244 | 102.3 | 272 |
| 92.7 | 224 | 97.7 | 249 | 103.1 | 276 |
| 93.5 | 228 | 98.3 | 252 | 103.9 | 280 |
| 94.3 | 232 | 99.3 | 257 | 104.9 | 285 |
| 95.3 | 237 | 100.1 | 261 | 105.5 | 288 |
| 95.9 | 240 | 100.9 | 265 | 106.3 | 292 |
| | | 101.7 | 269 | 107.1 | 296 |

These channels are available for assignment (1) in cities which are not the central city or cities of a metropolitan district, and (2) in central cities of metropolitan districts which have fewer than six class B stations.

(c) In Hawaii, the frequency band 98-108 mc is allocated for non-broadcast use. The frequencies 98.1 through 107 mc, inclusive, (channels 251 through 300 inclusive) will not be assigned in Hawaii for use by fm brodacast stations.

(d) In Alaska the frequency band 88-108 mc is allocated to Government radio services and the non-Government fixed service only. The frequencies 88-1 mc through 99.9 mc (channels 201 through 260 inclusive) will not be assigned in Alaska for use by fm broadcast stations.

§3.204 Class B Stations.—

(a) A class B station is a station which operates on a class B channel and is designed to render service primarily to a metropolitan district or principal city and the surrounding rural area, or to rural areas removed from large centers of population. The service area of a class B station will not be protected beyond the 1 mv/m contour; however, class B assignments will be made in a manner to insure, insofar as possible, a maximum of service to all listeners, whether urban or rural, giving consideration to the minimum signal capable of providing service. Standard power ratings of transmitters used for class B stations shall be 1 kw or greater. The signal intensity requirements of §3.311 shall determine the minimum coverage of a class B station. In the following sub-sections, antenna height above average terrain and effective radiated power are to be determined by the methods prescribed in the technical standards of this subpart.

(1) The coverage of a class B station in Area I shall be not more than the equivalent of 20 kilowatts effective radiated power and antenna height of 500 feet above average terrain. A class B station in Area I will not be licensed with an effective radiated power greater than 20 kilowatts. [NOTE: for the purpose of determining equivalent coverage, the 1 mv/m contour should be used.]

(2) The coverage of a class B station in Area II shall normally be not more than the equivalent of 20 kilowatts effective radiated power and antenna height of 500 feet above average terrain. The use of greater power and antenna height will be encouraged in those portions of Area II where such use would not result in undue interference to stations already authorized or to probable assignments insofar as can be determined at the time of the grant. In such case, the power, antenna height, and area will be determined on the merits of each application with particular attention being given to rural areas which would not otherwise receive service. [NOTE: For the purpose of determining equivalent coverage, the 1 mv/m contour should be used.]

(b) The following frequencies, except as provided in paragraphs (c) and (d) of this section, are designated as class B channels and are assigned for use by class B stations.

[EDITOR'S NOTE: Class B channels are those channels between 92 mc and 108 mc which are not designated as class A channels in §3.203(b).]

(c) In Hawaii the frequency band 98-108 mc is allocated for nonbroadcast use. The frequencies 98-1 through 107.9 mc inclusive (channels 251 through 300 inclusive) will not be assigned in Hawaii for use by fm broadcast stations.

(d) In Alaska the frequency band 88-100 mc is allocated exclusively to Government radio services and the non-Government fixed service. The frequencies 88.1 mc through 99.9 mc (channels 201 through 260 inclusive) will not be assigned in Alaska for use by fm broadcast stations.

§3.606. Table of Assignments. (a) The following Table of Assignments contains the channels assigned to the listed communities in the United States, its Territories, and Possessions. Channels designated with an asterisk are assigned for use by non-commercial educational broadcast stations only. A station on a channel identified by a plus or minus mark is required to operate with its carrier frequencies offset 10 kc above or below, respectively, the normal carrier frequencies.

[EDITOR'S NOTE: Channel assignments by cities are reprinted in the tv station directory and are not repeated here.]

§3.607. Availability of channels.—(a) Subject to the provisions of paragraph (b) of this section, applications may be filed to construct television broadcast stations only on the channels assigned in the Table of Assignments and only in the communities listed therein. Applications which fail to comply with this requirement, whether or not accompanied by a petition to amend the Table, will not be accepted for filing provided, however, that applications specifying channels which accord with publicly announced Commission orders changing the Table of Assignments will be accepted for filing even though such applications are tendered before the effective dates of such channel changes.

(b) A channel assigned to a community listed in the Table of Assignments is available upon application in any unlisted community which is located within 15 miles of the listed community. In addition, a channel assigned to a community listed in the Table of Assignments and not designated for use by noncommercial educational stations only, is available upon application in any other community within 15 miles thereof which, although listed in the Table, is assigned only a channel designed for use only by noncommercial educational stations. Where channels are assigned to two or more communities listed in combination in the Table of Assignments the provisions of this paragraph shall apply separately to each community so listed. The distance between communities shall be determined by the distance between the respective coordinates thereof as set forth in the publication of the United States Department of Commerce entitled "Air Line Distances Between Cities in the United States." (This publication may be purchased from the Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C.) If said publication does not contain the coordinates of either or both communities, the coordinates of the main post office in either or both of such communities shall be used. The method to be followed in making the measurements is set forth in Section 3.611 (d).

§3.609. Zones. (a) For the purpose of allocation and assignment, the United States is divided into three zones as follows:

(1) Zone I consists of that portion of the United States located within the confines of the following lines drawn on the United States Albers Equal Area Projection Map (based on standard parallels 29½° and 45½°; North American datum): Beginning at the most easterly point on the State boundary line between North Carolina and Virginia; thence in a straight line to a point on the Virginia. West Virginia boundary line located at North Latitude 37° 49' and West Longitude 80° 12' 30"; thence westerly along the southern boundary lines of the States of West Virginia, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois to a point at the junction of the Illinois, Kentucky, and Missouri State boundary lines; thence northerly along the western boundary line of the State of Illinois to a point at the junction of the Illinois, Iowa, and Wisconsin State boundary lines; thence easterly along the northern State boundary line of Illinois to the 90th meridian; thence north along this meridian to the 43.5° parallel; thence east along this parallel to the 71st meridian; thence in a straight line to the intersection of the 69th meridian and the 45th parallel; thence east along the 45th parallel to the Atlantic Ocean. When any of the above lines pass through a city, the city shall be considered to be located in Zone I. (See Figure 1 of §3.699.)

(2) Zone II consists of that portion of the United States which is not located in either Zone I or Zone III, and Puerto Rico, Alaska, Hawaiian Islands and the Virgin Islands.

(3) Zone III consists of that portion of the United States located south of a line, drawn on the United States Albers Equal Area Projection Map (based on standard parallels 29½° and 45½°; North American datum), beginning at a point on the east coast of Georgia and the 31st parallel and ending at the United States-Mexican border, consisting of arcs drawn with a 150 mile radius to the north from the following specified points:

| | North Latitude | West Longitude |
|---|---|---|
| a) | 29°40'00" | 83°24'00" |
| b) | 30°07'00" | 84°12'00" |
| c) | 30°31'00" | 86°30'00" |
| d) | 30°48'00" | 87°58'30" |
| e) | 30°00'00" | 90°38'30" |
| f) | 30°04'30" | 93°19'00" |
| g) | 29°46'00" | 95°05'00" |
| h) | 28°43'00" | 96°30'30" |
| i) | 27°52'30" | 97°32'00" |

When any of the above arcs pass through a city, the city shall be considered to be located in Zone II. (See Figure 2 of §3.699.)

§3.610. Separations. (a) The provisions of this section relate to assignment separations and station separations. Petitions to amend the Table of Assignments (§3.606(b)) (other than those also expressly requesting amendment of this section or §3.609) will be dismissed and all applications for new television broadcast stations or for changes in the transmitter sites of existing stations will not be accepted for filing if they fail to comply with the requirements specified in paragraphs (b), (c) and (d) of this section.

NOTE: Licensees and permittees of television broadcast stations which were operating on April 14, 1952 pursuant to one or more separations below those set forth in §3.610 may continue to so operate, but in no event may they further reduce the separations below the minimum. As the existing separations of such stations are increased, the new separations will become the required minimum separations until separations are reached which comply with the requirements of §3.610. Thereafter, the provisions of said section shall be applicable.

(b) Minimum co-channel assignment and station separations:

| (1) | Channels | Channels |
|---|---|---|
| Zone | 2-13 | 14-83 |
| I | 170 miles | 155 miles |
| II | 190 miles | 175 miles |
| III | 220 miles | 205 miles |

(2) The minimum co-channel mileage separation between a station in one zone and a station in another zone shall be that of the zone requiring the lower separation.

(c) Minimum assignment and station adjacent channel separations applicable to all zones:

| (1) Channels 2-13 | Channels 14-83 |
| 60 miles | 55 miles |

[EDITOR'S NOTE: On Jan. 7, 1960, the FCC proposed to amend this section and §3.683, 3.684, 3.685 and 3.686 to permit additional vhf channels to be added to selected markets at reduced adjacent channel mileage separations. Current 60 mile separation requirement would be reduced to 40 miles for adjacent vhf channels.]

(2) Due to the frequency spacing which exists between Channels 4 and 5, between Channels 6 and 7, and between Channels 13 and 14, the minimum adjacent channel separations specified above shall not be applicable to these pairs of channels (see §3.603).

(d) In addition to the requirements of paragraphs (a), (b) and (c) of this section, the minimum assignment and station separations between stations on Channels 14-83, inclusive, as set forth in Table IV of §3.698 must be met in either rule making proceedings looking towards the amendment of the Table of Assignments (§3.606(b)) or in licensing proceedings. No channel listed in column (1) of Table IV of §3.698 will be assigned to any city, and no application for an authorization to operate on such a channel will be granted unless the mileage separations indicated at the top of columns (2)-(7), inclusive, are met with respect to each of the channels listed in those columns and parallel with the channel in column (1).

(e) The zone in which the transmitter of a television station is located or proposed to be located determines the applicable rules with respect to co-channel mileage separations where the transmitter is located in a different zone from that in which the channel to be employed is located.

§3.614. Power and antenna height requirements.—(a) Minimum requirements. Applications will not be accepted for filing if they specify less than—10 dbk (100 watts) visual effective radiated power in any horizontal direction. No minimum antenna height above average terrain is specified.

(b) Maximum power. Applications will not be accepted for filing if they specify a power in excess of that provided for in this paragraph. Except as provided in subparagraph (1) below, the maximum effective radiated powers of television broadcast stations operating on the channels set forth below with antenna heights not in excess of 2000 feet above average terrain shall be as follows:

| Channel Nos. | Maximum visual effective radiated power in db above one kilowatt (dbk) |
|---|---|
| 2-6 | 20 dbk ( 100 kw) |
| 7-13 | 25 dbk ( 316 kw) |
| 14-83 | 37 dbk (5000 kw) |

(1) In Zone I, on Channels 2-13, inclusive, the maximum powers specified above for these channels may be used only with antenna heights not in excess of 1000 feet above average terrain. Where antenna heights exceeding 1000 feet above average terrain are used on Channels 2-13, or antenna heights exceeding 2000 feet above average terrain are used on Channels 14-83, the maximum power shall be based on the chart designated as Figure 3 of §3.699.

NOTE: This limitation shall not apply to any licensee or permittee in Zone I who received an authorization after March 22, 1951, to relocate its transmitter site and construct a new tower and antenna to a height in excess of 1000 feet above average terrain and who constructed or who had substantially completed construction of said tower and antenna prior to April 14, 1952. In such case, maximum power may be utilized at the height above average terrain specified in the authorization. The limitation shall apply, however, where the tower or other principal supporting structure had been constructed prior to the date of such authorization.

(2) In Zones II and III, the maximum powers which may be used by television broadcast stations operating on the respective channels set forth in the above table with antenna heights exceeding 2000 feet above average terrain shall be based on the chart designated as Appendix III, Figure 2b.

(3) The effective radiated power in any horizontal or vertical direction may not exceed the maximum values permitted by this section and Appendix III, Figures 2(a) and 2(b).

(4) The maximum effective radiated power in any direction above the horizontal plane shall be as low as the state of the art permits and may not exceed the effective radiated power in the horizontal direction in the same vertical plane.

(c) The zone in which the transmitter of a television station is located or proposed to be located determines the applicable rules with respect to maximum antenna heights and powers for vhf stations when the transmitter is located in Zone I and the channel to be employed is located in Zone II, or the transmitter is located in Zone II and the channel to be employed is located in Zone I.

[Note: The maximum visual effective radiated power of television broadcast stations operating on channels 14-83 within 250 miles of the Canadian-U. S. border may not be in excess of 30 dbk (1,000 kw).]

MULTIPLE OWNERSHIP

In am rules . . .

§3.35 Multiple ownership—No license for a standard broadcast station shall be granted to any party (including all parties under common control) if:

(1) such party directly or indirectly owns, operates or controls another standard broadcast station, a substantial portion of whose primary service area would receive primary service from the station in question, except upon a showing that public interest, convenience and necessity will be served through such multiple ownership situation; or

The Only Complete Line of VIDEO TRANSMISSION TEST EQUIPMENT

1003-D1 VIDEO TRANSMISSION TEST SIGNAL GENERATOR

Produces multi-frequency burst, stairstep, modulated stairstep, white window, composite sync. Variable duty cycle. Regulated power supply. Operates from internal or studio sync. Checks video tape recorders.

1004-B VIDEO TRANSMISSION TEST SIGNAL RECEIVER

Very rapid and accurate measurement of differential phase and differential gain characteristics of video facilities. Responds to standard stairstep test signal modulated with 3.58 mc, or any differential phase or gain test signal.

1005-A VIDEO TRANSMISSION TEST SET

1005-A1 — Produces composite television waveforms suitable for measuring amplitude vs. frequency; differential gain vs. amplitude; dynamic linearity; differential phase vs. amplitude; high frequency transient response; low frequency transient response; low frequency phase of streaking, smears, mismatches; and other video characteristics.

1005-SA1– Supplies composite EIA Sync, blanking, horizontal and vertical drive signals and regulated B + power for itself and 1005-A1. Features magnetic core binary counters.

1008-A VERTICAL INTERVAL KEYER

Permits test and control signals to be transmitted simultaneously with program material, between frames of TV picture. Any test signal (multiburst, stairstep, color bar, etc.) may be added to the composite program signal. Test signals are always present for checking transmission conditions without impairing picture quality. The home viewer is not aware of their presence.

1073-D1 SINE SQUARED (SIN²) —SQUARE WAVE GENERATOR

Produces new waveform for testing TV or other pulse unit or system for amplitude and phase characteristics. Sin² — Square Wave pulse is equivalent to TV camera signal and is more sensitive than a Square Wave in indicating ringing. Operates with internal or external drive. Now in use by major TV networks and telephone companies.

NEW TELECHROME EMI STUDIO CAMERAS

MODEL 203—4½" IMAGE ORTHICON CAMERA

For studio and field. 5 position turret accepts 2" to 40" focal length lenses plus non-standard lens or diascope and 2" sq. slide holder. Variable aperture remotely controlled. Either 4½" or 3" image orthicon. Quick change through turret. Very compact. All operating controls remote. Over 600 line resolution. Halation eliminated. Extended gray scale. Freedom from sticking. Printed modular construction.

MODEL 204—3 V COLOR CAMERA

Highest quality reproduction due to excellent signal/noise ratio, stability of color registration and stabilized amplifier gain. Outstanding light sensitivity below 40' lamberts. Size only 30" x 15" x 16". Unique 4 lens system.

(2) such party, or any stockholder, officer or director of such party, directly or indirectly owns, operates, controls, or has any interest in, or is an officer or director of any other standard broadcast station if the grant of such license would result in a concentration of control of standard broadcasting in a manner inconsistent with public interest convenience, or necessity. In determining whether there is such a concentration of control, consideration will be given to the facts of each case with particular reference to such factors as the size, extent and location of area served, the number of people served, classes of stations involved and the extent of other competitive service to the areas in question. The Commission, however, will in any event consider that there would be such a concentration of control contrary to the public interest, convenience or necessity for any party or any of its stockholders, officers or directors to have a direct or indirect interest in, or be stockholders, officers, or directors of, more than seven standard broadcast stations.

NOTE: The word "control" as used herein, is not limited to marjority stock ownership but includes actual working control in whatever manner exercised.

NOTE: In applying the foregoing provisions to the stockholders of a corporation which has more than 50 voting stockholders, only those stockholders need be considered who are officers or directors or who directly or indirectly own 1% or more of the outstanding voting stock.

In fm rules . . .

§3.240 Multiple ownership—No license for an fm broadcast station shall be granted to any party (including all parties under common control) if:

(1) such party directly or indirectly owns, operates, or controls another fm broadcast station which serves substantially the same service area; or

(2) such party, or any stockholder, officer or director of such party, directly or indirectly owns, operates, controls, or has any interest in, or is an officer or director of any other fm broadcast station if the grant of such license would result in a concentration of control of fm broadcasting in a manner inconsistent with public interest, convenience or necessity. In determining whether there is such a concentration of control, consideration will be given to the facts of each case with particular reference to such factors as the size, extent and location of areas served, the number of people served, classes of stations involved, and the extent of other competitive service to the areas in question. The Commission, however, will in any event consider that there would be such a concentration of control contrary to the public interest, convenience or necessity for any party or any of its stockholders, officers or directors to have a direct or indirect interest in, or be stockholders, officers, or directors of, more than seven fm broadcast stations.

NOTE: The word "control" as used herein, is not limited to majority stock ownership but includes actual working control in whatever manner exercised.

NOTE: In applying the foregoing provisions to the stockholders of a corporation which has more than 50 voting stockholders, only those stockholders need be considered who are officers or directors or who directly or indirectly own 1% or more of the outstanding voting stock.

In tv rules . . .

§3.636. Multiple ownership.—(a) No license for a television broadcast station shall be granted to any party (including all parties under common control) if:

(1) such party directly or indirectly owns, operates, or controls another television broadcast station which serves substantially the same area; or

(2) such party, or any stockholder, officer or director of such party, directly or indirectly owns, operates, controls, or has any interest in, or is an officer or director of any other television broadcast station if the grant of such license would result in a concentration of control of television broadcasting in a manner inconsistent with public interest, convenience, or necessity. In determining whether there is such a concentration of control, consideration will be given to the facts of each case with particular reference to such factors as the size, extent and location of areas served, the number of people served, and the extent of other competitive service to the areas in question. The Commission, however, will in any event consider that there would be such a concentration of control contrary to the public interest, convenience or necessity for any party or any of its stockholders, officers or directors to have a direct or indirect interest in, or be stockholders, officers, or directors of, more than seven television broadcast stations, no more than five of which may be in the vhf band.

(b) Paragraph (a) of this section is not applicable to non-commercial educational stations.

NOTE 1: The word "control" as used herein is not limited to majority stock ownership, but includes actual working control in whatever manner exercised.

NOTE 2: In applying the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section to the stockholders of a corporation which has more than 50 voting stockholders, only those stockholders need be considered who are officers or directors or who directly or indirectly own 1% or more of the outstanding voting stock.

STUDIO LOCATION ORIGINATIONS

In am rules . . .

§3.30 Station location and program origination.—(a) Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, each standard broadcast station will be licensed to serve primarily a particular city, town, or other political subdivision, which will be specified in the station license and the station will be considered to be located in such place. Unless licensed as a synchronous amplifier transmitter, each station shall maintain a studio, which will be known as the main studio, in the place where the station is located, provided that the main studio may be located at the transmitter site whether or not the transmitter site is in the place where the station is located. A majority (computed on the basis of duration and no; number) of a station's programs or in the case of a station affiliated with a network two-thirds of such station's non-network programs, whichever is smaller, shall originate from the main studio or from other studios or remote points situated in the place where the station is located.

(b) Stations will be licensed to serve more than one city, town, or other political subdivision only where a satisfactory showing is made that such place meets all the requirements of the Rules and Standards of Good Engineering Practice with respect to the location of main studios; that the station can and will originate a substantial number of local live programs from each such place: and that the requirements as to origination of programs contained in paragraph (a) of this section would place an unreasonable burden on the station if it were licensed to serve only one city, town, or other political subdivision. A station licensed to serve more than one place shall be considered to be located in and shall maintain main studios in each such place. With respect to such station the requirements as to origination of programs contained in paragraph (a) of this section shall be satisfied by the origination of programs from any or all of the main studios or from other studios and remote points situated in any or all of the places in which the main studios are located.

(c) The transmitter of each standard broadcast station shall be so located that primary service is delivered to the borough or city in which the main studio is located in accordance with the Standards of Good Engineering Practice, prescribed by the Commission.

§3.31 Authority to move main studio.—The licensee of a station shall not move its main studio outside the borders of the borough or city, state, district, territory, or possession in which it is located, unless such move is to the location of the station's transmitter, without first securing a modification of construction permit or license. The licensee shall promptly notify the Commission of any other change in location of the main studio.

In fm rules . . .

§3.205—[EDITOR'S NOTE: In substance the same as §3.30, above, except that subsection (c) reads as follows:

"The transmitter of each fm broadcast station shall be so located that satisfactory service is delivered to the city where the main studio is located in accordance with the technical standards of this subpart; provided, however, upon special showing of need, authoriza-

Attention: Mr. John Wyman

Gentlemen:

As you know we recently purchased one of your six-bay Multi-V FM broadcast antennas, and over 1000 feet of your H-1 Heliax for use on our new FM installation on the WBZ-TV tower.

Our choice of the antenna was based on our previous experience with antennas of this type, which have always performed very well. We are happy to say that our new antenna and co-ax are exceeding our best expectations, and giving excellent coverage for both our main channel and our multiplex transmissions.

We do not hesitate to recommend highly this Multi-V Antenna to any broadcaster proposing new or improved FM facilities.

Yours truly,
Richard L. Kaye

"exceeding our best expectations"

The ANDREW Multi-V is the standard of the industry. Over 353 Multi-V units have been installed to date, accounting for more than 50% of the stations presently licensed. Installations have been made in all climates and service is uniformly acclaimed both for standard and multiplex operation. De-icers are available for use when icing conditions occur and can be added to units already in service. Similarly, the VSWR tuner can be added to existing installations without modifying the antenna.

A new warehousing program assures quick deliveries of all standard units. Consult our Field Service group for installation quotations.

*U.S. PATENT 2,637,533—Exclusive ANDREW design

Measured VSWR on a 16-bay production unit. Note bandwidth. VSWR tuner, Type 19893, is available for tuning out tower effect, thus, assuring optimum performance and eliminating need for field tuning individual bays.

HELIAX

the flexible air dielectric cable

HELIAX is the preferred cable for FM. Low VSWR, greater mechanical strength and flexibility have made it the favorite of broadcasters. Available in continuous lengths in diameters up to 3⅛ inches.

In tv rules . . .

§3.613 Main studio location.—(a) The main studio of a television broadcast station shall be located in the principal community to be served. Where the principal community to be served is a city, town, village or other political subdivision, the main studio shall be located within the corporate boundaries of such city town, village or other political subdivision. Where the principal community to be served does not have specifically defined political boundaries, applications will be considered on a case-to-case basis in the light of the particular facts involved to determine whether the main studio is located within the principal community to be served.

(b) In cases where an adequate showing is made that there is good cause for locating a main studio outside the principal community to be served and that to do so would not be inconsistent with the operation of the station in the public interest, the Commission will permit the use of a main studio location other than that specified in paragraph (a) of this section. The licensee or permittee of a television broadcast station shall not move his main studio outside the principal community in which it is located without first securing a modification of construction permit or license. Such a licensee or permittee shall notify the Commission promptly of any change of the location of the main studio within the community. In any case where the main studio is located outside the principal community to be served, the licensee or permittee of a television broadcast station shall not move his main studio without first securing a modification of construction permit or license.

OPERATING SCHEDULES

For am stations . . .

§3.71 Minimum operating schedule.—Except Sundays, the licensee of each standard broadcast station shall maintain a minimum operating schedule of two-thirds of the total hours that it is authorized to operate between 6 a.m. and 6 p.m., local standard time, and two-thirds of the total hours it is authorized to operate between 6 p.m. and midnight, local standard time, except that in an emergency when, due to causes beyond the control of the licensee, it becomes impossible to continue operating, the station may cease operation for a period of not to exceed 10 days, provided that the Commission and the engineer in charge of the radio district in which the station is located shall be notified in writing immediately after the emergency develops.

[EDITOR'S NOTE: On April 22, 1960 the FCC proposed to change this section to permit daytime-only stations to sign-off at 6 p.m. local time during the summer months when it would not be economically feasible for stations to remain on air til normal sign-off time. This section, plus §3.261 (fm) and §3.651 (tv), also would be amended to allow stations to go off air for short periods in emergencies without notifying FCC. Stations still would have to operate required minimum daily hours in such cases if commission is not notified.]

§3.72 Operation during experimental period.—The licensee of each standard broadcast station shall operate or refrain from operating its station during the experimental period as directed by the Commission in order to facilitate frequency measurement or for the determination of interference.

§3.73 Specified hours.—If the license of a station specifies the hours of operation, the schedule so specified shall be adhered to except as provided in sections 3.71 and 3.72.

§3.79 License to specify sunrise and sunset hours.—If the licensee of a broadcast station is required to commence or cease operation, or to change the mode of operation of the station at the times of sunrise and sunset at any particular location, the controlling times of each month of the year are set forth in the station's instrument of authorization. Uniform sunrise and sunset times are specified for all of the days of each month, based upon the actual times of sunrise and sunset for the fifteenth day of that month adjusted to the nearest quarter hour. In accordance with a standardized procedure described therein, actual sunrise and sunset time are derived by interpolation in the tables of the 1946 American Nautical Almanac, issued by the Nautical Almanac Office of the United States Naval Observatory.

§3.80 Secondary station; filing of operating schedule.—The licensee of a secondary station authorized to operate limited time and which may resume operation at the time the dominant station (or stations) on the same channel ceases operation shall, with each application for renewal of license, file in triplicate a copy of its regular operating schedule, bearing a signed notation by the licensee of the dominant station of its objection or lack of objection thereto. Upon approval of such operating schedule, the Commission will affix its file mark and return one copy to the licensee authorized to operate limited time, which shall be posted with the station license and considered as a part thereof. Departure from said operating schedule will be permitted only in accordance with the procedure set forth in section 3.77.

§3.81 Secondary station; failure to reach agreement.—If the licensee of a secondary station authorized to operate limited time and a dominant station on a channel are unable to agree upon a definite time for resumption of operation by the station authorized limited time, the Commission shall be so notified by the licensee of the station authorized limited time. After receipt of such statement the Commission will designate for hearing the applications of both stations for renewal of license, and pending the hearing the schedule previously adhered to shall remain in full force and effect.

§3.82 Departure from schedule; material violation.—In all cases where a station licensee is required to prepare and file an operating schedule, any deviation or departure from such schedule, except as herein authorized, shall be considered as a violation of a material term of the license.

§3.83 Local standard time.—All references herein to standard time or local standard time refer to local standard time as determined and fixed by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

§3.84 Daylight saving time.—If local time is changed from standard time to daylight saving time at the location of all stations sharing time on the same channel, the hours of operation of all such stations on that channel shall be understood to refer to daylight saving time, and not standard time, as long as daylight saving time is observed at such location. This provision shall govern when the time is changed by provision of law or general observance of daylight saving time by the various communities, and when the time of operation of such stations is specified in the license or is mutually agreed upon by the licensees; provided, however, that when the license specifies average time of sunrise and sunset, local standard time shall be observed. In no event shall a station licensed for daytime only operate on regular schedule prior to local sunrise, or shall a station licensed for greater daytime power than nighttime power or for a different radiation pattern for daytime operation than for nighttime operation operate with the daytime power or radiation pattern prior to local sunrise.

§3.85 Changes in time; agreement between licensees.—Where the local time is not changed from standard time to daylight saving time at the location of all stations sharing time on the same channel, the hours of operation of such stations shall be understood to have reference to standard time, and not daylight saving time, unless said licensees mutually agree upon a new schedule which shall be effective only while daylight saving time is observed at the location of some of these stations.

§3.86 Local standard time; license provisions.—The time of operation of any broadcast station which does not share time with other stations on the same channel shall be understood to have reference to local standard time unless modification of such license with respect to hours of operation is authorized by the Commission.

§3.87 Program transmission prior to local sunrise.—(a) The provisions of sections 3.6, 3.8, 3.9, 3.10, 3.23, 3.79 and 3.84 shall not prevent the transmission of programs between four o'clock a.m., local standard time, and local sunrise of standard broadcast stations with their authorized daytime facilities, provided, that the provisions of this rule shall not extend to:

(1) Stations regularly sharing time during daytime hours either under licenses pursuant to which time-sharing agreements have been entered into or licenses specifying hours of operation, unless time-sharing agreements have been reached covering such operation prior to local sunrise. Sections 3.74, 3.77, and 3.78 of these rules shall be applicable to such agreements.

(2) Any class II station causing interference as determined by the standard broadcast technical standards of this subpart by use of its daytime facilities within the 0.5 mv/m 50% skywave contour of any class I station either of the United States or of any country party to the North American Regional Broadcasting Agreement, except (a) where the class I station is located East of the class II station, in which case operation may begin at local sunrise at the class I station; (b) where an agreement has been reached with the class I station to begin operation prior to local sunrise.

(3) Operation by use of its daytime facilities of any class II station on any class I-A channel not assigned to the United States under the North American Regional Broadcasting Agreement.

(b) Any station operating during such hours receiving notice from the Commission that undue interference is caused shall refrain from such operation during such hours pending further notice from the Commission.

(c) Nothing contained in outstanding instruments of authorization for such stations shall prohibit such operation except as herein provided.

(d) The period 4 a.m. to 6 a.m., local standard time, shall not be included in determining compliance with section 3.71.

(e) Restrictions imposed by section 3.187 on daytime operations shall apply to pre-sunrise operation under this section.

§3.88 Blanketing interference.—The licensee of each broadcast station is required to satisfy all reasonable complaints of blanketing interference with the 1 v/m contour.

For fm stations . . .

§3.261 Time of operation.—All fm broadcast stations will be licensed for unlimited time operation. A minimum of 36 hours per week during the hours of 6 a.m. to midnight consisting of not less than 5 hours in any one day, except Sunday, must be devoted to the fm broadcast operation; time devoted to operations conducted pursuant to a Subsidiary Communications Authorization (see § 3.293-3.295) shall not be included in meeting this 36-hour broadcast requirement. In an emergency, however, when due to causes beyond the control of the licensee, it becomes impossible to continue operation, the station may cease operation for a period not to exceed 10 days, provided that the Commission and the engineer in charge of the radio district in which the station is located shall be notified in writing immediately after the emergency develops.

§3.262 Experimental operation.—The period between 1:00 a.m. and 6:00 a.m., local standard time, may be used for experimental purposes in testing and maintaining apparatus by the licensee of any fm broadcast station on its assigned frequency and not in excess of its authorized power, without specific authorization by the Commission.

For tv stations . . .

§3.651 Time of operation.—(a) All television broadcast stations will be licensed for unlimited time operation. Each such station shall maintain a regular program operating schedule as follows: not less than two hours daily in any five broadcast days per week and not less than a total of twelve hours per week during the first eighteen months of the station's operation; not less than two hours daily in any five broadcast days per week and not less than a total of sixteen hours, twenty hours and twenty-four hours per week for each successive six month period of operation, respectively; and not less than two hours in each of the seven days of the week and not less than a total of twenty-eight hours per week thereafter. "Operation" includes the period during which a station is operated pursuant to special temporary authority or during program tests, as well as during the license period. Time devoted to test patterns, or to aural presentations accompanied by the incidental use of fixed visual images which have no substantial relationship to the subject matter of such aural presentation, shall not be considered in computing periods of program service. If, in the event of an emergency due to causes beyond the control of a licensee, it becomes impossible to continue operation, the Commission and the Engineer in Charge of the radio district in which the station is located shall be notified in writing immediately after the emergency develops and immediately after the emergency ceases and operation is resumed.

(b) Noncommercial educational television broadcast stations are not required to operate on a regular schedule and no minimum number of hours of operation is specified; but the hours of actual operation during a license period shall be taken into account when considering the renewal of noncommercial educational television broadcast licenses.

(c) (1) The aural transmitter of a television station shall not be operated separately from the visual transmitter except for the following purposes:

(i) For actual tests of station equipment or actual experimentation in accordance with Section 3.666; and

(ii) For emergency "fills" in case of visual equipment failure or unscheduled and unavoidable delays in presenting visual programs. In such situations the aural transmitter may be used to advise the audience of difficulties and to transmit for a short period program material of such nature that the audience will be enabled to remain tuned to the station: for example, music or news accompanying a test pattern or other visual presentation.

(2) During periods of transmission of a test pattern on the visual transmitter of a television station, aural transmission shall consist only of a single tone or series of variable tones. During periods when still pictures or slides are employed to produce visual transmissions which are accompanied by aural transmissions, the aural and visual transmission shall be integral parts of a program or announcement and shall have a substantial relationship to each other: Provided, That nothing herein shall preclude the transmission of a test pattern, still picture or slides for the following purposes and periods:

(i) To accompany aural announcements of the station's program schedule and aural news broadcasts or news commentaries, for a total period not to exceed one hour in any broadcast day.

(ii) To accompany aural transmissions for a period of time not to exceed fifteen minutes immediately prior to the commencement of a programming schedule.

Examples: (1) Duplication of am or fm programs on the aural transmitter of a television station while the same program is broadcast

CONRAC VIDEO MONITORS
A complete line of professional and utility models for the broadcast industry

CFB Series

The CFB series video monitor is a general purpose unit. Available with either 17" or 21" kinescope, it has a video response flat to 10 megacycles, assuring resolution of 800 lines. Differential gain is below 5% at 50 volts kinescope drive for excellent gray scale characteristics. The deflection circuits produce horizontal and vertical linearity within 2% of picture height. Equipped with a new electrostatic focus kinescope, the monitor features improved spot size and shape for markedly improved resolution over the entire screen. The CFB series monitor employs a 70° deflection system and is designed for "full" or "reduced scan" operation. A switch to select either composite video or separate video and composite sync is provided. Both video and sync inputs are equipped with parallel receptacles for loop through operation. DC restoration may be switched "in" or "out."

CLB 14

The CLB 14 is a general purpose video monitor designed for rack mounting. Electrically identical to the CFB series, the CLB monitor requires only 10½" of rack space for installation.

CKB 14

The CKB 14, a general purpose monitor, is electrically identical to the CFB series monitors but differs in its housing. Its cabinet measures 13¹¹⁄₁₆" wide x 12¼" high x 18⅝" deep. It is complete with metal back and carrying handle.

CNA8

The Conrac CNA8 monitor is a full scale broadcast quality video presentation device. Video response is flat to 10 megacycles. Differential gain is below 5% at 50 volts kinescope drive. The kinescope employed is of the electrostatic focus type. In a portable case, the CNA8C measures only 9¼" wide x 11⅛" high x 18" deep. Can mount two monitors side by side in a standard 19" relay rack. (Model CNA8/2R)

CGB Series

The CGB series monitor is a general purpose unit intended for application wherever a large, bright display is required. It is available with 24" or 27" kinescope, cabineted (as shown) or in chassis-only for installation in existing housing. Video response is flat to 10 megacycles, differential gain is below 5% at 50 volts kinescope drive, and the deflection circuits produce horizontal and vertical linearity within 2% of picture height. The chassis incorporates a 90° deflection system for both 24" and 27" kinescopes. A switch is provided for either 100% or zero DC restoration; a switch is also provided for selection of either composite video or separate video and composite sync.

CMB Series

The CMB series is a professional video monitor incorporating many features normally found only in master monitors. It is available with 14", 17" or 21" kinescopes. Its video response is flat to 10 megacycles, assuring resolution in excess of 800 lines. The final stage of the video amplifier employs two power tubes in parallel, providing high output with extremely low distortion. Differential gain is below 5% at 75 volts kinescope drive for excellent gray scale characteristics. The deflection circuits are capable of producing horizontal and vertical linearity within 1% of picture height. The CMB features all controls on the front panel, including a picture size control which changes the display from "full" scan to "reduced" scan, showing all four sides and corners. The CMB series monitors have fully regulated ultor and B+ voltages and will operate in areas having very poor powerline regulation.

AV12C

The AV12C is a television audio-video receiver particularly designed for monitoring, video recording or re-broadcasting applications. It supplies composite video and separate audio from "off-the-air" signals. A high gain keyed AGC system holds the video output constant within ± 1db over a 60db change in input signal. It is especially suited for reception of NTSC COLOR signals. The video bandwidth is flat within ± 1db to 4.1 megacycles. Bifilar-T traps are employed to reduce phase distortion. A combination of "split-off" sound and "intercarrier" sound is employed. The 12 position Neutrode type tuner is supplied with coils for the VHF channels only. Individual pilot lights indicate the number of the selected channel. The video output stage can deliver as much as 3.5 volts of video into a 75 ohm load with extremely low distortion. Crystal control of local oscillator is an optional accessory.

Clear, sharp, low distortion signals . . . proof of quality in Collins AM transmitters

21E/M

This 5/10 kw transmitter is the most economical and dependable available. Features: extremely stable vacuum type crystals which eliminate the need for crystal ovens; easily accessible, conservatively rated components; forced air cooling to assure long tube life; compact size; attractive styling and finish.

The 21E/M is easily serviced and maintained, thus keeping lost air time to a minimum. Transmitter adjustments may be made while on the air by the easy removal of access covers on the front. Circuitry is simplified, with only ten tube types used. In keeping with this modern concept, a thermal time-delay circuit is employed. After a momentary power interruption the carrier can be returned to the air immediately.

The control circuits feature flexibility, operating convenience and optimum equipment protection. Automatic sequencing is also a feature of the 21E/M operating controls.

Meter panels are tilted at an angle for ease of operation and observation of transmitter performance. The driver unit on the 21E/M has separate power supplies for high voltage, low voltage and bias.

20V-2, 550A-1, 300J-2

These transmitters are each housed in a single identical cabinet and are basically alike except for power output. They have many of the features found on the 21E/M, including: stable crystals which eliminate crystal ovens; easily accessible, conservatively rated components; cooling systems; simplified circuitry; thermal time-delay relay; and flexible, convenient controls. There are only seven different, high efficiency tube types used in these transmitters.

One heavy duty high voltage power supply is used for the modulator and final amplifier. A separate low voltage supply feeds the modulator screen grids in addition to the plates and screen grids of the other RF and audio tubes. The bias supply provides approximately 100 volts for the modulator and power amplifier bias, and lesser voltages are provided for other biasing throughout the transmitters.

300J-2—250/100 watt

A Collins Power Increase Package makes possible overnight conversion of any Collins transmittter to higher or lower power.

other dependable Collins Broadcast Equipment

M-20 Lavalier Microphone — Dynamic and omnidirectional with smooth response from 60-18,000 cps. Output level: −57 db. One inch in diameter and four inches long; weighs only 3½ oz. This economical microphone is ideal for use by announcers at remote broadcasts and sports events, and by engineers in the control room or wherever freedom and mobility are required.

Collins Announcer — Complete three-channel studio console facilities in this 68 lb. remote unit. Has two Collins TT-200 turntables. Easily carried in trunk or rear seat of car. May serve as the nucleus of a recording studio or remote broadcast studio.

M-60 Remote Microphone-Amplifier — One hand-size unit combining a one channel remote amplifier and dynamic omnidirectional microphone. This unit is entirely self-contained. Has a transistorized amplifier, mercury battery, lavalier clip and earplug headphone. Features a 600-ohm balanced output, and microphone response of 60-20,000 cps. Amplifier has a frequency response from 60-15,000 cps with less than 2% distortion at 12 dbm output.

212G-1 Speech Input Console — Controls simultaneous broadcasting and auditioning any combination of 9 of 13 inputs. Also, monitors program auditions or remote lines, and controls speakers and warning lights.

Automatic Tape Control — Completely automatic broadcasting of announcements and programs. Segments up to 31 minutes in length may be played without threading, cueing or rewinding tapes. Remote control circuitry is provided and tone bursts from one tape may be used to trigger tapes in companion units. Collins Automatic Tape Control is the most copied unit on the market today.

The equipments shown are only a few in the complete Collins line. Whatever your broadcast needs — from microphone to antenna — specify Collins, your one complete source for high fidelity, high quality broadcast equipment.

New FM Transmitters

Collins now offers four new, custom-tested FM transmitters with power outputs of 250, 1,000, 5,000 and 10,000 watts. Power increase packages are available to increase the 5 kw and 10 kw transmitters to 7.5 kw and 15 kw, respectively.

These compact, FCC type-approved transmitters are tested on the customer's channel so that operation may begin immediately after installation. Distortion on all four transmitters is very low: .5% at 100-7500 cycles; 1% maximum at 50-15,000 cycles.

FM Transmitters also feature: self neutralization; push buttons for easier operation; and attractive, easy to read front panel meters. These transmitters are designed for remote control and FM multiplex operation.

This 5/10 kw transmitter is the most economical and dependable available. Features: extremely stable vacuum type crystals which eliminate the need for crystal ovens; easily accessible, conservatively rated components; forced air cooling to assure long tube life; compact size; attractive styling and finish.

The 21E/M is easily serviced and maintained, thus keeping lost air time to a minimum. Transmitter adjustments may be made while on the air by the easy removal of access covers on the front. Circuitry is simplified, with only ten tube types used. In keeping with this modern concept, a thermal time-delay circuit is employed. After a momentary power interruption the carrier can be returned to the air immediately.

The control circuits feature flexibility, operating convenience and optimum equipment protection. Automatic sequencing is also a feature of the 21E/M operating controls.

Meter panels are tilted at an angle for ease of operation and observation of transmitter performance. The driver unit on the 21E/M has separate power supplies for high voltage, low voltage and bias.

20V-2, 550A-1, 300J-2

These transmitters are each housed in a single identical cabinet and are basically alike except for power output. They have many of the features found on the 21E/M, including: stable crystals which eliminate crystal ovens; easily accessible, conservatively rated components; cooling systems; simplified circuitry; thermal time-delay relay; and flexible, convenient controls. There are only seven different, high efficiency tube types used in these transmitters.

One heavy duty high voltage power supply is used for the modulator and final amplifier. A separate low voltage supply feeds the modulator screen grids in addition to the plates and screen grids of the other RF and audio tubes. The bias supply provides approximately 100 volts for the modulator and power amplifier bias, and lesser voltages are provided for other biasing throughout the transmitters.

300J-2—250/100 watt

A Collins Power Increase Package makes possible overnight conversion of any Collins transmittter to higher or lower power.

M-20 LAVALIER MICROPHONE — Dynamic and omnidirectional with smooth response from 60-18,000 cps. Output level: −57 db. One inch in diameter and four inches long; weighs only 3½ oz. This economical microphone is ideal for use by announcers at remote broadcasts and sports events, and by engineers in the control room or wherever freedom and mobility are required.

COLLINS ANNOUNCER — Complete three-channel studio console facilities in this 68 lb. remote unit. Has two Collins TT-200 turntables. Easily carried in trunk or rear seat of car. May serve as the nucleus of a recording studio or remote broadcast studio.

M-60 REMOTE MICROPHONE-AMPLIFIER — One hand-size unit combining a one channel remote amplifier and dynamic omnidirectional microphone. This unit is entirely self-contained. Has a transistorized amplifier, mercury battery, lavalier clip and earplug headphone. Features a 600-ohm balanced output, and microphone response of 60-20,000 cps. Amplifier has a frequency response from 60-15,000 cps with less than 2% distortion at 12 dbm output.

212G-1 SPEECH INPUT CONSOLE — Controls simultaneous broadcasting and auditioning any combination of 9 of 13 inputs. Also, monitors program auditions or remote lines, and controls speakers and warning lights.

AUTOMATIC TAPE CONTROL — Completely automatic broadcasting of announcements and programs. Segments up to 31 minutes in length may be played without threading, cueing or rewinding tapes. Remote control circuitry is provided and tone bursts from one tape may be used to trigger tapes in companion units. Collins Automatic Tape Control is the most copied unit on the market today.

The equipments shown are only a few in the complete Collins line. Whatever your broadcast needs — from microphone to antenna — specify Collins, your one complete source for high fidelity, high quality broadcast equipment.

New FM Transmitters

Collins now offers four new, custom-tested FM transmitters with power outputs of 250, 1,000, 5,000 and 10,000 watts. Power increase packages are available to increase the 5 kw and 10 kw transmitters to 7.5 kw and 15 kw, respectively.

These compact, FCC type-approved transmitters are tested on the customer's channel so that operation may begin immediately after installation. Distortion on all four transmitters is very low: .5% at 100-7500 cycles; 1% maximum at 50-15,000 cycles.

FM Transmitters also feature: self neutralization; push buttons for easier operation; and attractive, easy to read front panel meters. These transmitters are designed for remote control and FM multiplex operation.

on the visual transmitter (i.e., a "simulcast") is consistent with this paragraph.

(2) Duplication of am or fm programs on the aural transmitter of a television station while a test pattern is broadcast on the visual transmitter is not consistent with this paragraph, except for the specific purposes and periods specified in paragraph (c) (2).

(3) A travel lecture in which the words of the lecturer are broadcast simultaneously with still pictures or slides of scenes illustrating the lecture, and a newscast in which the words of the newscaster are broadcast simultaneously with still pictures or slides of the news events, are examples of programs in which the aural and visual transmission are integral parts of the same program having a substantial relationship to each other, within the meaning of paragraph (c) (2). Mood music unrelated to the visual transmission is not consistent with this paragraph.

(4) The broadcast of a test pattern accompanied by a musical composition for the purpose of demonstration, sale, installation or orientation of television receivers, or receiving antennas is not consistent with this paragraph.

(5) Music accompanying the transmission of a test pattern upon which is visually imposed a moving text consisting of continuous program material, such as a running newscast or news commentary, is consistent with this paragraph.

(6) Music accompanying the transmission of a test pattern upon which is visually imposed a clock indicating the time of day, or a text that is changed at spaced intervals, is not consistent with this paragraph.

OPERATOR REQUIREMENTS

In am rules . . .

§3.93 Operator requirements.—(a) One or more radio operators holding a valid radiotelephone first-class operator license, except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, shall be in actual charge of the transmitting apparatus and shall be on duty either at the transmitter location or remote control point.

(b) A station which is authorized for non-directional operation with power of 10 kilowatts or less may be operated by persons holding commercial radio operator license of any class, except an aircraft radiotelephone operator authorization or a temporary limited radiotelegraph second-class operator license, when the equipment is so designed that the stability of the frequency is maintained by the transmitter itself within the limits of tolerance specified, and none of the operations, except those specified in subparagraphs (1) through (4) of this paragraph, necessary to be performed during the course of normal operation may cause off-frequency operation or result in any unauthorized radiation. (A person holding any class of radio operator license or permit who is authorized thereunder to perform limited operation of a standard broadcast station may, when a CONELRAD Radio Alert is called, make adjustments necessary to effect operation on a CONELRAD authorization: Provided, that the station's full-time radiotelephone first-class operator shall have previously instructed such person in the adjustments to the transmitter which are necessary to accomplish CONELRAD operation.) Adjustments of transmitting equipment by such operators, except when under the immediate supervision of a radiotelephone first-class operator, shall be limited to the following:

(1) Those necessary to commence or terminate transmitter emissions as a routine matter.

(2) Those external adjustments that may be required as a result of variations of primary power supply.

(3) Those external adjustments which may be necessary to insure modulation within the limits required.

(4) Those adjustments necessary to effect any change in operating power which may be required by the station's instrument of authorization.

Should the transmitting apparatus be observed to be operating in a manner inconsistent with the station's instrument of authorization and none of the above adjustments are effective in bringing it into proper operation, a person holding other than a radiotelephone first-class operator license and not acting under the immediate supervision of a radiotelephone first-class operator shall be required to terminate the station's emissions.

(c) The licensee of a station which is operated by one or more operators holding other than a radiotelephone first-class operator license shall have one or more operators holding a radiotelephone first-class operator license in regular full-time employment at the station whose primary duties shall be to effect and insure the proper functioning of the transmitting equipment. In the event that the licensee also operates an fm broadcast station in the same community, a regular fulltime radiotelephone first-class operator or operators employed in connection with the standard broadcast station may concurrently be employed to satisfy the requirements of § § 3.265 (c) or 3.565 (c): Provided, that the duties of such operator or operators concerning the fm broadcast transmitting equipment shall in nowise interfere with the proper performance of his duties with respect to the standard broadcast transmitter.

(d) The licensed operator on duty and in charge of a standard broadcast transmitter may, at the discretion of the licensee, be employed for other duties or for the operation of another radio station or stations in accordance with the class of operator's license which he holds and the rules and regulations governing such other stations: Provided, however, that such duties shall in nowise interfere with the proper operation of the standard broadcast transmitter.

In fm rules . . .

§3.265 Operator requirements.

[EDITOR'S NOTE: Substantially the same as §3.93.]

In tv rules . . .

FACSIMILE

§3.266 Facsimile broadcasting and multiplex transmission.—(a) Fm broadcast stations may transmit simplex facsimile in accordance with transmission standards set forth in §3.318 during periods not devoted to fm aural broadcasting. Such transmissions may not exceed one hour during the period between 7 a.m. and midnight (no limit for the hours between midnight and 7 a.m.) and may not be counted toward the minimum operation required by section 3.261. The Commission shall be notified by the licensee of the fm broadcast station of its intent to transmit such facsimile.

(b) Fm broadcast stations may, upon securing authorization from the Commission, transmit multiplex facsimile in accordance with transmission standards set forth in §3.318; provided that the transmission of such facsimile does not reduce the quality of aural programs simultaneously transmitted by the licensee below that required by the technical standards of this subpart and that no degradation of such aural programs will result from such facsimile transmissions when received on fm receivers not equipped with filter or other additional equipment.

NETWORK AFFILIATION

In am rules . . .

§3.131 Exclusive affiliation of station.—No license shall be granted to a standard broadcast station having any contract, arrangement, or understanding, express or implied, with a network organization under which the station is prevented or hindered from, or penalized for, broadcasting the programs of any other network organization. (The term "network organization" as used herein includes national and regional network organizations. See Chapter VII, J of Report on Chain Broadcasting.)

§3.132 Territorial exclusivity.—No license shall be granted to a standard broadcast station having any contract, arrangement, or understanding, express or implied, with a network organization which prevents or hinders another station serving substantially the same area from broadcasting the network's programs not taken by the former station, or which prevents or hinders another station serving a substantially different area from broadcasting any program of the network organization. This section shall not be construed to prohibit any contract, arrangement, or understanding between a station and a network organization pursuant to which the station is granted the first call in its primary service area upon the programs of the network organization.

§3.133 Term of affiliation.—No license shall be granted to a standard broadcast station having any contract, arrangement, or understanding, express or implied, with a network organization which provides, by original term, provisions for renewal, or otherwise for the affiliation of the station with the network organization for a period longer than two years; provided, that a contract, arrangement, or understanding for a period up to two years, may be entered into within six months prior to the commencement of such period.

§3.134 Option time.—No license shall be granted to a standard broadcast station which options for network programs any time subject to call on less than 56 days' notice, or more time than a total of three hours within each of four segments of the broadcast day, as herein described. The broadcast day is divided into four segments, as follows: 8:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m.; 1:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m.; 6:00 p.m. to 11:00 p.m.; 11:00 p.m. to 8:00 a.m. (These segments are to be determined for each station in terms of local time at the location of the station but may remain constant throughout the year regardless of shifts from standard to daylight saving time or vice versa.) Such option may not be exclusive as against other network organizations and may not prevent or hinder the station from optioning or selling any or all of the time covered by the option, or other time, to other network organizations.

NOTE: As used in this section, an option is any contract, arrangement, or understanding, express or implied, between a station and a network organization which prevents or hinders the station from scheduling programs before the network agrees to utilize the time during which such programs are scheduled, or which requires the station to clear time already scheduled when the network organization seeks to utilize the time.

NOTE: All time options permitted under this section must be for specified clock hours, expressed in terms of any time system set forth in the contract agreed upon by the station and network organization. Shifts from daylight saving to standard time or vice versa may or may not shift the specified hours correspondingly as agreed by the station and network organization.

§3.135 Right to reject programs.—No license shall be granted to a standard broadcast station having any contract, arrangement, or understanding, express or implied, with a network organization which (a) with respect to programs offered pursuant to an affiliation contract, prevents or hinders the station from rejecting or refusing network programs which the station reasonably believes to be unsatisfactory or unsuitable; or which (b) with respect to network programs so offered or already contracted for, prevents the station from rejecting or refusing any program which, in its opinion, is contrary to the public interest, or from substituting a program of outstanding local or national importance.

§3.136 Network ownership of stations.—No license shall be granted to a network organization, or to any person directly or indirectly controlled by or under common control with a network organization, for more than one standard broadcast station where one of the stations covers substantially the service area of the other station, or for any standard broadcast station in any locality where the existing standard broadcast stations are so few or of such unequal desirability (in terms of coverage, power, frequency, or other related matters) that competition would be substantially restrained by such licensing. (The word "control" as used herein, is not limited to full control but includes such a measure of control as would substantially affect the availability of the station to other networks.)

NOTE: Effective date of this section with respect to any station may be extended from time to time in order to permit the orderly disposition of properties; and it shall be suspended indefinitely with respect to regional network organizations.

§3.137 Dual network operation.—No license shall be issued to a standard broadcast station affiliated with a network organization which maintains more than one network; provided, that this section shall not be applicable if such networks are not operated simultaneously, or if there is no substantial overlap in the territory served by the group of stations comprising each such network.

§3.138 Control by networks of station rates.—No license shall be granted to a standard broadcast station having any contract, arrangement, or understanding, express or implied, with a network organization under which the station is prevented or hindered from, or penalized for, fixing or altering its rates for the sale of broadcast time for other than the network's programs.

In fm rules . . .

[EDITOR'S NOTE: Same as §3.131-3.138, above, with the following exceptions: (1) references are to fm rather than standard stations and networks; and (2) the section on "Network Ownership of Stations" is changed to read as follows:

§3.236 Network ownership of stations.—No license shall be granted to a network organization, or to any person directly or indirectly controlled by or under common controls of a network organization, for an fm broadcast station in any locality where the existing fm broadcast stations are so few or of such unequal desirability (in terms of coverage, power, frequency, or other related matters) that competition would be substantially restrained by such licensing. The word "control" as used herein, is not limited to full control but includes such a measure of control as would substantially affect the availability of the station to other networks.]

be granted to a television broadcast station having any contract, arrangement, or understanding, express or implied, with a network organization which prevents or hinders another broadcast station in the same community from broadcasting the network's programs not taken by the former station, or which prevents or hinders another broadcast station located in a different community from broadcasting any program of the network organization. This regulation shall not be construed to prohibit any contract, arrangement, or understanding between a station and a network organization pursuant to which the station is granted the first call in its community upon the program of the network organization. As employed in this paragraph the term "community" is defined as the community specified in the instrument of authorization as the location of the station.

(c) Term of Affiliation. No license shall be granted to a television broadcast station having any contract, arrangement, or understanding, express or implied, with a network organization which provides, by original terms, provisions for renewal, or otherwise for the affiliation of the station with the network organization for a period longer than 2 years: Provided, that a contract, arrangement, or understanding for a period up to 2 years may be entered into within 6 months prior to the commencement of such period.

(d) Option time. No license shall be granted to a television broadcast station which options for network programs any time subject to call on less than 56 days' notice, or more time than a total of 3 hours within each of four segments of the broadcast day, as herein described. The broadcast day is divided into four segments, as follows: 8 a.m. to 1 p.m.; 1 p.m. to 6 p.m.; 6 p.m. to 11 p.m.; 11 p.m. to 8 a.m. (These segments are to be determined for each station in terms of local time at the location of the station but may remain constant throughout the year regardless of shifts from standard to daylight saving time or vice versa.) Such options may not be exclusive as against other network organizations and may not prevent nor hinder the station from optioning or selling any or all of the time covered by the option, or other time, to other network organizations.

NOTE 1: As used in this section, an option is any contract, arrangement, or understanding, express or implied, between a station and a network organization which prevents or hinders the station from scheduling programs before the network agrees to utilize the time during which such programs are scheduled, or which requires the station to clear time already scheduled when the network organization seeks to utilize the time.

NOTE 2: All time options permitted under this section must be specified clock hours, expressed in terms of any time system set forth in the contract agreed upon by the station and network organization. Shifts from daylight saving to standard time or vice versa may or may not shift the specified hours correspondingly as agreed by the station and network organization.

(e) Right to reject programs. No license shall be granted to a television broadcast station having any contract, arrangement or understanding, express or implied, with a network organization which, (1) with respect to programs offered pursuant to an affiliation contract, prevents or hinders the station from rejecting or refusing network programs which the station reasonably believes to be unsatisfactory or unsuitable; or which (2) with respect to network programs so offered or already contracted for, prevents the station from rejecting or refusing any program which, in its opinion, is contrary to the public interest, or from substituting a program of outstanding local or national importance.

(f) Network ownership of stations. No license shall be granted to a network organization, or to any person directly or indirectly controlled by or under common control of a network organization, for a television broadcast station in any locality where the existing television broadcast stations are so few or of such unequal desirability (in terms of coverage, power, frequency, or other related matters) that competition would be substantially restrained by such licensing. (The word "control" as used in this section, is not limited to full control but includes such a measure of control as would substantially affect the availability of the station to other networks.)

(g) Dual network operation. No license shall be issued to a television broadcast station affiliated with a network organization which maintains more than one network of television broadcast stations: Provided, That this section shall not be applicable, if such networks are not operated simultaneously, or if there is no substantial overlap in the territory served by the group of stations comprising each such network.

(h) Control by networks of station rates. No license shall be granted to a television broadcast station having any contract, arrangement or understanding, express or implied, with a network organization under which the station is prevented or hindered from, or penalized for, fixing or altering its rates for the sale of broadcast time for other than the network's programs.

(i) No license shall be granted to a television broadcast station which is represented for the sale of non-network time by a network organization or by an organization directly or indirectly controlled by or under common control with a network organization, if the station has any contract, arrangement or understanding, express or implied, which provides for the affiliation of the station with such network organization: provided, however, that this rule shall not apply until December 31, 1961, to television broadcast stations so represented on October 30, 1959: and provided further, that this rule shall not be applicable to stations licensed to a network organization or to a subsidiary of a network organization.

COMMON ANTENNA SITE

§3.635. Use of common antenna site. No television license or renewal of a television license will be granted to any person who owns, leases, or controls a particular site which is perculiarly suitable for television broadcasting in a particular area and (a) which is not available for use by other television licensees; and (b) no other comparable site is available in the area; and (c) where the exclusive use of such site by the applicant or licensee would unduly limit the number of television stations that can be authorized in a particular area or would unduly restrict competition among television stations.

REPORTS TO BE FILED

All broadcast stations . . .

§1.341 Financial report.—Each licensee or permittee of a commercially operated standard, FM, television, or international broadcast station (as defined in Part 3 of this chapter) shall file with the Commission on or before April 1 of each year, on FCC Form 324, broadcast revenue and expense statements for the preceding calendar year together with a statement as to investment in tangible broadcast property as of Dec. 31 of such calendar year.

§1.342 Filing of contracts.—Each licensee or permittee of a standard, FM, television, or international broadcast station (as defined in Part 3 of this chapter), whether operating or intending to operate on a commercial or non-commercial basis, shall file with the Commission copies of the following contracts, instruments, and documents together with amendments, supplements, and cancellations, within 30 days of execution thereof. The substance of oral contracts shall be reported in writing.

(a) Contracts relating to network service. All network affiliation contracts, agreements, or understandings between a station and a national, regional, or other network shall be filed. Transcription agreements or contracts for the supplying of film for the television stations which specify option time must be filed. This section does not require the filing of transcription agreements or contracts for the supplying of film for television stations which do not specify option time, nor contracts granting the right to broadcast music such as ASCAP, BMI, or SESAC agreements.

(b) Contracts relating to ownership or control. Contracts, instruments, or documents relating to the present or future ownership or control of the licensee or permittee or of the licensee's or permittee's stock, rights, or interests therein, or relating to changes in such ownership or control. This paragraph shall include but is not limited to the following:

(1) Articles of partnership, association, and incorporation, and changes in such instruments;

(2) Bylaws, and any instruments effecting changes in such bylaws;

(3) Any agreement, document, or instrument (i) providing for the assignment of a license or permit or (ii) affecting, directly or indirectly, the ownership or voting rights of the licensee's or permittee's stock (common or preferred, voting or non-voting), such as: (a) Agreements for transfer of stock; (b) Instruments for the issuance of new stock; or (c) Agreements for the acquisition of licensee's or permittee's stock by the issuing licensee or permittee corporation. Pledges, trust agreements, options to purchase stock and other executory agreements are required to be filed.

(4) Proxies with respect to the licensee's or permittee's stock running for a period in excess of one year; and all proxies, whether or not running for a period of one year, given without full and detailed instructions binding the nominee to act in a specified manner. With respect to proxies given without full and detailed instructions, a statement showing the number of such proxies, by whom given and received, and the percentage of outstanding stock represented by each proxy shall be submitted by the licensee or permittee within 30 days after the stockholders' meeting in which the stock covered by such proxies has been voted: Provided, however, that when the licensee or permittee is a corporation having more than 50 stockholders, such complete information need be filed only with respect to proxies given by stockholders who are officers or directors, or who have 1% or more of the corporation's voting stock; in cases where the licensee or permittee is a corporation having more than 50 stockholders and the stockholders giving the proxies are neither officers or directors nor hold 1% or more of the corporation's stock, the only information required to be filed is the name of any person voting 1% or more of the stock by proxy, the number of shares voted by proxy by such person, and the total number of shares voted at the particular stockholders' meeting in which the shares were voted by proxy;

(5) Mortgage or loan agreements containing provisions restricting the licensee's or permittee's freedom of operation, such as those affecting voting rights, specifying or limiting the amount of dividends payable, the purchase of new equipment, the maintenance of current assets, etc.; or

(6) Any agreement reflecting a change in the officers, directors, or stockholders of a corporation, other than the licensee or permittee, having an interest, direct or indirect, in the licensee or permittee as specified by §1.343.

(c) Contracts relating to the sale of broadcast time to "time brokers" for resale.

(d) Contracts relating to Subsidiary Communications Authorization Operation, except contracts granting licensees or permittees engaged in SCA the right to broadcast copyright music.

(e) Time sales contracts. Time sales contracts with the same sponsor for 4 or more hours per day, except where the length of the events (such as athletic contests, musical programs, and special events) broadcast pursuant to the contract is not under control of the station.

(f) Contracts relating to personnel.

(1) The following contracts, agreements, or understandings shall be filed: management consultant agreements with independent contractors; contracts relating to the utilization in a management capacity of any person other than an officer, director, or regular employee of the licensee or permittee station; management contracts with any persons, whether or not officers, directors, or regular employees which provide for both a percentage of profits and a sharing in losses, or any similar agreements.

(2) The following contracts, agreements, or understandings need not be filed: agreements with persons regularly employed as general or station managers or salesmen; contracts with program managers or program personnel; contracts with chief engineers or other engineering personnel; contracts with attorneys, accountants, or consulting radio engineers; contracts with performers; contracts with station representatives; contracts with labor unions; or any similar agreements.

§1.343 Ownership reports.—(a) Each licensee of a standard, FM, or television station (as defined in Part 3 of this chapter), whether operating or intending to operate on a commercial or non-commercial basis, shall file an Ownership Report (FCC Form 323) at the time the application for renewal of station license is required to be filed: Provided, however, that licensees owning more than one standard, FM, or television broadcast station need file only one Ownership Report at three-year intervals. Ownership Reports shall give the following information as of a date not more than 30 days prior to the filing of the Ownership Report:

(1) In the case of an individual, the name of such individual;

(2) In the case of a partnership, the names of the partners and the interest of each partner;

NOTE: Any change in partners or in their rights will require prior consent of the Commission upon an application for consent to assignment of license or permit. If such change involves less than a controlling interest, the application for Commission consent to such change may be made upon FCC Form 316 (Short Form).

(3) In the case of a corporation, association, trust, estate, or receivership, the data applicable to each:

(i) The name, residence, citizenship, and stock-holdings of officers, directors, stockholders, trustees, executors, administrators, receivers, and members of any association;

(ii) Full information as to family relationship or business association between two or more officials, and/or stockholders, trustees, executors, administrators, receivers, and members of any association;

(iii) Capitalization with a description of the classes and voting power of stock authorized by the corporate charter or other appropriate legal instrument and the number of shares of each class issued and outstanding; and

(iv) Full information on FCC Form 323 with respect to the interest, and identity of any person having any direct, indirect, fiduciary, or beneficiary interest in the licensee or any of its stock;

For example:

(a) Where A is the beneficial owner or votes stock held by B, the same information should be furnished for A as is required for B.

(b) Where X corporation controls the licensee, or holds 25% or more of the number of issued and outstanding shares of either voting or non-voting stock of the licensee, the same information should be furnished with respect to X corporation (its capitalization, officers, directors, and stockholders and the amount of stock [by class] in X held by each) as is required in the case of the licensee, together with full information as to the identity and citizenship of the person authorized to vote licensee's stock, in case of voting stock.

(c) The same information should be furnished as to Y corporation if it controls X corporation or holds 25% or more of the number of issued and outstanding shares of either voting or non-voting stock of X, and as to Z corporation if it controls Y corporation or holds 25% or more of the number of issued and outstanding shares of either voting or non-voting stock of Y and so on back to natural persons.

(4) In the case of all licensees:

(i) A list of all contracts still in effect required to be filed with the Commission by §1.342 showing the date of execution and expiration of each contract; and

(ii) Any interest which the licensee may have in any other broadcast station.

(b) A permittee shall file an Ownership Report (FCC Form 323) within 30 days of the date of grant by the Commission of an application for original construction permit. The Ownership Report of the permittee shall give the information required by the applicable portions of paragraph (a) of this section.

(c) A supplemental Ownership Report (FCC Form 323) shall be filed by each licensee or permittee within 30 days after any change occurs in the information required by the Ownership Report from that previously reported. Such report shall include without limitation:

(1) Any change in capitalization or organization;

(2) Any change in officers and directors;

(3) Any transaction affecting the ownership, direct or indirect, or voting rights of licensee's or permittee's stock, such as:

(i) A transfer of stock;

(ii) Issuance of new stock or disposition of treasury stock; or

(iii) Acquisition of licensee's or permittee's stock by the issuing corporation; or

(4) Any change in the officers, directors, or stockholders of a corporation other than the licensee or permittee such as X, Y, or Z corporation described in the example in paragraph (a)(3) of this section.

NOTE: Before any change is made in the organization, capitalization, officers, directors, or stockholders of a corporation other than licensee or permittee, which results in a change in the control of the licensee or permittee, prior Commission consent must be received under Section 310(b) of the Communications Act and §1.329. A transfer of control takes place when an individual, or group in privity, gains or loses affirmative or negative (50%) control. See instructions on FCC Form 323 "Ownership Report."

(d) Exceptions: Where information is required under paragraphs (a), (b), or (c) of this section with respect to a corporation or association having more than 50 stockholders or members, such information need be filed only with respect to stockholders or members who are officers or directors of the corporation or association, or to other stockholders or members who have 1% or more of either the voting or non-voting stock of the corporation or voting rights in the association.

LICENSE RENEWALS

General . . .

§1.328 Application for renewal of license.—(a) Unless otherwise directed by the Commission, an application for renewal of license shall be filed at least 90 days prior to the expiration date of the license sought to be renewed except that applications for renewal of license of an experimental or developmental broadcast station or a television broadcast translator station shall be filed at least 60 days prior to the expiration date of the license sought to be renewed.

(b) No application for renewal of license of any broadcast station will be considered unless there is on file with the Commission the information, if any, currently required by §§1.341 to 1.343, inclusive, for the particular class of station. The renewal application shall include a reference by date and file number to such information on file.

(c) Whenever the Commission regards an application for a renewal of license as essential to the proper conduct of a hearing or investigation, and specifically directs that it be filed by a certain date, such application shall be filed within the time thus specified. If the licensee fails to file such application within the prescribed time, the hearing or investigation shall proceed as if such renewal application had been received.

(d) The following application forms shall be used:

[EDITOR'S NOTE: There follows a list of forms to be used in filing for license renewals.]

In am rules . . .

§3.34 Normal license period.—(a) All standard broadcast station licenses will be issued for a normal license period of three years. Licenses will be issued to expire at the hour of 3:00 a.m., Eastern Standard Time, in accordance with the following schedule, and three-year intervals thereafter:

[EDITOR'S NOTE: Expiration dates for licenses are grouped geographically.]

[EDITOR'S NOTE: On March 3, 1960, the FCC proposed to amend this section to permit it to issue am licenses for a period less than three years. Similar changes also were proposed for fm, §3.218, and tv, §3.630 (below), stations.]

AUTOMATIC SYSTEM OF DELAYED TAPE RECORDING

N.Y. 6 P.M

A new field of recorded programming has been created by Telectro's development of an automatic delayed tape recording/reproducing system for the National Broadcasting Co. The new system relays broadcast programs to time zones one hour or more behind the area in which the "live" program originated.

CHI. 6 P.M

System records the original program and "holds" or delays the signal for one or more hours before it is released over the network. Equipment is foolproof, reliable, and completely automatic. The Recorder's frequency response is 25-10,000 c/s ±2db at 7½ ips; or 25-15,000 c/s ±2db at 15 ips. Play-back pre-amplifier features signal-to-noise ratio of better than 60 db below one per-cent tape distortion. For full technical details write to Broadcast Products Division.

STATION IDENTIFICATION

In am rules . . .

§3.117 Station identification.—(a) A licensee of a standard broadcast station shall make station identification announcement (call letters and location) at the beginning and ending of each time of operation and during operation (1) on the hour and (2) either on the half hour or at the quarter hour following the hour and at the quarter hour preceding the next hour: Provided,

(b) Such identification announcement need not be made on the hour when to make such announcement would interrupt a single consecutive speech, play, religious service, symphony concert, operatic production or forum of longer duration than 30 minutes. In such cases the identification announcement shall be made at the beginning of the program, at the first interruption of the entertainment continuity, and at the conclusion of the program.

(c) Such identification announcement need not be made on the half hour or quarter hours when to make such an announcement would interrupt a single consecutive speech, play, religious service. symphony concert, or operatic production. In such cases an identification announcement shall be made at the first interruption of the entertainment continuity and at the conclusion of the program; provided, that an announcement within 5 minutes of the time specified in paragraph (a) (2) of this section will satisfy the requirements of identification announcements.

(d) In the case of variety show programs, baseball game broadcasts, or similar programs of longer duration than 30 minutes, the identification announcement shall be made within 5 minutes of the hour and of the times specified in paragraph (a)(2) of this section.

(e) In the case of all other programs the identification announcement shall be made within 2 minutes of the hour and of the times specified in paragraph (a) (2) of this section

(f) In making the identification announcement the call letters shall be given only on the channel of the station identified thereby, except as otherwise provided in §3.287 of the Commission's Rules Governing Fm Broadcast Stations.

In fm rules . . .

§3.287 Station Identification.—(a) A licensee of an fm broadcast station shall make separate station identification announcement (call letters and location) for such station; provided, however, that if the same licensee operates an fm radio broadcasting station and a standard broadcast station and simultaneously broadcasts the same programs over the facilities of both such stations, station identification announcements may be made jointly for both stations for periods of such simultaneous operation. If the call letters of the fm station do not clearly reveal that it is an fm station, the joint announcement shall state that one of the stations is an fm station. Station identification announcements shall be made at the beginning and ending of each time of operation and during operation (1) on the hour and (2) either on the half hour or at the quarter hour following the hour and at the quarter hour preceding the next hour; Provided:

[EDITOR'S NOTE; Remainder is identical with paragraphs (b), (c), (d), (e), and (f) of §3.117 above.]

In tv rules . . .

§3.652. Station identification.— (a) A licensee of a television broadcast station shall make station identification announcements (call letters and location) at the beginning and ending of each time of operation and during the operation on the hour. The announcement at the beginning and ending of each time of operation shall be by both aural and visual means. Other announcements may be by either aural or visual means.

(b) Identification announcements during operation need not be made when to make such announcement would interrupt a single consecutive speech, play, religious service, symphony concert, or any type of production. In such cases, the identification announcement shall be made at the first interruption of the entertainment continuity and at the conclusion thereof.

SPONSORED PROGRAMS

(Announcement of)

In am rules . . .

§3.119 Sponsored programs, announcement of.—(a) In the case of each program for the broadcasting of which money, services, or other valuable consideration is either directly or indirectly paid or promised to, or charged or received by, any radio broadcast station, the station broadcasting such program shall make, or cause to be made, an appropriate announcement that the program is sponsored, paid for, or furnished, either in whole or in part.

(b) In the case of any political program or any program involving the discussion of public controversial issues for which any records, transcriptions, talent, scripts, or other material or services of any kind are furnished, either directly or indirectly, to a station as an inducement to the broadcasting of such program. an announcement shall be made both at the beginning and conclusion of such program on which such material or services are used that such records, transcriptions, talent, scripts, or other material or services have been furnished to such station in connection with the broadcasting of such program, provided, however, that only one such announcement need be made in the case of any such program of five minutes' duration or less, which announcement may be made either at the beginning or the conclusion of the program.

(c) The announcement required by this section shall fully and fairly disclose the true identity of the person or persons by whom or in whose behalf such payment is made or promised, or from whom or in whose behalf such services or other valuable consideration is received, or by whom the material or services referred to in subsection (b) hereof are furnished. Where an agent or other person contracts or otherwise makes arrangements with a station on behalf of another, and such fact is known to the station, the announcement shall disclose the identity of the person or persons in whose behalf such agent is acting instead of the name of such agent.

(d) In the case of any program, other than a program advertising commercial products or services, which is sponsored, paid for or furnished, either in whole or in part, or for which material or services referred to in subsection (b) hereof are furnished, by a corporation, committee, association or other unincorporated group, the announcement required by this section shall disclose the name of such corporation, committee, association or other unincorporated group. In each such case the station shall require that a list of the chief executive officers or member of the executive committee or of the board of directors of the corporation, committee, association or other unincorporated group shall be made available for public inspection at one of the radio stations carrying the program.

(e) In the case of programs advertising commercial products or services, an announcement stating the sponsor's corporate or trade name or the name of the sponsor's product. shall be deemed sufficient for the purposes of this section and only one such announcement need be made at any time during the course of the program.

[EDITOR'S NOTE: On Feb. 8, 1960, the FCC proposed changes in this section and identical fm and tv rules (below) which would require licensees to adopt procedures to prevent their employes from accepting payola. On the same date, new rules were proposed which would prohibit fixed quiz and audience participation shows.]

RECORDINGS and TRANSCRIPTIONS

(Identification of)

In am rules . . .

§3.118 Mechanical reproductions.—(a) No mechanically reproduced program consisting of a speech, news event, news commentator, forum, panel discussion, or special event in which the element of time is of special significance, or any other program in which the element of time is of special significance and presentation of which would create, either intentionally or otherwise, the impression or belief on the part of the listening audience that the event or program being broadcast is in fact occurring simultaneously with the broadcast, shall be broadcast without an appropriate announcement being made either at the beginning or end of such reproduction or at the beginning or end of the program in which such reproduction is used that it is a mechanical reproduction or a mechanically reproduced program: Provided, however, That each such program of one minute or less need not be announced as such.

(b) The exact form of identifying announcement is not prescribed, but the language shall be clear and in terms commonly used and understood. Any other program mechanically reproduced or series of mechanical reproductions, including a mechanical reproduction used for background music, sound effects, station identification, program identification (theme music of short duration) or identification of sponsorship of the program proper, need not be announced as provided in subsection (a), but the licensee shall not attempt affirmatively to create the impression that any program being broadcast by mechanical reproduction consists of live talent.

(c) The requirements of subsection (a) are waived with respect to network programs, transcribed and rebroadcast at a later hour because of the time zone differentials between the place where the program originates and where it is rebroadcast, this waiver being applicable whether the off-the-line recording is made by the network itself at one of its key stations or by an individual station, but only when the off-the-line recording is for broadcast at an hour not exceeding the time zone differential between the place where the program originates and where it is rebroadcast. Each station which broadcasts network programs at a later hour in accordance with this waiver shall make an appropriate announcement at least once each day between the hours of 10:00 a.m. and 10:00 p.m., stating that some or all of the network programs which are broadcast by that station are delayed broadcasts by means of transcription. This waiver provision also applies during the annual period in which daylight saving time will be effective with respect to network programs transcribed and rebroadcast one hour later because of the time differential resulting from the adoption of daylight saving time in some areas.

any such candidate to use its facilities, it shall afford equal opportunities to all other such candidates for that office to use such facilities; provided, that such licensee shall have no power of censorship over the material broadcast by any such candidate.

(c) Rates and practices.—(1) The rates, if any, charged all such candidates for the same office shall be uniform and shall not be rebated by any means direct or indirect. A candidate shall, in each case, be charged no more than the rate the station would charge if the candidate were a commercial advertiser whose advertising was directed to promoting its business within the same area as that encompassed by the particular office for which such person is a candidate. All discount privileges otherwise offered by a station to commercial advertisers shall be available upon equal terms to all candidates for public office.

(2) In making time available to candidates for public office no licensee shall make any discrimination between candidates in charges, practices, regulations, facilities, or services for or in connection with the service rendered pursuant to this part, or make or give any preference to any candidate for public office or subject any such candidate to any prejudice or disadvantage; nor shall any licensee make any contract or other agreement which shall have the effect of permitting any legally qualified candidate for any public office to broadcast to the exclusion of other legally qualified candidates for the same public office.

(d) Records: inspections.—Every licensee shall keep and permit public inspection of a complete record of all requests for broadcast time made by or on behalf of candidates for public office, together with an appropriate notation showing the disposition made by the licensee of such request, and the charges made, if any, if request is granted. Such records shall be retained for a period of two years.

(e) A request for equal opportunities must be submitted to the licensee within one week of the day on which the prior use occurred.

(f) A candidate requesting such equal opportunities of the licensee, or complaining of non-compliance to the Commission, shall have the burden of proving that he and his opponent are legally qualified candidates for the same public office.

REBROADCASTS

In am rules . . .

§3.121 Rebroadcast.—(a) The term "rebroadcast" means reception by radio of the program of a radio station, and the simultaneous or subsequent retransmission of such program by a broadcast station.

NOTE: As used in this section, program includes any complete program or part thereof. or any signals if other than A-3 emission. In case a program is transmitted from its point of origin to a broadcast station entirely by telephone facilities in which a section of such transmission is by radio, the broadcasting of this program is not considered a rebroadcast.

(b) The licensee of a standard broadcast station may, without further authority of the Commission, rebroadcast the program of a United States standard or high frequency broadcast station, provided the Commission is notified of the call letters of each station rebroadcast and the licensee certifies that express authority has been received from the licensee of the station originating the program.

NOTE: The notice and certification of consent shall be given within three (3) days of any single rebroadcast, but in case of the regular practice of rebroadcasting certain programs of a standard broadcast station several times during a license period, notice and certification of consent shall be given for the ensuing license period with the application for renewal of license, or at the beginning of such rebroadcast practice if begun during a license period.

(c) (1) The licensee of a standard broadcast station located within a state or the District of Columbia may, without further authority of the Commission, rebroadcast on a noncommercial basis a noncommercial program of a United States international broadcast station.

(2) The licensee of a standard broadcast station located in any territory or insular possession of the United States may, without further authority of the Commission, rebroadcast any program of a United States international broadcast station.

(3) In the case of any rebroadcast under the provisions of this paragraph (c), the Commission shall be notified of the call letters of each station whose programs are rebroadcast and the licensee shall certify that express authority has been received from the licensee of the station originating the program.

(d) No licensee of a standard or high frequency broadcast station shall rebroadcast the program of any other class of United States radio station without written authority having first been obtained from the Commission upon application accompanied by written consent or certification of consent of the licensee of the station originating the program.

NOTE: The broadcasting of a program relayed by a remote pickup broadcast station (section 4.401) is not considered a rebroadcast. Informal application may be employed. By Order No. 82, dated and effective June 24, 1941, until further order of the Commission, section 3.121 (d) is suspended only insofar as it requires prior written authority of the Commission for the rebroadcasting of programs originated for that express purpose by U.S. Government radio stations.

(e) In case of a program rebroadcast by several standard broadcast stations, such as a chain rebroadcast, the person legally responsible for distributing the program or the network facilities may obtain the necessary authorization for the entire rebroadcast both from the Commission and from the person or licensee of the station originating the program.

Attention is directed to section 325(b) of the Communications Act of 1934, which reads as follows:

No person shall be permitted to locate, use, or maintain a radio broadcast studio or other place or apparatus from which or whereby sound waves are converted into electrical energy, or mechanical or physical reproduction of sound waves produced, and caused to be transmitted or delivered to a radio station in a foreign country for the purpose of being broadcast from any radio station there, having a power output of sufficient intensity, and/or being so located geographically that its emissions may be received consistently in the United States, without first obtaining a permit from the Commission upon proper application therefor. [See §1.327.]

In fm rules . . .

§3.291—[EDITOR'S NOTE: Identical in terms with §3.121, above, with two exceptions: Paragraph (e) of §3.121 is deleted in §3.291, and Paragraph (b) relates to rebroadcast of programs of U.S.: "standard, fm or noncommercial educational" stations.]

In tv rules . . .

§3.655. Rebroadcast.—(a) The term "rebroadcast" as used below means reception by radio of the program of a television broadcast station, and the simultaneous or subsequent retransmission of such programs by a broadcast station. The broadcasting of a program relayed by an auxiliary broadcast station licensed to the television broadcast station is not considered a rebroadcast. (As used in this section, program includes any complete program or part thereof.)

(b) The licensee of a television broadcast station may, without further authority of the Commission, rebroadcast the program of a United States television broadcast station, provided the Commission is notified of the call letters of each station rebroadcast and the licensee certifies that express authority has been received from the licensee of the station originating the program.

NOTE 1: The notice and certification of consent shall be given within 3 days of any single rebroadcast, but in case of the regular practice of rebroadcasting certain programs of a television broadcast station several times during a license period, notice and certification of consent shall be given for the ensuing license period with the application for such rebroadcast practice if begun during a license period.

NOTE 2: By Order No. 82, dated and effective June 24, 1941, until further order of the Commission, Section 3.655(c) is suspended only insofar as it requires prior written authority of the Commission for the rebroadcasting of programs originated for that express purpose by U. S. Government radio stations.

(c) No licensee of a television broadcast station shall rebroadcast the program of any United States radio station not designated in paragraph (b) of this section without written authority having first been obtained from the Commission upon application (informal) accompanied by written consent or certification of consent of the licensee of the station originating the program.

REVOCATIONS, MODIFICATIONS, SUSPENSIONS

(All Classes of Station Licenses)

§1.61 Notice of violations.—(a) Any licensee who appears to have violated any provision of the Communications Act or any provision of this chapter shall be served with a written notice calling the facts to his attention and requesting a statement concerning the matter. FCC Form 793 may be used for this purpose.

(b) Within 10 days from receipt of notice or such other period as may be specified, the licensee shall send a written answer, in duplicate, direct to the office of the Commission originating the official notice. If an answer cannot be sent nor an acknowledgment made within such 10-day period by reason of illness or other unavoidable circumstances, acknowledgment and answer shall be made at the earliest practicable date with a satisfactory explanation of the delay.

(c) The answer to each notice shall be complete in itself and shall not be abbreviated by reference to other communications or answers to other notices. If the notice relates to violations that may be due to the physical or electrical characteristics of transmitting apparatus, the answer shall state fully what steps, if any, have been taken to prevent future violations, and, if any new apparatus is to be installed, the date such apparatus was ordered, the name of the manufacturer, and the promised date of delivery. If the installation of such apparatus requires a construction permit, the file number of the application shall be given, or if a file number has not been assigned by the Commission, such identification shall be given as will permit ready identification of the application. If the notice of violation relates to lack of attention to or improper operation of the transmitter, the name and license number of the operator in charge shall be given.

§1.62 Revocation of station licenses and construction permits and issuance of cease and desist orders.—(a) Whenever it appears that a station license or construction permit should be revoked for any of the reasons set forth in Section 312(a) of the Communications Act, or a cease and desist order should be issued for any of the reasons specified in Section 312(b) of the Communications Act, the Commission will, except in cases of wilfullness or those in which the public health, interest, or safety require otherwise, either by notice of violation as provided for in §1.61 or by any other written warning, call to the attention of the licensee or permittee the facts or conduct which may warrant revocation of the license or construction permit or the issuance of a cease and desist order, and the Commission will accord to the licensee or permittee a reasonable opportunity to demonstrate or achieve compliance with the said warning. In case of failure to timely comply therewith or in cases of wilfullness or those in which public health, interest or safety requires, the Commission will issue an order directing the licensee, permittee, or person to show cause why an order of revocation or a cease and desist order, as the case may be, should not be issued.

(b) Any order to show cause issued in accordance with paragraph (a) of this section will contain a statement of the matters with respect to which the Commission is inquiring and will call upon the licensee, permittee, or person to appear before the Commission at a time and place stated in the order, but in no event less than 30 days after the receipt of such order, and give evidence upon the matter specified therein: except, that where safety of life or property is involved, the Commission may provide in the order for a shorter period.

(c) In order to avail himself of the opportunity to be heard, the licensee, permittee, or person, in person or by his attorney, shall, within 30 days of the receipt of the order or such shorter period as may be specified therein if the safety of life or property is involved, file with the Commission a written statement stating that he will appear at the hearing and present evidence on the matter specified in the order. If the licensee, permittee or person fails to file such an appearance within the time specified in this paragraph the right to a hearing shall be deemed waived.

(d) Hearings on the matters specified in the order to show cause and the practice and procedure in connection therewith shall accord with the provisions of this subpart and Subpart B of this part, except that in all such hearings the burden of proceeding with the introduction of evidence and burden of proof shall be upon the Commission, and except that the Commission may, where the circumstances of the proceeding require expedition, specify in the show cause order times less than those specified in §§1.153 and 1.154 within which the initial decision in such proceedings shall become effective, within which exceptions to such initial decision or replies thereto may be filed, and within which parties may file notice of intent to seek and participate in oral argument.

(e) Where a hearing is waived and no written statement has been filed within 30 days of the receipt of the order to show cause or such shorter period of time as may be specified therein, the allegations of fact contained in the order to show cause will be deemed as correct and the Hearing Examiner will issue an initial decision invoking the sanctions specified in the order to show cause.

(f) Where a hearing is waived, a written statement in mitigation or justification may be submitted within 30 days of the receipt of the order to show cause or within such shorter period of time as may be specified therein. The Hearing Examiner may, if the statement contains, with particularity, factual allegations denying or, in the Hearing Examiner's opinion, justifying the facts upon which the show cause order is based, call upon the submitting party to furnish additional information, and the Hearing Examiner shall request all opposing parties to file an answer to the written statement and/or additional information. The Hearing Examiner will then, unless he orders that further pleadings be filed, close the record and issue, on basis of the procedure lineated in this paragraph, an initial decision.

(g) Corrections or promise to correct the condition complained of in the order to show cause shall not preclude the issuance of an order to cease and desist.

(h) Any order of revocation or cease and desist order issued pursuant to this section shall include a statement of findings and the grounds therefor, shall specify the effective date of the order, and shall be served on the licensee, permittee or person.

§1.63 Modification of licenses or construction permits on motion of the Commission.—(a) Whenever it appears that a station license or construction permit should be modified, the Commission will notify the licensee or permittee in writing of the proposed action and the grounds and reasons therefor and direct him to show cause why an order modifying the license or construction permit in the manner proposed by the Commission should not be issued.

(b) Any order to show cause issued in accordance with paragraph (a) of this section will notify the licensee or permittee that he may request, within a period of time to be stated in the order to show cause, that a hearing be held on the proposed modification. In case of timely request, a hearing will be held on the proposed modification, in no event less than 30 days after the receipt of the order to show cause, unless the Commission finds that safety of life or property require the fixing of a shorter period.

(c) In order to avail himself of the right to request a hearing and of the opportunity to appear and give evidence upon the matters specified in the order to show cause, the licensee or permittee, in person or by his attorney shall, within the period of time as may be specified in the order to show cause, file with the Commission a written statement stating that he requests a hearing and will appear at the hearing and present evidence on the matter specified in the order to show cause. Such written statement must contain a detailed response to the matter specified in the order to show cause and the permittee or licensee shall be limited in the hearing to matters fairly encompassed within the issues raised by the response.

(d) The right to request a hearing shall, unless a good cause is shown in a petition to be filed not later than 5 days before the lapse of the time specified in paragraph (c) of this section, be deemed waived:

(1) In case of failure to timely file a written statement as required by paragraph (c) of this section.

(2) In case of filing the written statement provided for in paragraph (c) of this section but failure to appear at the hearing, either in person or by counsel.

(e) Where the right to request a hearing is waived and no written statement has been filed within the period of time specified in the order to show cause, the licensee or permittee will be deemed to consent to the modification as proposed in the order to show cause and a final decision will be issued by the Commission accordingly.

(f) Where the right to request a hearing has been waived, a written statement may be filed within the period of time to be specified in the order to show cause, showing with particularity why the license or construction permit should not be modified or not so modified as proposed in the order to show cause. In this case, the Commission may, depending upon the facts alleged and proof offered, either call upon the submitting party to furnish additional information under oath, designate the proceeding for hearing, or issue without further proceedings an order modifying the construction permit or license as proposed in the order to show cause or in said written statement. The order to show cause will advise the person against whom it is directed of procedure set forth in this paragraph.

(g) Any order of modification issued pursuant to this section shall include a statement of the findings and the grounds and reasons therefor, shall specify the effective date of the order and shall be served on the licensee or permittee.

(Of Operator Licenses)

§1.72 Suspension of operator licenses.—Whenever grounds exist for suspension of an operator license, as provided in Section 303(m) of the Communications Act, the Chief of the Safety and Special Radio Services Bureau, with respect to amateur operator licenses, or the Chief of the Field Engineering and Monitoring Bureau, with respect to commercial operator licenses, may issue an order suspending the operator license. No order of suspension in any operator's license shall take effect until 15 days' notice in writing of the cause for the proposed suspension has been given to the operator licensee, who may make written application to the Commission at any time within said 15 days for a hearing upon such order. The notice to the operator licensee shall not be effective until actually received by him, and from that time he shall have 15 days in which to mail the said application. In the event that physical conditions prevent mailing of the application before the expiration of the 15-day period, the application shall then be mailed as soon as possible thereafter, accompanied by a satisfactory explanation of the delay. Upon receipt by the Commission of such application for hearing, said order of suspension shall be designated for hearing by the Chief, Safety and Special Radio Services Bureau or the Chief, Field Engineering and Monitoring Bureau, as the case may be, and said order of suspension shall be held in abeyance until the conclusion of the hearing. Upon the conclusion of said hearing, the Commission may affirm, modify or revoke said order of suspension. If the license is ordered suspended, the operator shall send his operator license to the office of the Commission in Washington, D. C., on or before the effective date of the order, or, if the effective date has passed at the time notice is received, the license shall be sent to the Commission forthwith.

LOTTERIES

For all stations . . .

§3.122 Lotteries.—(a) An application for construction permit, license, renewal of license, or any other authorization for the operation of a broadcast station, will not be granted where the applicant proposes to follow or continue to follow a policy or practice of broadcasting or permitting "the broadcasting of any advertisement of or information concerning any lottery, gift enterprise, or similar scheme, offering prizes dependent in whole or in part upon lot or chance or any list of the prizes drawn or awarded by means of any such lottery, gift enterprise, or scheme, whether said list contains any part or all such prizes." (See 18 U.S.C. §1304.)

(b) The determination whether a particular program comes within the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section depends on the facts of each case. However, the Commission will in any event consider that a program comes within the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section if in connection with such program a prize consisting of money or thing of value is awarded to any person whose selection is dependent in whole or in part upon lot or chance, if as a condition of winning or competing for such prize, such winner or winners, are required to furnish any money or thing of value or are required to have in their possession any product sold, manufactured, furnished or distributed by a sponsor of a program broadcast on the station in question.

§1304 (of U. S. Criminal Code) Broadcasting Lottery information.—Whoever broadcasts by means of any radio station for which a license is required by any law of the U. S., or whoever, operating any such station, knowingly permits the broadcasting of any advertisement of or information concerning any lottery, gift enterprise, or similar scheme, offering prizes dependent in whole or in part upon lot or chance, or any list of the prizes drawn or awarded by means of any such lottery, gift enterprise or scheme, whether said list contains any part or all of such prizes, shall be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned not more than one year, or both.

Each day's broadcasting shall constitute a separate offense.

CENSORSHIP

For all stations . . .

§326 (of Communications Act.)—Nothing in this Act shall be understood to give the Commission the power of censorship over the radio communications or signals transmitted by any radio station, and no regulation or condition shall be promulgated or fixed by the Commission which shall interfere with the right of free speech by means of radio communication.

INDECENT LANGUAGE

§1464 (of U. S. Criminal Code) Broadcasting obscene language.—Whoever utters any obscene, indecent, or profane language by means of radio communication shall be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned not more than two years, or both.

TRANSFERS and ASSIGNMENTS

Voluntary . . .

§1.329 Applications for voluntary assignment or transfer of control.—(a) Application for consent to the assignment of construction permit or license, or for consent to the transfer of control or a corporation holding such a construction permit or license, shall be filed with the Commission on FCC Form 314 (Assignment of License), FCC Form 315 (Transfer of Control), or FCC Form 316 (Short Form). Such application should be filed with the Commission at least 45 days prior to the contemplated effective date of assignment or transfer of control.

(b) The following assignment or transfer applications may be filed on FCC Form 316.

(1) Assignment from an individual or individuals (including partnerships) to a corporation owned and controlled by such individuals or partnerships without any substantial change in their relative interests;

(2) Assignment from a corporation to its individual stockholders without effecting any substantial change in the disposition of their interests;

(3) Assignment or transfer by which certain stockholders retire and the interest transferred is not a controlling one;

(4) Corporate reorganization which involves no substantial change in the beneficial ownership of the corporation;

(5) Assignment or transfer from a corporation to a wholly owned subsidiary thereof or vice versa, or where there is an assignment from a corporation to a corporation owned or controlled by the assignor stockholders without substantial change in their interests; or

(6) Assignment of less than a controlling interest in a partnership.

[EDITOR'S NOTE: In a statement issued by the FCC in 1948, licensees were warned that no transfers of station control are permitted until after Commission approved. The FCC also asked that licensees who are in doubt whether a transfer application is necessary bring ownership changes to the attention of the Commission to determine whether they are changes in control before consummating the transfer action.]

Involuntary transfers and assignments

§1.330 Application for involuntary assignment of license.—(a) The Commission shall be notified in writing promptly of the death or legal disability of an individual permittee or licensee, a member of a partnership, or a person directly or indirectly in control of a corporation which is a permittee or licensee.

(b) Within 30 days after the occurrence of such death or legal disability, an application on FCC Form 316 shall be filed requesting consent to involuntary assignment of such permit or license or for involuntary transfer of control of such corporation to a person or entity legally qualified to succeed to the foregoing interests under the laws of the place having jurisdiction over the estate involved.

WILL THE SONY C-37A CONDENSER MICROPHONE EVER BE EQUALLED?

Probably. Within the next 5 to 6 years other manufacturers may learn the Sony technique of producing the remarkable gold membrane used in the C-37A diaphragm capsule.

Until then, the Sony must be considered the only perfect microphone in the industry. $295

JERROLD

MANUFACTURER, CONTRACTOR and CONSULTANT . . . TO AN INDUSTRY

After a decade of service to the COMMUNITY ANTENNA SYSTEM INDUSTRY, Jerrold continues to provide the only comprehensive engineering, equipment, construction and business-consultant facilities.

As the TV Factbook listing of community antenna systems shows, more than 80 percent of community operators in this country use Jerrold equipment. That's because Jerrold is the one authoritative source for custom-engineered antenna surveys, unitized head-end equipment, a wide range of "job fitted" amplifiers, easily installed tap-off units, low-loss, long-life coaxial cable and all accessories for precision-performance, impedance-matched systems.

Equally important to investors entering this growing industry, Jerrold provides a business-consultant service which includes: Thorough market survey and economic evaluation of prospective communities; preparation of financial projections; aid in obtaining franchises; complete construction and installation responsibility; and continued aid in system operation.

The Jerrold organization, with sales and field engineering offices in all major markets, offers a truly complete and integrated service from system concept to system completion.

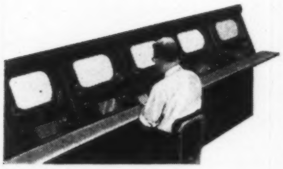
NEW Look! NEW Picture Quality! NEW 4½ inch I.O.

. . . the First All-New TV Studio Camera in 8 Years!



RCA's new monochrome television camera Type TK-12 is new in every sense of the word . . . including startling new improvements in picture quality, significant new savings in operating costs and manpower, new features that help you sell!

4½ INCH IMAGE ORTHICON. This new camera uses a larger image orthicon picture tube—4½ inches in diameter. The 50 per cent greater tube size makes it possible to obtain far better picture detail than has been possible before.

FUNCTIONAL STYLING. A "new look" to identify this camera with the "new picture" has been given the TK-12, in the form of a distinguishing keystone shape. Functional in advantage, too, it provides space for an 8½ inch view finder instead of the usual 5 or 7 inch.

NEW SAVINGS IN OPERATION. High stability and reliability coupled with a brand new control concept, permit a single video operator to handle as many as six cameras. For the normal run he need be concerned with only two operating controls per camera.

ONE MINUTE WARM-UP. Camera set-up is the easiest ever! Turn it on and in one minute the picture is there. Quality pictures "snap in," each time you turn on camera.

THE BEST PICTURE IN TOWN! The extremely sharp picture, the beautiful rendition of gray scale and freedom from halo effect make this camera ideal for both "live" broadcast and TV tape recording.

Ask your RCA Representative for complete information. Or write to RCA, Broadcast and Television Equipment Division, Dept. YB-22, Building 15-1, Camden, N.J.

The Most Trusted Name in Electronics

RADIO CORPORATION OF AMERICA

THE REMARKABLE
WIRELESS
MICROPHONE

The convenience and variety of uses for this remarkable instrument are almost beyond the imagination. The Sony CR-4 mike and radio transmitter can be slipped into a coat pocket for completely wireless on-the-street interviewing, studio audience interviewing or on-the-spot broadcasting from awkward places. It gives complete freedom to active singers, dancers, comedians, performers with electric instruments and actors, eliminating the need for cumbersome mike booms and entangling wires.

Microphone, transmitter, receiver and carrying case, $250. For information or literature, write: Superscope, Inc., Dept. 3, Sun Valley, California.

RCA-5820
Image Orthicon...
Ten Years "On Stage" and still a star performer

More than a decade of refinements in design and manufacturing techniques have improved the performance of this popular black-and-white camera tube to meet or exceed modern TV requirements.

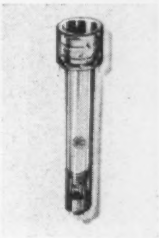
First introduced when TV was in its infancy, RCA-5820 was an immediate success. It is still the most popular black-and-white camera tube in the industry. But very few of the 1949 tubes would meet today's minimum requirements. The entire state of the art has advanced tremendously, and the 5820 has paced the advance with a steady flow of design innovations and manufacturing improvements.

By 1951, for instance, poor resolution had been completely eliminated as a life problem. 1952 and 1953 saw a general tightening of picture quality limits and the opening of a new, ultramodern manufacturing facility.

In the mid-fifties, two important innovations were added: Micro-Mesh and Super-Dynode. Micro-Mesh made it possible to eliminate mesh pattern and moiré effect without defocusing, while Super-Dynode reduced dynode texture in "low-key" scenes and lengthened effective tube life.

During 1957 RCA further tightened spot and blemish limits to improve general picture quality. The following year resolution was improved again with the development of a new target glass, and the warranty was increased from 350 to 500 hours. By 1959, average tube sensitivity had been increased by 50%.



Today, resolution, signal-to-noise ratio and signal uniformity are controlled by the most rigid tests possible. Measurable electrical characteristics are checked-out in special test gear, and the tubes are given a thorough operation test in a TV camera. In addition, all RCA-5820's are stored for 7 days and rechecked before shipment. No effort is spared to assure you of top performance at all times.

For complete information about RCA-5820 and the entire line of RCA camera tubes, call your RCA Broadcast Tube Distributor today. He'll give you fast, dependable service. RCA Electron Tube Division, Harrison, N. J.

KEY TO MARKET LEADERSHIP discovered by K-DOT

Radio K-DOT is Reno, Nevada's number one station, with up to 44% share of audience in a highly competitive, six-station market! The key to this dramatic success is Schafer Broadcast Automation. The Schafer System permits K-DOT an unlimited range of programming flexibility and maximum efficiency in station operation. At K-DOT, a twenty-four hour broadcasting day is prepared in only two hours, aired automatically. And ratings prove that people like the K-DOT sound. Successful radio station operation is possible and profitable with Schafer Broadcast Automation. The proof is K-DOT's market leadership. On your guard?

Are you protecting your broadcast investment when you list it for sale? Or—does the valuation decrease with exposure? When you list exclusively with Blackburn & Company, your property is handled with complete discretion, speed and integrity. In the past year, more broadcast properties were listed and sold through Blackburn & Company, than through any other broker.

20 YEARS OF SERVICE TO MUSIC

BMI

1960

SERVICE continues to be one of the basic theme songs at BMI. Not only are its facilities offered to its TV licensees, but to producers, advertising agencies and their clients, TV film distributors, music conductors, directors and everyone in TV concerned with music and programming. This service is apparent in the day to day activities of BMI and is provided in many forms, such as:

- Assistance in the selection or creation of music for theme, background, bridge, cue or incidental mood music.
- Aid in music clearance.
- Help in protecting music ownership rights.
- Answers to questions concerning copyrights, music right for future residual usage and help in solving all other problems concerning the use of music in TV.

TELEVISION Sketch BOOK

Practical working scripts for the presentation of songs in dramatic, comic and pictorial fashion. Song hits as well as the standard favorites are developed into photogenic sketches which can be used effectively as complete musical shows, as production numbers in variety shows, or for scene-setting segments. Look for the BMI TV Sketchbook when it reaches your station each month.

Let BMI give you the TV Music Story. Call or write

EDITORIALIZING?

BER enables broadcasters to expand editorializing on local issues with authoritative opinion on national and international matters.

For BER's daily "Opinioncasts" are written by newsmen who are among the finest in the world—veterans of Press Associations, networks, newspapers and magazines. This material can be used as received; or re-written by stations with their own conclusions.

BER rates are low—based on population in area served. For complete details, call or write A. Maxwell Hage, President and Editor-in-Chief. No obligation, of course.

CHARGE!

A few years ago, Flamingo challenged the stale concepts of tv film distribution. We rejected Hollywood's pot-boilers and called for the programming of distinguished international features. With confidence in the growing demand for quality, we introduced the exciting Critics' Award and Festival Packages. Our courage and foresight were rewarded with success. Today, in the same fine tradition, we offer the regal Imperial Package. Our days of pioneering are over. Flamingo is the established leader of an expanding field.

We are a dynamic organization dedicated to superior programming. Not content with past victories, Flamingo hurls the challenge anew. The imaginative Nutty Squirrels Tales is the most attractive property in the cartoon market. And let competition beware... Flamingo distributes the top-rating favorite Superman, which reaffirms our standard: the very best entertainment for every age and taste.

ASCAP REPRESENTS GREAT MUSIC

The American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers (ASCAP) has a membership of 5,606 authors and composers and 1,536 publishers. These talented men and women create the best in American music which is known throughout the world. ■ The Society's members write the popular hit songs, rhythm and blues songs, great sacred music, the songs from world-famous Broadway productions as well as the top Hollywood musicals, and the symphonic and concert music of our concert halls. ■ Organized in 1914 by a small group of writers and publishers, the Society is dedicated to seeing that every man and woman who creates musical works for the benefit of the American public shall receive just financial return when his copyrighted music is publicly performed for profit. In seeing to it that this right is amply protected, the Society encourages future creation of our American musical culture. ■ The ASCAP repertory is available to all users of music through a single license. ■ ASCAP represents the great music of America.

Concert Music

U.S.A.—1960

> "THE remarkable growth of United States musical organizations and institutions, the vast number of performances sponsored by symphony orchestras, civic opera organizations and concert associations, the meteoric rise in audiences for fine music—all of this has been made possible only because each year thousands of citizens throughout the nation voluntarily contribute untold time, effort and money on behalf of music...Surely in no other society has the population at large so forcibly demonstrated its desire for fine musical institutions and its love of great music."

HELEN M. THOMPSON
Executive Secretary, American
Symphony Orchestra League, Inc.

More than 40 million persons in the United States are actively interested in one form or another of concert music. Their support of live music and music on recordings indicates that Americans want Concert Music.

- More than half of the 2,000 symphony orchestras in the world are in the United States today.
- There are more than 1,200 symphony orchestras in the United States, compared with less than 100 in 1920.
- Sales of musical instruments were over the $500,000,000 mark in 1959—well over six times what it was in 1939, and more than twice that of 1949.
- In 1960 more than 9,000,000 children play musical instruments and receive musical instruction in schools and with private teachers, compared with 2,500,000 in 1947.
- Americans continue to spend as much money for the purchase of recordings of concert music and high fidelity equipment on which to play these recordings as they do on all spectator sports.
- Since 1948 about 1,000 compositions by some 300 American composers have appeared on long playing recordings.
- The listings in the Schwann Catalog of Recorded Music show that 64.5% of the composers represented on discs are contemporary 20th century composers.

BMI PLAYS AN IMPORTANT ROLE

BMI has always believed in the importance of a freely competitive atmosphere, the only sort of atmosphere in which the contemporary composer can best create the music within him. In fostering this free and competitive climate BMI believes that it is contributing to the musical wealth of our nation and the world.

Voice of America Fact Sheet

The work of the Voice of America, a part of the U. S. Information Agency, is, in the words of President Eisenhower, "to submit evidence to the peoples of other nations . . . that the objectives and policies of the United States are in harmony with and will advance their legitimate aspirations for freedom, progress and peace." Equally the Voice exposes Soviet imperialism and the fraud of international communism, while combatting their anti-American slanders and lies.

Radio is the fastest, most effective day-by-day medium for achieving these objectives; it speaks directly to people abroad, instantaneously surmounting barriers of distance, censorship, illiteracy, foreign exchange, paper shortages and tariffs.

Facilities

The Voice has a network of 87 transmitters of which 30 are in the United States. These latter are shortwave stations, ranging in power from 25 thousand to 200 thousand watts, and operated under contract to VOA by private broadcasting companies. Government-owned or controlled relay stations are located at Munich, Salonika, Tangier, Ceylon, Honolulu, the Philippines and Okinawa. These installations comprising short, medium and longwave stations, include million-watt transmitters—the world's most powerful known broadcasting facilities —in the Philippines, Okinawa and Munich.

Relay facilities are also leased from BBC in England. Other relays or rebroadcasts are made through arrangements with local broadcasters of France, Italy, Germany, Austria, Switzerland, Trieste, Greece, Belgian Congo, Viet-Nam, Japan, Korea, the Philippines, Formosa and Latin America.

The Voice has a floating broadcasting station, the U. S. Coast Guard Cutter Courier which uses high powered medium wave and shortwave transmitters. The Courier provides VOA with a mobile and flexible relay station to meet the demands of the changing world situation and to combat Soviet jamming.

Program Content

Voice broadcasts consist of news, news analyses and features, which include political commentaries, press reviews, round-table discussions, documentaries and special events. Although the breakdown varies from area to area, the program content in general is balanced as follows: News: 50%; Analyses and Features: 50%.

Approximately 65% of VOA's total program effort is directed to the Iron Curtain countries and Communist China. In addition to direct shortwave programming, the Voice regularly broadcasts transcribed programs air-shipped to its relay stations. Other transcribed programs, music recordings, script material, television kinescopes and films are also furnished to U. S. Information Service offices throughout the free world for local distribution and broadcast.

Audience Information

Programs are beamed to areas having a potential audience of over 400,000,000. Scientific surveys, letters from listeners, interviews with Iron Curtain defectors, efforts by the Communist press and radio to discredit the broadcasts, reports from United States missions, correspondents and travelers provide convincing evidence of a regular listening audience of many millions.

Operations Information

The Broadcasting Service is responsible for the planning, execution and content of programs. Programs are written, produced and broadcast from studios in Washington, D. C.

NOTE: The 100 figures given here are totals for each company, including all of its brands and divisions. The figures are for the calendar year 1959 as estimated by RAB on the basis of its survey during the period, with validating cross-checks for accuracy. The figures are "net," meaning they represent estimates of actual expenditure rather than overly high "gross" figures. (The above listing is based on a sample of sources representing approximately 50 percent of the nation's spot dollar volume. Even with this large a sample, however, it is possible that a few advertisers were missed, particularly among accounts whose distribution is not national.)

TOP ADVERTISING AGENCIES—1952-59

Since 1952, the editors of BROADCASTING—The Businessweekly of Television and Radio, have compiled the broadcast billings records of the advertising agencies doing the most business in radio and tv. On this page and next is the historical record.

Results of the ninth annual survey, including profiles of the first 50 agencies for 1960, will appear in BROADCASTING late in 1960.

Who covers Ashtabula County?

ARB'S 1960 TV COVERAGE STUDY reports in depth the full story of TV coverage in Ashtabula and all 3,071 other counties in the 50 United States.

All counties . . . all TV markets . . . all TV stations are covered in ARB's big 1960 "encyclopedia of television" currently available. It not only provides the most recent data available (reflecting the changes that have taken place at over 200 TV stations since the last county-by-county study two years ago), it offers this information based on a sounder technique of measurement than has ever been attempted.

Two Nationwide all-county sampling sweeps were conducted utilizing more than 500,000 home interviews backed by ARB's proven Interviewer Supervised Viewing Diary. Each sweep was specifically designed to simultaneously gather viewing and coverage information. Viewing data, already delivered to clients as the most comprehensive market summary of local audience size, was the first phase of these Nationwide sweeps. Phase two, ARB's 1960 TV Coverage Study, now locates these viewers, by county, for a finite evaluation of television in every area of the country.

Market facts for all U. S. Counties

The figures given below and on the following pages delineate both the retail market U.S.A. and the percentage of television penetration in the country broken down by state and county. These statistics have been compiled from three major sources of information—the American Research Bureau, A. C. Nielsen Co., and the U.S. Bureau of the Census. While ARB and Nielsen reports measure the same thing, and bear the same date (Jan. 1, 1960), their methods and many of their results are different. For the convenience of the reader, both sets of figures are given.

ARB's calculations were first released to the public on June 20, 1960, and are based on a minimum of 200 telephone interviews per county, except in the case of "clustered," or adjacent, counties in which the minimum was 100. ARB maintains that the interviewed homes were selected carefully to make the same representative, and that the number of interviews throughout the U.S. totaled almost half a million. To the figures it derived from these interviews, ARB applied regional tv estimates of the Census Bureau, plus updated telephone ownership figures from AT&T to eliminate the difference in tv penetration between telephone and non-telephone homes. This process produced the results detailed below.

Nielsen's estimates, publicly released on June 13, 1960, represent a second updating from the base figures in the company's Coverage Study No. 3. Television growth patterns, compiled from sampling thousands of homes, were applied to former non-owners of television, county by county, to calculate the current figures.

The actual market data was provided by the 1958 national Census of Business, conducted by the U.S. Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census. The figures given here represent the most up-to-date analysis of the U.S. commercial spectrum available, and have to be distinguished from the projected census figures which BROADCASTING used in its record of retail trade last year.

Estimates of "Total Homes" by county are taken from Sales Management's figures, which both ARB and Nielsen use. "Radio Homes" for the past several years have been so near the point of total saturation (90% or more of "Total Homes") that there has been no recent updating of these figures. The latest "Radio Homes" estimates were published in the 1959 BROADCASTING Yearbook • Marketbook.

A word on the symbols: (D) indicates that the figures of one particular county have been withheld. Usually, this letter is employed according to census law which prohibits the disclosure of the operation of any individual establishment. Three dots placed on a line instead of a figure indicate that the toal trade in that particular commodity in the county was absolute, or close to, zero.

IN INLAND CALIFORNIA (AND WESTERN NEVADA)

BEELINE®

RADIO

delivers more for the money

You're shooting at a booming economy when you beam your sales message into Beeline station radio broadcast territory. For example, in Fresno — home base of KMJ — retail sales exceed Spokane, Washington and Trenton, New Jersey, both with larger populations.*

Last year alone 14 new companies moved into Fresno County. There were 117 industrial expansions. Millions in farm and food-processing income generated in this No. 1 U.S. agricultural county help keep buying demand high.

The most effective way to beam your radio message into the thriving Fresno market is on KMJ, the Beeline station in Fresno.

As a group, the Beeline stations give you more radio homes than any competitive group of stations . . . at by far the lowest cost per thousand. (Nielsen & SR&D)

U. S. Bureau of Census Makes it Official
Atlanta population now ONE MILLION

There now are one million men, women and children in Metropolitan Atlanta. Or by the time you read this, perhaps more. Newcomers are arriving by plane, train, car and stork at the rate of 516 per week.

Atlanta is the dynamic, hard-working, good living heart of that vast region served and sold by WSB Radio and WSB Television. We invite you to share the rewards of this great and growing market's present and future.

ATLANTA'S

To every thing there is a season, and a time to every purpose.
Ecclesiastes 3:1

To each purpose there is a proper time for accomplishment. The important thing is having the perspective to recognize it.

Successful advertising is predicated on this axiom, also. For whether an advertiser seeks a broad or a select, a laboring or a white-collar, a youthful or an adult audience for his sales message . . . tastes and interests differ widely; and there is a specifically effective time to reach every audience. The important thing is having the perspective to employ it.

In the Maryland Market, WBAL-TV programs to satisfy the variety of needs of the widest practical audience, but with the perspective to reach every audience in direct relationship to the significance its percentage bears upon the whole. Our schedule is so balanced, carefully, because we have a public responsibility to provide entertainment, information and education for all of our viewers. Thus, at WBAL-TV, an advertiser's efforts may be directed specifically to the particular audience he seeks. The time he requires to accomplish his purpose remains only to be realized.

"To every thing there is a season, and a time to every purpose . . ." the prophet says. At WBAL-TV in Baltimore, our advertisers reap the fruit of time well spent.

In Buffalo and Western New York for product

closely identified with the market

A minor point, perhaps, but even WBEN-TV station ID's picture the Buffalo-Western New York market.

Never-ending is the WBEN-TV effort to be the station most closely identified with the likes and the loyalties of this important area. Since 1948, when Ch. 4 pioneered television on the Niagara Frontier, good public service programming and quality local programming were the standards set and followed to build loyal audiences.

Today, to best identify your product with the shopping habits of the more than 2,000,000 people in this metropolitan market, use the station they watch most often. Make your TV dollars count for more — on Ch. 4, the station identified with top coverage, penetration and sales in Western New York.

This is the kind of hold our station has on people

It's a two-way affair, as you can see. We hold each other's loyalty and friendship. Plus-values without equal to worthy sponsors!

We've earned viewer loyalty through a natural attitude that our people, providentially, appreciate. Strong emphasis on public service. Programming for the human being. No staff shouting—no triple spots—no hokum. Civic-minded veteran staff members, respected members of their parts of the community. Doing, in fact, what comes naturally with nice people.

How do we know? Ratings, mail counts, word of mouth—you name it! Your message, in behalf of worthy products, gets special notice here. It's the U.S.A.'s 17th (with an annual 3⅓ billion-plus buying appetite) but one of the most rewarding markets of them all—and George P. Hollingbery has all data plus our means-what-it-says rate card. What's holding you?

ONE OF AMERICA'S GREAT AREA STATIONS

PEOPLE DO and especially the people who stay with WJAC-TV

Statistics only have real meaning when they represent product-buying people. Both A.R.B. and Nielsen show WJAC-TV to be the Number 1 station in the Johnstown-Altoona market, but the exciting part of the story is shown in the sales results of our clients. People in every type of business tell us the same thing--"We look to WJAC-TV to help us sell. WJAC-TV delivers a large audience, but more important, a responsive, loyal audience!"

WJAC-TV can deliver for you. It's the number one station in audience--and audience response!

HOW RADIO BEGAN

Radio communication was born of many minds and developments. In the 1860's, Maxwell predicted the existence of radio waves. Hertz later demonstrated that rapid variations of electric current can be projected into space in the form of waves similar to those of light and heat. In 1895, Marconi transmitted radio signals for a short distance and, at the turn of the century, conducted successful trans-Atlantic tests.

The first practical application of radio was for ship-to-ship and ship-to-shore telegraphic communication. Marine disasters early demonstrated the speed and effectiveness of radiotelegraphy for safeguarding life and property at sea.

This new communication medium was first known as "wireless." American use of the term "radio" is traced to about 1912 when the Navy, feeling that "wireless" was too inclusive, adopted the word "radiotelegraph." Though the British still cling to the older term, "radio" continues to be the American designation. The word "broadcast" stems from early United States naval reference to "broadcast" of orders to the fleet.

There was some military radiotelephony in World War I—between ground and planes and ship and shore—but most early radio communication was confined to ships at sea and to amateurs. The latter were highly instrumental in arousing popular interest in radio and otherwise contributing to its progress.

The first voice broadcast is a subject for debate. Claims to that distinction range from "Hello, Rainey," said to have been sent by Stubblefield to a partner in a demonstration near Murray, Ky., in 1892, to an impromptu program from Brant Rock, Mass., by Fessenden in 1906, which was picked up by nearby ships.

There were other early experimental audio transmissions—such as De Forest putting Enrico Caruso on the air in 1910 and trans-Atlantic voice tests by the Navy station at Arlington, Va., in 1915—but it was not until after World War I that regular broadcasting began. But here, too, there is controversy. Some radio broadcasting stations developed from experimental operations going back to 1912. KDKA Pittsburgh, although not issued a regular broadcasting license until Nov. 7, 1921, carried experimental programs prior to that date under a license issued in 1920. The first station issued a regular broadcast license was WBZ Springfield, Mass., on Sept. 15, 1921.

There was experimental network operation over telephone lines as early as 1922. In that year WJZ Newark, N. J., and WGY Schenectady broadcast the World Series. Early in 1923 WEAF New York and WNAC Boston picked up a football game from Chicago. Later that same year WEAF and WGY were connected with KDKA Pittsburgh and KYW Chicago to carry talks made at a dinner in New York. President Coolidge's message to Congress was broadcast by six stations in late 1923. In 1926 the National Broadcasting Co. started the first regular network with 24 stations. Its first coast-to-coast hookup, in 1927, broadcast a football game. In the latter year the Columbia Broadcasting System was organized. The first round-the-world broadcast was made from Schenectady in 1930. Today, thanks to telephone lines, coaxial cable, microwave and other relay facilities, it is possible to send the same program over many stations at the same time.

Fm (frequency modulation) and tv (television) broadcast emerged from their experimental stage just before World War II. Wartime restrictions retarded normal expansion of radio facilities but that emergency produced new techniques and apparatus which have invaluable peacetime application.

REGULATION OF BROADCASTING

There was a Wireless Ship Act of 1910 which applied to use of radio by ships, but the Radio Act of 1912 was the first domestic law for the control of radio in general. It made the then Secretary of Commerce & Labor responsible for licensing radio stations and operators.

Early broadcasting was experimental and, therefore, noncommercial. In 1919 broadcasters operated as "limited commercial stations." In 1922 the "wavelength" of 360 meters (approximately 830 kilocycles) was assigned for the transmission of "important news items, entertainment, lectures, sermons and similar matter."

Recommendations of the first National Radio Conference in 1922 resulted in further regulations by the Secretary of Commerce. A new type of broadcast station came into being, with minimum power of 500 watts and maximum of 1,000 watts (1 kilowatt). Two frequencies (750 and 833 kilocycles) were assigned for program transmission.

So rapid was the development of aural broadcasting that, upon recommendation of subsequent National Radio Conferences (1923 and 1924), the Dept. of Commerce allocated 550 to 1500 kilocycles for standard broadcast (am being the only regular broadcast at that time), and authorized operating power up to 5,000 watts (5 kilowatts).

Increase in the number of am stations caused so much interference that, in 1925, a fourth National Radio Conference asked for a limitation on broadcast time and power. The Secretary of Commerce was unable to deal with the situation because court decisions held that the Radio Act of 1912 did not give him this authority. As a result, many broadcasters jumped their frequencies and increased their power and operating time at will, regardless of the effect on other stations. This caused bedlam on the air.

In 1926 President Coolidge urged Congress to remedy matters. The result was the Dill-White Radio Act of 1927.

Federal Radio Commission

The Radio Act of 1927 created a five-member Federal Radio Commission with certain regulatory powers over radio, including the issuance of station licenses, the allocation of frequency bands to various services, assignment of specified frequencies to individual stations and control of station power. The same act also delegated to the Secretary of Commerce authority to inspect radio stations, to examine and license radio operators and to assign radio call signals.

Much of the early efforts of the Federal Radio Commission were devoted to straightening out the confusion in the broadcast band. It was impossible to care for the 732 broadcast stations as then operating. New rules and regulations caused about 150 of them to surrender their licenses.

Communications Act of 1934

At the request of President Roosevelt, the Secretary of Commerce in 1933 appointed an interdepartmental committee to study the overall interstate and international electrical communications situation. The committee reported that "the communications service, as far as Congressional action is involved, should be regulated by a single body." Accordingly, it recommended the establishment of a new agency which would regulate all interstate and foreign communication by wire and radio, including telegraph, telephone and broadcast. The resultant Communications Act of 1934 created the present Federal Communications Commission for this unified regulation.

Federal Communications Commission

The Federal Communications Commission, an independent federal agency composed of seven commissioners appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, began operating on July 1, 1934.

WHAT THE FCC DOES

One of the FCC's major activities is the general regulation of broadcasting—now visual as well as aural. This regulation, largely technical in nature, may be divided into two phases.

The first phase deals with the allocation of spectrum space to the different types of broadcast services in accordance with Commission policies and rules to carry out the intent of international agreements, the Communications Act and other domestic laws affecting broadcasting.

The second phase is concerned more directly with individual stations, and embraces consideration of applications to build and operate; the assignment of specific frequencies, power, time of operation and call letters; the periodic inspection of equipment and the engineering aspects of operation; passing upon transfers and assignments of facilities; also the many varied changes in existing authorizations; modifying and renewing construction permits and licenses; reviewing the general service of each particular station to determine whether it has been operating in the public interest; licensing radio operators, and otherwise discharging domestic regulatory responsibilities.

Broadcast stations are licensed to serve the public interest, convenience and necessity. Because radio channels are limited and are a part of the public domain, it is important that they be entrusted to licensees who have a high sense of public responsibility. The present broadcast period is three years.

The Communications Act sets up certain basic requirements which must be met by broadcast applicants. In general, applicants must be legally, technically and financially qualified, and show that their proposed operation will be in the public interest.

The license privilege is limited by law to citizens of the United States. It is denied to corporations wherein any officer or director is an alien or of which more than one-fifth of the capital stock is controlled by foreign interests.

The Commission's broadcast application and hearing procedure is outlined in a separate FCC information bulletin (see page C-1).

Programs: Under the Communications Act it is the responsibility of each broadcast station licensee to arrange his program structure so that his operations will be in the public interest. The Commission does not prescribe any percentages of time which should be devoted to particular subjects, such as news, education, religion, music, public issues, etc. That is something which can vary with the locality. However, the Commission does periodically review the overall performance of a station—engineeringly and otherwise—when it applies for renewal of its license, to determine whether it has lived up to its obligations and the promises it made in obtaining permission to use the public airwaves.

Censorship and free speech: This review of broadcast station performance does not, however, give the Commission authority to direct a station to put a particular program on or off the air. The Communications Act states: "Nothing in this Act shall be understood or construed to give the Commission the power of censorship over the radio communications or signals transmitted by any radio station, and no regulation or condition shall be promulgated or fixed by the Commission which shall interfere with the right of free speech by means of radio communication." The Commission has held that freedom of speech on the air must be broad enough to provide full and equal opportunity for the presentation of both sides of public issues. Under such conditions, licensees of broadcast stations have the right to editorialize.

Advertising: While it does not pass upon the nature or length of commercials on the air, the Commission's review of a station's performance does consider deviation from promised service which tends towards over-commercialization. Also, under a cooperative arrangement with the Federal Trade Commission, which has jurisdiction over false and misleading advertising on the air, the Commission notifies stations concerned of broadcast advertising cited by the FTC so that these stations may take any necessary action consistent with their obligation to operate in the public interest.

Political broadcasts: The Communications Act (sec. 315) expressly provides: "If any licensee shall permit any person who is a legally qualified candidate for any public office to use a broadcasting station, he shall afford equal opportunities to all other such candidates for that office in the use of such broadcasting station: Provided, that such licensee shall have no power of censorship over the material broadcast under the provisions of this section. No obligation is hereby imposed upon any licensee to allow the use of its station by any such candidate. The charges made for the use of any broadcasting station for any of the purposes set forth in this section shall not exceed the charges made for comparable use of such station for other purposes." In 1959, news broadcasts were exempted from the "equal time" provisions of sec. 315.

Lotteries, obsenity and fraud: The United States Criminal Code prohibits broadcast of information concerning "any lottery, gift enterprise, or similar scheme," also utterance of obscene, indecent, or profane language, and fraud by wire, radio, or television. Supreme Court decision on a particular "give-away" program did not hold it to be a lottery.

Time charges and station management: The Communications Act declares that broadcasting is not a common carrier operation. Consequently, a broadcast station is not required to sell or to give time to all who seek to go on the air. Because programming is primarily the responsibility of broadcast station licensees, the Commission does not ordinarily monitor or pass upon individual programs, or require the filing of radio scripts. However, broadcast stations are required to keep a program log and a technical log, and a record of all requests for political broadcast time. The Commission does not maintain surveillance of the day-to-day internal management of broadcast stations or regulate their time charges, profits, artists' salaries or employe relations.

Networks: The Commission does not license networks as such, but only individual stations. However, its licensees are subject to the chain broadcasting regulations adopted by the Commission in 1941 to further competition in broadcasting. The major radio networks are: American Broadcasting Co., Columbia Broadcasting System, Mutual Broadcasting System and the National Broadcasting Co. In 1957, a special staff report of tv network broadcasting was made to the Commission. Its recommendations were the subject of a Commission hearing in 1958.

Monopoly: There is Commission prohibition against the same interest or group from operating more than one network, or more than one am, fm or tv station in the same area, or more than seven am, seven fm or seven tv commercial stations throughout the country as a whole. Not more than five of these tv stations may be in the vhf band. Persons whose licenses have been revoked by a court for antitrust violations are by law denied authorizations by the Commission.

Receivers: The Commission does not license sets that are for reception only, nor does it regulate their production or sale. However, it does impose limitations on their radiations which may interfere with radio or tv service. The advent of "wireless" prompted the use of receiving sets by amateurs and others interested in listening-in on Morse code radiotelegraph transmission. Inexpensive crystal detectors boomed the production of home-made and manufactured receivers. The advent of broadcasting aroused public interest in sets (at first battery operated) to receive regular programs. Receiving sets operated by house current came on the market about 1928. A 1948 development called the "transistor" has replaced tubes in many sets.

Call letters: International agreement provides for the national identification of a radio station by the first letter or first two letters of its assigned call signal, and for this purpose apportions the alphabet among different nations. United States stations use the initial letters K, N, and W, exclusively, and part of the A series. Broadcast stations are assigned call letters beginning with K or W. Generally speaking, those beginning with K are assigned to stations west of the Mississippi River and in the territories and possessions, while W is assigned to broadcast stations east of the Mississippi.

During radio's infancy, most of the broadcast stations were in the East. As inland stations developed, the Mississippi River was made the dividing line of K and W calls. KDKA Pittsburgh was assigned the K letter before the present system was put into effect. Most of the early broadcast assignments were three letters. This combination became exhausted, making it necessary to add a fourth letter.

Since many am broadcast licensees also operate fm and tv stations, a common practice is to authorize the use of the call letters of the am station followed by a dash and "fm" or "tv," as the case may be.

National defense: Under the CONELRAD system for the control of electromagnetic radiation in war emergency, all fm and tv stations would cease operation on a radio "alert" and remain silent until the "all clear" signal was given. However, designated am stations woul dremain on the air to broadcast official bulletins, civil defense instructions and other pertinent information. This would be done on two particular frequencies—640 and 1240 kilocycles—in a way to conceal the location of the transmitting stations and so prevent their beams from guiding enemy aircraft and electronic missiles. Meanwhile, CONELRAD broadcast facilities have been put to peacetime use for alerting communities and areas to threats of hurricanes, tornadoes, floods, and other acts of nature which endanger lives and property.

BROADCAST OPERATION

Since radio frequencies differ, the particular qualities of each radio band must be considered in determining the type of service which can best operate on it. Consequently, that portion of the radio spectrum between 535 and 1605 kilocycles is occupied by am broadcast, fm broadcast is allocated 88 to 108 megacycles, and tv is provided for in 54-216 megacycles (vhf) and 470-890 megacycles (uhf). (A "kilocycle" denotes a thousand wave transmissions a second, while a "megacycle" is a short way of indicating a thousand kilocycles.)

Fm broadcast requires a channel 20 times wider than that used for am, but tv transmission of combined picture and sound needs about 6 times the spectrum space occupied by the entire am broadcast band.

The same aural or video broadcast channel can be used in different places if the using stations are far enough apart so as to not cause excessive interference with one another or to stations on adjacent channels. A tv station may be required to operate "offset" 10 kilocycles above or below its normal carrier frequency. The channel assigned to such a station is, in consequence, designated "plus" or "minus," as the case may be. This makes more tv assignments possible and reduces the probability of interference.

A separate information bulletin on "Frequency Allocation" is available from the Commission.

HOW RADIO WORKS

Without being too technical, here is how an aural (am or fm) broadcast station works:

A person talks into a microphone as if it were a telephone. His voice sets up vibrations of varying intensity and frequency. The lower the pitch the slower the vibration.

In the microphone these vibrations are converted into electrical impulses like those in the originating sound. At the transmitting station these electrical vibrations are greatly amplified—sometimes millions of times—before being put on the "carrier" wave. The intensity and frequency of the carrier wave are constant and this wave, by itself, does not transmit music or speech. So it is varied to correspond with the fluctuations of the speech or music received at the microphone. This is called "modulation."

In am broadcast the audio waves are impressed on the carrier wave in a manner to cause its amplitude (or power) to vary with the audio waves. The frequency of the carrier remains constant. This is known as "amplitude modulation." In "frequency modulation" (fm), the amplitude remains unchanged but the frequency is varied in a manner corresponding to the voice or music to be transmitted.

These modulated waves radiate from the antenna tower at approximately 186,000 miles per second (the speed of light). Some of them follow the contour of the ground and are called "ground waves." Others dart upward and are called "skywaves." Skywaves are often forced back to earth by a ceiling of electrical particles known as the ionosphere. This rebound gives the listener a choice of more distant am stations at night. Daytime reception is largely dependent upon ground waves.

Radio waves may pass through buildings and other objects but are subject to absorption and interference. As in the case of ripples on water, radio vibrations weaken with distance. Seasonal disturbances and sunspot periods can throw them off their course and cause "freak" reception.

Am broadcast stations use "medium waves." That is, they transmit 540,000 to 1,600,000 waves a second. At 540,000 waves a second, the distance between the crests is approximately 1,800 ft. This is known as "wave length." A station transmitting 540,000 waves a second is said to have a "frequency" of 540,000 cycles or 540 kilocycles.

The so-called "shortwave" (long distance) broadcast stations transmit from 6,000,000 to 25,000,000 waves per second. These waves are sent out one after another so rapidly that the distance between their crests (wave length) is only about 37 to 150 ft.

The modulated radio wave from the radio station is picked up by the home receiving antenna (exterior or set-inclosed). In other words, the wave sets up in the receiving antenna a current having the same frequency characteristics as the one transmitted. In the receiver the audio and carrier waves are separated by a device called a detector or demodulator. The carrier wave, no longer needed, is dissipated while the audio wave is relayed to the loud speaker where it is transformed back into the sound that you hear.

Relays

Relay broadcast depends upon common carrier or private interconnecting facilities. Most live-talent am network programs are sent over telephone wires, many across the continent, for rebroadcast. Am and fm stations also use transcriptions (recordings), and tv stations show many films, "kinescope" and tape recordings. Broadcast stations usually employ wire connections between studios and transmitters, but some use radio (see "Auxiliary Broadcast Services").

Besides being transmitted over wire, cable or microwave facilities, broadcast programs can be picked out of the air for rebroadcast. Because of its characteristics, tv cannot be sent over ordinary wire lines but must depend upon coaxial cable or microwave relay, which can also handle am and fm transmission, as well as telephone, telegraph and facsimile communication.

Transmitting antennas

In the interest of safety to air navigation, broadcast transmitting antennas more than 500 feet high require regional approval by the Air Coordinating Committee before they can be constructed. All transmitting antennas exceeding 170 feet in height must be painted and lighted. The advent of tv (which, roughly, has a theoretical range of as far as can be seen from the top of the transmitting antenna) has produced many towering shafts. One of these (KSWS-TV Roswell, N. Mex.) rises 1,610 feet above ground, making it the tallest man-made structure in the world, and others up to around 2,000 feet are proposed. To further minimize hazard to air traffic, shared use of towers in excess of 500 feet or grouping them on "antenna farms," where possible, is advocated.

Directional Antennas

Directional antennas are devices which enable radio stations to control their service patterns. As broadcast stations began to multiply on shared channels, it became necessary to employ directional antennas to prevent interference. Since 1937, directional antennas have been one factor in helping new stations squeeze into the congested am broadcast band. Directional antenna arrays can produce "figure 8" and more complicated service patterns. One complex array includes nine towers. Directional antennas are used also in international communications and microwave relay to beam transmissions to particular points. A few fm and tv stations now use directional antennas.

Am Broadcasting

Amplitude modulation (am) is the oldest system of program transmission. Besides being used in the standard broadcast band it also is employed in most long-distance shortwave broadcast as well as for the visual part of tv programs.

The 535 to 1605 kilocycles portion of the radio spectrum is now used for am broadcast. This pioneer service started operation on the lower frequencies and, as a result, has continued to occupy the band in which it developed.

The am broadcast band consists of 107 channels, each 10 kilocycles in width. Individual stations are assigned to frequencies in the center of each channel, such as 540 kilocycles, 550 kilocycles, etc.

Am broadcast stations use power of from 100 watts up to 50 kilowatts (50,000 watts). The latter is the present maximum power prescribed by the Commission for this service.

There are four major classes of am stations.

A Class I station operates on a clear channel and employs 10,000, 25,000 or 50,000 watts to serve remote rural areas as well as a large center of population.

A Class II station is a secondary station which operates on a clear channel with 250, 500, 1,000, 5,000, 10,000, 25,000 or 50,000 watts. It serves a population center and an adjacent rural area, and is so operated to not interfere with the extensive services rendered by dominant clear channel stations.

A Class III station, which shares a regional channel with several similar stations, uses power of 500, 1,000 or 5,000 watts and serves a center of population and adjacent rural area.

A Class IV station operates on a local channel (shared by many similar stations elsewhere) and employs not less than 100 watts, nor more than 250 watts nighttime, and 1 kilowatt daytime for local service.

"Clear channels" are set apart by international agreement for the operation of maximum-powered am stations to serve remote rural areas. The other channels are shared by so many regional and local stations that people living outside populous communities must at night depend largely upon the strong signals of distant clear channel stations which are protected against night-time interference.

Fm Broadcasting

Fm (frequency modulation) has several advantages over the older am (amplitude modulation). Fm has higher fidelity characteristics and is more free of static, fading and background overlapping of other station programs.

Fm's greater tonal range capability is due primarily to the fact that it uses a wider channel than that employed for am broadcast. Then, too, fm occupies a higher portion of the radio spectrum where there is less static and other noise than at lower frequencies. Fm receivers have the peculiar ability to suppress weaker stations and other interference.

Since the frequencies on which fm operates do not ordinarily reflect back to earth from ionospheric layers ("skywaves"), it is possible for many scattered fm stations to use the same frequency without excessive interference with one another. Most fm stations serve areas within a radius of approximately 35 to 75 miles, although high powered fm stations sometimes reach out 100 miles or more. Low-power stations have a limited local coverage.

Fm and am broadcast do not interfer with each other since they are on widely separated bands. Because of the difference in their spectrum locations and the systems used, fm cannot be heard on am receivers without special adapters. Likewise, am broadcast cannot be heard on sets made to receive fm exclusively. However, combination sets cover both bands and systems.

The principle of frequency modulation has long been known but its advantages for broadcasting were not realized until shortly before World War II. Largely as a result of interest evoked by extensive fm development work by Edwin H. Armstrong in the 1930's, the Commission authorized increased fm experimentation and, in 1940, after extensive public hearings, provided for commercial fm operation to start Jan. 1, 1941. It set apart 35 channels for commercial fm and 5 channels for noncommercial educational fm use.

There was no "first" individual commercial fm grant because, on Oct. 31, 1940, the Commission authorized construction permits to 15 such stations simultaneously. By the end of 1940 the number of authorizations had increased to 25. The first commercial fm station licensed by the Commission was WSM-FM Nashville (May 29, 1941), which operated until 1951.

Fm stations were initially assigned call letters with added numerals, but in 1943 the present letter system was adopted. There is optional use of the suffix "FM" to distinguish fm stations from am stations under joint operation.

Though all radio construction was frozen by World War II, more than 40 prewar fm stations continued to serve some 400,000 receivers.

Because of skywave interference experienced on the then fm band of 42-50 megacycles, the Commission in 1945, after public hearing, moved fm to its present higher and less vulnerable position in the radio spectrum—88 to 108 megacycles—and at the same time increased the number of channels to 100. This provided 80 channels for commercial fm and 20 channels for nonprofit educational broadcast (see "Educational Broadcast").

Fm commercial stations are of two classes: Class A for community service and Class B for metropolitan or rural coverage.

Commercial fm stations are licensed for unlimited time operation and are required to program a minimum of 36 hours a week.

Fm stations associated with am stations may use the same programs. In other words, am programs can be duplicated over fm stations, or vice versa. Some fm stations rebroadcast the programs of other fm stations and thereby form regional networks apart from those using wire relay facilities. Likewise, a number of am stations pick up fm programs for rebroadcast, as well as am programs of other stations.

The peak year for commercial fm was 1948, when more than 1,000 such authorizations were outstanding.

To aid fm broadcasters, the Commission in 1955 enabled them to apply for subsidiary authorizations to engage in certain types of nonbroadcast activities typified by "functional (background) music" operations. This service is tailored to business and other subscribers. Multiplex operation permits the transmission of a different program at the same time as the regular program. The former is received on special sets in stores, factories, etc. of subscribers.

The first subsidiary grants were made simultaneously on Oct. 12, 1955, to WPEN-FM Philadelphia and WWDC-FM Washington, D. C.

HOW TV WORKS

Television broadcasting involves transmission of visual and aural programs so synchronized that at the receiving set they are seen and heard in a manner resembling talking motion pictures.

The picture phase is accomplished by sending a rapid succession of electrical impluses which the receiver transforms into scenes and images. The method is complex, but the following is a brief explanation of monochrome (black-and-white) video operation.

The scene to be televised is focused on a special tube in the television camera which has a small "screen" covered with approximately 367,000 microscopic dots of a special substance. This "screen" can be likened to a tiny motion picture screen and is called a "mosaic." The varying light from each part of the scene being televised falls upon these dots and charges them with an electrical charge the strength of which depends upon the amount of light falling upon the individual dots. Thus each dot becomes a tiny storage battery and the scene is formed in a pattern of electrical charges on the mosaic.

The face of the tube is coated with a material which fluoresces or gives off light at the point where it is struck by the electron beam. In the absence of a television signal the whole face of the picture tube is illuminated equally by a series of closely spaced horizontal lines. When a television signal is placed on the grid of the picture tube it controls the strength of the electron beam and hence the amount of light on the face of the tube. If the scanning of the electron beam in the picture tube is kept in perfect step with the scanning of the electron beam in the television camera, the picture tube will reproduce the lights and shadows of the subject scene and the succession of such scenes produces the illusion of motion.

In brief, the picture seen by the viewer is actually produced by a flickering spot of light moving rapidly across and down the face of the picture tube. The viewer sees the "whole" picture because the screen continues to glow for a tiny fraction of a second after the electron beam has passed, which coupled with the retentive ability of the eye creates the illusion that the picture is there all the time. The high rate of repetition minimizes flicker and lends smoothness to motion.

The tv transmitter is, in effect, two separate units. One sends out the picture and the other the sound. Visual transmission is by amplitude modulation (am). The sound portion employs frequency modulation (fm) and operates much like the regular fm broadcast described elsewhere in this primer.

In addition to live studio presentations, television uses films. The latter include "kinescope" recordings, a rapid filming process which makes it possible to show scenes of events soon after they occur. Magnetic wire and magnetic tape, which would carry both picture and sound, are now being used as a means of tv programming.

HOW TV BEGAN

Many persons in many lands contributed to the development of television. Like radio, tv was made possible by electronic discoveries in the late 19th century and early 20th century. In 1884 Nipkow, a German, patented a scanning disk for transmitting pictures by wireless. In our own country, Jenkins began his study of the subject about 1890. Rignoux and Fournier conducted "television" experiments in France in the 1900's. In 1915 Marconi predicted "visible telephone." In 1923 Zworykin applied for a patent on the iconoscope (tv camera tube). Two years later Jenkins demonstrated mechanical tv apparatus. There were experiments by Alexanderson, Farnsworth and Baird in 1926-1927. An experimental tv program was sent by wire between New York and Washington by the Bell Telephone Labs in 1927, in which Herbert Hoover, then Secretary of Commerce, participated. The next year the same laboratories experimentally televised outdoor programs.

The Federal Radio Commission (predecessor of the FCC) reported that "a few" broadcast stations were experimenting with video in 1928. In that year, WGY Schenectady experimentally broadcast the first drama by tv. Large-screen tv was demonstrated by RCA at a New York theater in 1930, and RCA tested outdoor tv pickup at Camden, N. J., in 1936.

Seventeen experimental tv stations were operating in 1937. An experimental mobile tv station was placed in operation that year. The first President seen on tv was Franklin D. Roosevelt, when he opened the New York World's Fair in 1939. That year also saw the first telecast major league baseball game, college football game and professional boxing match. In 1940 the Republican and Democratic conventions were televised, that of the former making pioneer use of coaxial cable for long distance tv relay purposes. Previously, in the same year, WNBT New York and WRGB Schenectady were joined by radio relay for a rebroadcast test.

Meanwhile, in 1939, the Milwaukee Journal filed the first application to broadcast tv programs on a commercial basis. At a hearing in 1940, the FCC found the industry divided on the question of whether tv was ready for commercial use and at odds on engineering standards. At that time various tv systems required different receivers. A National Television System Committee considered standardization and reported in 1941. Subsequent Commission hearings showed the industry to be in substantial agreement on commercialization and standards. The latter fixed the present line and frame frequencies at 525 and 30 respectively. On April 30, 1941, the Commission authorized commercial tv operation to start July 1 of that year.

Meanwhile, a number of tv stations which had been operating experimentally applied for commercial authorization. The first grant looking to regular tv operation was issued to WNBT (TV) New York on June 17, 1941, effective July 1 of that year. On June 24, 1941, WCBW (now WCBS-TV) New York was authorized to commence program tests July 1 thereafter. By May of 1942, 10 commercial tv stations were on the air. Six of these continued to provide service during the war.

In 1945 the Commission allocated 13 vhf (very high frequency) channels between 44 and 216 megacycles for commercial television. In doing so, it pointed out that there was insufficient spectrum space below 300 megacycles for an adequate nationwide and competitive tv broadcasting system. Twelve of these channels were to be shared with certain nonbroadcast (fixed and mobile) services. At the same time, that portion of the uhf (ultra high frequency) spectrum between 480 and 920 megacycles was made available for experimental tv operation looking to future television expansion, and between 1245 and 1325 megacycles for tv relay.

In 1948, because of interference to commercial tv operation, the Commission stopped the sharing of television vhf channels with other services, and deleted tv channel No. 1 (44-50 mc) by assigning it to the nonbroadcast services affected.

THE TV FREEZE

As predicted by the Commission in 1945, it became increasingly evident that the few available vhf channels were inadequate to provide a truly nationwide competitive tv service. Also, operating stations developed interference which had not been anticipated when tv broadcasting began. As a result, the Commission on Sept. 30, 1948, stopped granting new tv stations pending a study of the situation. This was the so-called television "freeze" order.

The resultant study showed that, before additional stations could be authorized, it was necessary to determine various engineering and other questions which would govern future tv operation. Consequently, on July 11, 1949, the Commission proposed comprehensive changes looking to the improvement and extension of tv service. These included new engineering standards; opening uhf channels for tv broadcasting; consideration of color systems; reservation of channels for noncommercial educational use, and a national assignment plan incorporating vhf and uhf channels.

The color question was the first subject considered because up to the actual hearing it had not been determined if color could operate in the same channel width (six megacycles) used for black-and-white tv transmission.

Color Tv

In color television a brightness component is transmitted in much the same manner as the black-and-white picture signal is sent in monochrome and, in addition, a color component is transmitted at the same time on a "subcarrier" frequency which is located between the visual and aural carrier frequencies.

Color tv had been the subject of study and experimentation for a quarter of a century. In 1928 Baird, in England, demonstrated an early system. The next year color pictures were sent over wire in a test at the Bell Telephone Labs in New York. RCA gave an experimental color tv demonstration in February 1940, and CBS tested color tv broadcast the following August.

The question of color tv was considered initially by the FCC in 1941 when it proposed alternative standards for monochrome and color. In 1945 it allocated certain uhf frequencies for experimentation in developing color and high definition black-and-white tv. It was not until 1946 that it received a formal proposal for the adoption of color. In denying that CBS petition in 1947, the Commission urged further experimentation with particular reference to making color transmission possible in the 6-megacycle band width used by monochrome tv.

Three competitive color systems were offered for Commission consideration in the general tv proceedings which started in 1949. They were the CBS "field sequential" system, the RCA "dot sequential" system and the Color Television Inc. "line sequential" system. Each of these systems would require special or converted sets to receive color. The CBS system could not be received in black-and-white on existing receivers without adapters; the two others claimed they could.

On the basis of testimony and demonstrations, the Commission on Sept. 1, 1950, found that the field sequential system was the only system then presented which met its criteria for color operation. However, in view of the fact that this system could not be received in monochrome on existing receivers, and the possibility of improvements in tv color systems generally, the Commission proposed postponing a color decision and adopting monochrome "bracket standards" which would enable future black-and-white tv sets incorporating those standards to receive color transmissions in black-and-white. This proposal was conditioned upon receiver manufacturers agreeing to equip new tv sets with a switch and an appropriate circuit for that purpose.

But the response from manufacturers was insufficient and, in accordance with its September announcement, the Commission on Oct. 11, 1950, adopted the field sequential system for color tv broadcasting to become effective Nov. 20 thereafter. In so doing, it held the door open for consideration of development of a better system on the basis of practical tests and actual demonstrations.

Start of commercial color broadcasting was delayed when RCA obtained a preliminary injunction in the U. S. District Court at Chicago. On May 28, 1951, the Supreme Court of the United States upheld the validity of the Commission's action and CBS began limited color broadcasts on June 25 of that year. Because of the materials shortage, the National Production Authority on the following Nov. 20 prohibited the manufacture of color tv sets or attachments for general public use, and interest in the field sequential system lagged.

Thereafter, new tv color standards were developed and advocated by the industry through its National Television System Committee. They were adopted by the Commission on Dec. 17, 1953.

These present standards are based on the "simultaneous" system, which transmits three primary colors (red, green and blue) at one and the same time. They are "compatible" in that they enable existing tv sets to receive color broadcasts in black and white. Color sets are necessary to receive colorcasts in color. Color sets can also receive monochrome transmissions.

On April 14, 1952, the Commission (in its Sixth Report and Order) announced the lifting of the tv "freeze," the addition of 70 uhf channels (between 470-890 megacycles) to the 12 vhf channels (between 54-216 megacyles) then in use, and the adoption of a table making more than 2,000 channel assignments (over 1,400 uhf and over 500 vhf) to nearly 1,300 communities throughout the United States and its territories, including 242 assignments for noncommercial educational use.

The minimum effective radiated visual power of tv stations is fixed at 100 watts. No minimum antenna height above average terrain is specified. Tv stations operate in accordance with tables of maximum power which varies with antenna height. Maximum effective radiated power on vhf channels 2-6 is fixed at 100 kilowatts, on vhf channels 7-13 at 316 kilowatts and on uhf channels 14-83 at 5,000 kilowatts. With very high antennas these powers are reduced.

Station separations are determined by three geographic zones. Minimum co-channel separations are 170 miles for vhf channels and 155 miles for uhf channels in Zone I, which encompasses the entire states of Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New Jersey, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Delaware, District of Columbia, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, and parts of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, New York, Virginia, West Virginia, Michigan and Wisconsin.

Minimum co-channel separations are 190 miles for vhf and 175 miles for uhf in Zone II, which includes the territories and possessions and the entire states of Kentucky, Tennessee, North Carolina, South Carolina, Missouri, Iowa, Minnesota, Arkansas, Kansas, Nebraska, Oklahoma, North Dakota, South Dakota, Utah, Idaho, Arizona, New Mexico, Montana, Wyoming, Nevada, Colorado, Oregon, Washington and California, and parts of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, New York, Virginia, West Virginia, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Michigan, Wisconsin and Texas.

Minimum co-channel separations are 220 miles for vhf and 205 miles for uhf in Zone III, which includes Florida and parts of Georgia, Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi and Texas.

The first commercial tv grants following the lifting of the freeze were made July 11, 1952, simultaneously, to three Denver stations—KFEL-TV, KDEN (TV) and KBTV (TV). KFEL-TV began program operation on July 19 thereafter. The first uhf commercial tv station to go on the air was KPTV (TV) Portland, Ore., on Sept. 20, 1952.

The initial commercial grant to the territories and possessions was made on July 23, 1952, to WKAQ-TV San Juan, Puerto Rico.

Being in a higher part of the spectrum, uhf television broadcasts cannot be received on vhf sets without changes in the set or the addition of an adapter. Sets are, however, available which will receive both vhf and uhf stations. In many cases, uhf reception requires some slight changes in home antennas which were installed for vhf use, or may require a new antenna and a more efficient type of antenna lead in.

Tv stations engaged in commercial operation are required normally to broadcast a minimum of 28 hours a week except in their initial stages when there is a graduated scale starting with 12 hours.

Steps taken by the Commission to bring tv to new areas include authorizing "satellite" stations to rebroadcast the programs of mother stations, and "translator" stations to pick up and rebroadcast the programs of outside stations. Satellites operate on vhf and uhf channels assigned to the communities in which they are located; translators operate on the upper 14 uhf channels.

In April 1959 the Commission recommended that Congress amend the Communications Act to permit the licensing of tv "repeater" stations in the vhf band under certain conditions.

As early as 1950, the Commission authorized experimentation of toll tv. This involves the transmission of special programs in scrambled form to subscribers with decoding devices. In 1957 the Commission looked toward considering applications by tv stations to test subscription tv service under certain conditions. But, in view of resolutions by two Congressional committees, it deferred further action until March 23, 1959, when it announced that it would consider such applications under more restricted conditions.

In many fringe areas, community antenna tv systems pick tv programs from the air and feed them to the homes of local subscribers. The Commission does not license these or other closed-circuit tv operations. They do not broadcast over the air but depend upon cable to reach their customers. The Commission can, however, require such wired-tv systems to remedy any interference they may cause to licensed radio communication services.

Unlike am networking, which is possible over ordinary telephone wires, tv requires special relay facilities. Network tv operation is made possible in large measure by the development of coaxial cable and microwave relay facilities. As early as 1937 motion pictures were televised and sent over the coaxial cable link between New York and Philadelphia. Network operation was begun by WNBT New York; WRGB Schenectady, and WPTZ Philadelphia, in 1944. Regular coaxial cable tv relay service was inaugurated between Washington and New York in 1946. The following year, microwave relay extended this service to Boston. A midwestern relay system, opened in 1948, was joined with the eastern system in 1949. The first link in the transcontinental relay system was opened between New York and Chicago in 1950. It was extended to San Francisco the following year and, on September 4, 1951, carried telecasts of the Japanese peace treaty conference. Most tv network relay is over the coaxial cable and microwave facilities of the telephone system. There is some private microwave tv relay.

Uhf Problems

Economic and technical problems have impeded further utilization of the uhf channels. In addition to the normal tv cost factor, they are caused, chiefly, by the large number of vhf-only receivers in use and which continue to be manufactured; certain performance deficiencies of uhf, and the consequent preference of program and revenue sources for vhf outlets.

In 1956 the Commission outlined a long-range and interim plan to promote comparable tv facilities as a means of extending tv service throughout the nation. It invited comments on the possibility of ultimately shifting all or a major portion of tv operation to the uhf band and, at the same time, enlisted the cooperation of industry in a research and development study to increase the range and coverage of uhf stations. Meanwhile, it increased the maximum power of uhf stations, has made certain areas all-uhf and increased tv competition in others, and has taken other steps to put uhf and vhf operation on a more competitive basis.

EDUCATIONAL BROADCASTING

Educational institutions were among the pioneers in experimental broadcasting, and held a considerable proportion of the early am licenses.

By 1925, educational groups had 171 such licenses. For various reasons, notably the increased competition from commercial broadcasting, most of these stations were off the air when the Federal Communications Commission was created. However, about 35 educational stations still operate in the am broadcast band, a score of them on a voluntary noncommercial basis.

As directed by Sec. 307(c) of the Communications Act, the Commission made a study of the proposal that Congress should allocate fixed percentages of radio facilities for particular types of nonprofit radio programs and activities, including education. On Jan. 22, 1935, the Commission recommended that no such statutory allocation be made at that time. It held that there was "no need for a change in the existing law to accomplish the helpful purposes of the proposal," but recognized the need for extending broadcasting to education and expressed its intention "actively to assist the determination of the rightful place of broadcasting in education and to see that it is used in that place."

To further the development of noncommercial educational broadcasting, the Commission in 1938 set aside certain am channels between 41 and 42 megacycles for the exclusive use of educational institutions. Due, however, to the inability of the normal radio set to receive broadcasts on these frequencies, only a few educational institutions secured licenses for such operation. Those which did later changed to frequency modulation operation when provision was made for fm educational broadcasting.

When regular fm broadcasting was authorized to start in 1941, five channels between 42 and 43 megacycles were allocated for noncommercial educational use, in lieu of the educational am facilities previously provided.

In 1945, as part of an extensive revision of frequency allocations, the Commission reserved 20 fm channels between 88 and 92 megacycles for noncommercial educational fm stations. This educational portion of the fm band is contiguous to that containing the commercial fm stations and present fm receivers are capable of tuning in both noncommercial and commercial stations within range. The number of these noncommercial educational fm stations has grown slowly but steadily.

In 1948 the Commission authorized low power (10 watt) operation on these educational fm channels. With such low power equipment easily installed and operated, schools may begin broadcasting to a limited area of from two to five miles in radius for an outlay of a few thousand dollars. Higher power equipment may be added when desired. In 1951, as a further aid, the Commission authorized remote control operation of low-power educational fm stations.

In 1950 the Commission reserved a noncommercial educational frequency for the use of the United Nations.

Stations in the educational fm broadcast service are licensed principally to school systems, colleges and universities for furnishing educational programs to teachers and students, as well as for public educational and entertainment purposes.

The Commission, for the first time, allocated tv facilities for exclusive noncommercial educational use as a result of its lengthy study of this question in the general television proceedings (discussed under "Tv Broadcast"). The Commission determined therein that "the need for noncommercial educational stations has been amply demstrated"; that "the record shows the desire and ability of education to make a substantial contribution to the use of television"; that "the actual process of formulating plans and of enacting necessary legislation or of making adequate financing available is one which will generally require more time for educational organizations than for commercial interests . . . and that to insure an extensive rather than a sparse and haphazard development of educational television, channels must be reserved by the Commission at this time." Consequently, in its Sixth Report and Order of April 14, 1952, the Commission made channel assignments to 242 communities exclusively for noncommercial educational purposes. Forty-six of these were made to "primarily educational centers." Of the total of 242 channels then assigned, 80 were vhf and 162 were uhf. There have since been additional assignments.

The Commission expects educational tv licensees to make their station facilities available to other local educational institutions, since such assignments are made to serve the educational and cultural needs of the community. Except in particular cases, tv educational eligibility is not extended to municipal authorities in places where an independent educational authority—such as a board of education—is established. Although there is no requirement that noncommercial educational stations broadcast a specified minimum number of hours, commercial and educational television stations are both subject to the same tv service requirements, such as station separation, antenna height and power, etc.

The first non-commercial educational tv grant was made July 23, 1952, to the Kansas State College of Agriculture and Applied Science (KSAC-TV) at Manhattan, Kan. The first such station to go on the air was KUHT Houston, Texas, May 25, 1953; and the first one licensed was WCET Cincinnati, Ohio, March 11, 1955.

Several colleges and universities hold commercial tv authorizations. Many schools have closed-circuit tv systems linking classrooms for instructional purposes.

INTERNATIONAL BROADCASTING

Under international agreement, certain high frequency bands are allocated for broadcasts directed between nations.

Authorizations for non-Government international broadcast stations located in the United States are issued by the Federal Communications Commission. A single grant usually authorizes use of a number of frequencies between 5950 and 26,100 kilocycles as well as several transmitters. This is because of seasonal and other considerations in broadcasting different programs to different parts of the world at the same time. The minimum power for international broadcast stations under Commission jurisdiction is 50 kilowatts.

During World War II, our international broadcast stations were taken over by the Office of War Information and the Office of Inter-American Affairs of the Dept. of State which operated and programmed them in the interest of the war effort.

"The Voice of America" is the title given to the programs now sent out daily, in many languages, to various parts of the world by shortwave transmitters under the auspices of the United States Information Agency. Transmission is by amplitude modulation.

AUXILIARY BROADCAST SERVICES

The Commission authorizes several classes of auxiliary broadcast stations for live "pick up" and speeding programs of outside origin to studios, or from studios to transmitters. A brief description of these adjuncts follows:

Remotes: Remote pickup stations are employed by aural and video stations for "on-the-spot" coverage of news and other events.

STLs: Studio-transmitter links are used to transmit aural and tv programs from studios to remote transmitters. Because a tv station's coverage depends to a large extent upon the height of its antenna, the latter is often located on a mountain some distance from the studio.

Relays: Intercity relay stations are utilized by some tv stations, usually remote from common carrier facilities, to carry programs between stations by microwave.

Also, cueing transmitters are used in broadcast studios to direct performers who wear hidden miniature receivers.

EXPERIMENTAL BROADCAST SERVICES

Experimental broadcast stations test new techniques and develop broadcast equipment. Information obtained from this experimentation and research helps the industry to evolve and improve equipment and methods and also provides the Commission with useful information about new developments. Because of their temporary nature, the number of these authorizations fluctuates.

Major trends, events — 1959-1960

Here are brief references, grouped by subject, to some of the major new stories appearing in BROADCASTING—The Businessweekly of Television and Radio, during the period July 1959 through June 1960. Dates refer to issues of BROADCASTING in which the stories appeared.

Advertiser-Broadcaster Relations

Inquiry into adv practices by Congress and govt agencies brought about a re-examination of the relationships between advertisers, agencies and bcstrs, particularly in the field of program control. Agencies testify that bcstrs should control programming—7/13/60; tv networks will control 80% of programs in fall—5/16/60

With focus of attention on misleading advertising practices, good taste also came in for close attention. NAB Tv Code Board continued its crackdown on personal products advertisers—8/24/59 (such as Ban—1/25/60, 2/15/60)

Auto mfgrs plan heavy use of radio for new models—9/7/59

The year also held a normal quota of matters unconnected with quiz and payola scandals and govt probes of adv practices. Long sought technique for forecasting adv sales results is just around the corner, B&B's Casey asserted—10/5/59

Insurance firms are big network spenders—7/20/59; blanket comparisons of newspaper and tv circulations are misleading, TvB states—8/24/59; BBDO's study of daytime tv brings more use by agency's clients—9/14/59

Low exposure cost of network radio leads insurance co to buy CBS documentary series—10/12/59

TvB predicts tv will replace newspapers as leading gasoline medium—10/12/59

RAB offers $20,000 to help oil co test radio campaign designed to dominate auto audience—10/19/59

Researcher Schwerin blames "buying by the numbers" for program ills—10/19/59

JWT's Johnson argues advertisers must spend more so consumers can have more—10/26/59

C-E's Adams warns poor summer programming can harm tv—10/26/59

NAB Tv Code Review Board studies deceit in tv comls—11/2/59

Rep. Brooks (D-Conn) suggests that advertisers be forbidden to have any say in programming—11/2/59

Bcstrs should control programming, but advertisers and agencies should "exert a strong influence" on program selection, McC-E pres Harper states—11/16/59

M-C-E tv/radio head Clyne favors some advertiser control—11/23/59

Bcstrs meet with FTC to establish closer liaison to guard against false adv—11/30/59

Jaguar urges dealers to use spot radio—11/30/59

Y&R's Larmon suggests citizens advisory committee—12/7/59

Grey's Hollender urges public program criticism by networks—12/14/59

Agency execs predict investigations will result in better programs, comls—12/28/59, 1/4/60

BBDO's Foreman sees new shape for tv emerging—12/28/59

Witnesses at FCC hearing differ sharply on right of sponsor to control programming—1/11/60

BROADCASTING survey finds many agencies unwilling to yield program control but feel some divorcement from programming might work—1/18/60

AAAA copy code seen as adequate without change—1/25/60

ANA adopts three-point program to meet crisis in adv—2/8/60

NBC's Sarnoff calls on advertisers to help improve tv programs, comls—2/8/60

AFA organizes clearing house for adv-marketing data—2/8/60

Automation

Automation equipment for studio use gets better, more plentiful, BROADCASTING survey shows—2/15/60); cuts manpower and maintenance costs, NAB convention exhibits reveal—4/11/60

Allocations

Division of radio spectrum between govt and private users and of allocating authority between White House and FCC continued to be a mater of discussion and dispute Rep Harris (D-Ark) proposed a super frequency board to control the entire spectrum—8/3/59
Communications between earth and outer space improved technically, increasing pressure for allocation of frequencies for this purpose. Problem was studied at world spectrum meeting in Geneva—8/10/59; action by Congress was hoped for—11/23/59
FCC reports good start toward exchange of channels with military wihch might make more vhf bands available for tv (8/3/59), but channel chances looked slim by February (2/8/60) and after OCDM had studied FCC proposals (4/11/60) and Adm Burke said swap would imperil national defense (5/30/60), an official turndown was anticipated—6/27/60
Clear channel stations continued their battle to remain that way as FCC proposed to open their channels up for duplicate service—7/27/59, 9/28/59, 2/22/60, 4/4/60
20-year-old battle over 770 kc refuses to die as as ABC loses appeal—9/7/59 and KOB Albuquerque aplies for facilities of WABC New York—2/29/60
Daytime stations also had their troubles as FCC rejects DBA plan for longer hours on air—7/6/59; DBA takes fight to Congress—4/11/60; FCC announces new sign-off rule—4/25/60; DBA petitions FCC for emergency operations rule—5/2/60, and asks Congress to grant more bcstng hours in face of opposition of FCC, clear channel and regional stations—6/20/60
How to get better service out of tv's present set of frequencies was a continuing problem which the FCC, charged with stalling—9/21/59, attempted to solve in various ways. One to encourage development of uhf, as improved techniques make these bands more usable—9/28/59; FCC asks for funds for uhf study—11/30/59; so does President—1/25/60; New York test is planned—2/8/60, gets $2 million from Congress—4/18/60; is endorsed by New York—5/23/60; meanwwhile FCC prods dormant uhf CP grantees by cancelling some grants—5/2/60, demanding explanations from others—6/6/60
Another approach was an FCC proposal to reduce mileage between stations to permit more vhf's being dropped in—1/11/60, 2/1/60; engineering group attacks plan as based on faulty data—4/4/60; AMST denounces idea—4/11/60; FCC to use revised propagation curves—5/9/60; FCC finalizes rulemaking and drops in ch. 7 at Lauder, Wyo.—5/30/60; uhf operator objects—6/27/60
Cities with both vhf and uhf assignments presented another problem which FCC proposes to solve by adding more v's—7/20/59, but denies petition of KHEO(TV) Fresno to shift from ch 47 to ch 2—9/7/59 and proposes to make Fresno all uhf—5/23/60, perhaps Bakersfield—6/27/60

Boosters and Community Antenna Systems

Problems of serving would-be viewers beyond reach of tv stations, whether by boosters or by community antenna set-ups, kept bcstrs and catv operators busily lobbying and litigating. Bcstrs urge regulation of catv and legalization of vhf boosters at Senate Commerce subcommittee hearing—7/6/59; catv proponents have their say—7/13/59; Sen. Pastore (D-R.I.) promises new legislation—7/20/59
FCC suggests putting catv in a separate section of the Communications Act—8/10/59
Senate considers bills placing catv under direct FCC control—8/13/59; FCC Comr. Hyde calls problem "not insoluble"—9/7/59

Courtroom Access

It was another up-and-down year in the fight of radio-tv newsmen for equal access with pad-and-pencil reporters to courtrooms, council meetings and other public assemblies. There were no smashing victories, no staggering defeats and in the end Canon 35 (that cameras and microphones shall not be admitted into courtrooms) was still the rule of the American Bar Assn. Pleas that tv cameras invaded his privacy did not save Edward Hintz from a contempt citation by Congress following his refusal to testify before the Senate Banking Committee—7/6/59

Equal Time

Equal time for candidates for political office, guaranteed by Sec. 315 of the Communications Act, has in past permitted splinter candidates to harrass bcstrs and block time allotments to major candidates, so fight for revision before advent of 1960 presidential campaign was vigorously waged. Relief in hands of Congress—7/6/59; House communications subcommittee approves watered down amendment—7/13/59; Senate Commerce Committee adopts its own version—7/20/59; House Commerce Committee accepts it—7/27/59; Senate passes measure—8/3/59; House passes its version—8/24/59; both houses reconsider amended measure—8/3/59; both pass bill to remove news programs from equal time restrictions—9/7/59; President signs it into law—9/21/59; Federal Bar Assn. weighs significance—10/5/59

Senate moves to suspend Sec. 315 for presidential and vice presidential candidates, putting bcstrs on mettle to do fair job themselves—5/30/60, 6/6/60, 6/13/60, 6/27/60; meanwhile, Senate votes $35,000 for "watchdog" committee to look for abuses—6/20/60. (See Free time.)

Federal Communications Commission

FCC had a stormy year, buffeted by Congress for allowing the quiz and payola scandals to occur (See Programming), conducting its own investigations and pondering its own policies, with some aid from Congress, and changing chairmen midstream. FCC gets $10.5 million for 1960—9/21/59; Chmn Doerfer urges new approach to handling licenses —10/19/59; says FCC snowed under—1/4/60; FCC's "silver book" reviews body's 25 years —1/11/60

Doerfer raises question of FCC's role in judging programming—1/11/60

House Commerce Committee approves bill to continue FCC members in office until successors are ready to take over—6/20/60

The extent of FCC's authority to control broadcast programming, if indeed it has any at all, inevitably became a matter of hot contention following the quiz and payola program scandals. Need for FCC to determine its own position seen—8/31/59; commissioners disagree—10/26/59; definitive legislation looked for—11/9/59

Sen. Magnuson calls FCC, FTC ineffective—11/23/59

Former Comrs Fly and Durr says FCC not using power it has—12/21/59

Sen Proxmire urges drastic revision of FCC—1/4/60

Meanwhile, in its own sweeping hearings on all phases of radio-tv programming—12/7/59, the FCC hears views of educators, churchmen, civic leaders—12/14/59, 12/21/59; is surprised when some bcstrs urge it to exercise tighter control—1/18/60, 2/1/60, although others express different views—2/1/60, 2/8/60

Taking action, FCC asks Congress for right to suspend licenses, fine licensees—5/2/60; tells staff to prepare defense of right to examine programming—5/9/60; Chmn Ford tells bcstrs they need govt control—5/9/60; sets up new bureau, Office of Complaints and Compliance—5/9/60, 5/16/60, asks Congress for $300,000 to run it—5/23/60, starts it operating—6/6/60, gets $200,000—6/27/60

Subject of ex parte contacts between FCC and other govt agencies and those seeking grants or other favors from them continued hot. American Bar Assn. and Dept. of Justice urge passage of bill to ban these off-the-record dealings—7/27/59; Senate resumes hearings—11/16/59; FCC chmn Doerfer warns passage would challenge FCC decisions—11/23/59; Comr Ford asks for limitation in prohibition of contacts—3/14/60; FCBA asks "rule of reason"—3/21/60; ABA again urges legislation—4/11/60; Senate defeats bill—4/11/60; FCC proposes it be given power to ban ex parte in rule making when necessary —5/9/60; House Commerce Committee drafts new bill—6/13/60 which reaches House floor 6/27/60; Senate studies Carroll bill—6/13/60

Charges of improper approaches to FCC by approaches to FCC by applicants for tv grants led to remanding a number of grants for rehearing. Most prominent, Miami ch. 10, was back before FCC—5/9/60, 6/6/60 as trial of Richard Mack, who left FCC after accusations of favoritism in this grant, and Thurman Whiteside, who allegedly influenced Mr. Mack's vote, ends with split jury—7/13/59; after appeals to higher courts—10/5-59, 11/-9/59; 11/16/59, retrial is set—12/14/59, but postponed after Mack is sent to psychiatric institution—2/1/60, 2/15/60, 3/14/60, set to start—4/25/60 and again postponed&5/2/60; motion to dismiss is denied—6/27/60.

Other ex parte rehearings: Miami ch 7—6/6/60, 6/20/60, 6/27/60; St. Louis ch 2—7/6/59, 10/12/59, 12/14/59, 12/21/59, 2/1/60, 2/29/60, 3/14/60, 4/18/60; Boston ch 5—7/27/59, 9/-28/59, 11/16/59, 4/25/60; Spartansburg ch 7 2/22/60, 3/14/60

Improper influence was not an issue in the Albany-Rochester ch 10 hearing—8/31/59, 10/5/59, 5/30/60, until fact that five stockholders of winning applicant are Congressmen leads to denunciation of grant as "political payola"—6/27/60

*In 1948 FCC reported only "total revenues" (from time, talent and services) from "network programs" and from business "sold directly by stations." Hence figures for that first year of television financial reporting are not comparable with figures for time sales in ensuing years.

How much television programming is live, on film, on video tape?

Analyses of programming, based on questionnaire returns from U. S. television stations and networks, have been a continuing feature of BROADCASTING since 1953. The current year's statistics cover the week of June 5-11, 1960. The figures on video tape for the networks and stations have been introduced into the survey only for the latter years when video tape installations became of sufficient numbers to warrant consideration.

Prior to 1958, tv's growth fluctuated more and semi-annual surveys were conducted to pinpoint the trends. However, since then the total number of stations and hours of programming have become more stabilized, hence the survey has been changed to a once-a-year basis.

In comparing returns of network affiliates against non-network stations, consideration should be made for the fact that approximately 95% of the questionnaire returns are from network affiliates.

The radio and television audiences

Television and radio were in more U.S. homes than ever before in mid-summer 1960.

Some 87-88 percent of all U.S. homes had television sets—and were using them for an average of almost six hours a day per home, according to the latest information (see charts below).

More than 95 percent of all homes had radio sets— an average of three sets per U.S. home according to some authorities—and were using them for almost two hours a day per home, not counting time spent listening in cars and on beaches, at picnic grounds and other locations where portables are found.

There were two estimates of the number of tv-equipped homes, both showing gains from the 44.5 million total, 86 percent penetration figures reported a year earlier. A. C. Nielsen Co., source of the 1959 estimates, placed the January 1960 total for continental U. S. at 45.2 million television homes, or 87 percent of all homes. American Research Bureau, counting Alaska and Hawaii as well as continental U.S., estimated 46,019,980 tv homes, or 88 percent penetration.

Radio homes were estimated by Nielsen at 49.5 million—95.2 percent of all homes. The 49.5 million figure was the same one reported a year ago, but the lack of change in the figure does not necessarily mean that radio ownership was static. The Radio homes figure has been frozen at March 1959 levels because no authoritative set count has been made pending completion of the U.S. Census Bureau's definitive figures. These are expected to be available in 1961. ARB made no estimate of radio homes.

Radio Advertising Bureau estimated that the number of radio sets in working order totaled 156,394,000 as of Jan. 1, 1960. This represented a gain of more than 10 million from RAB's estimate of 146.2 million a year earlier. RAB estimated that the 1960 total was distributed as follows: 106,007,000 in homes; 40,387,000 in automobiles and 10,000,000 in public places.

All of the data in the charts and tables on this page and those immediately following was supplied by the Nielsen Company and its Nielsen Television Index (NTI) or Nielsen Radio Index (NRI), unless otherwise indicated. The material shows basic dimensions of both radio and television in terms of reach, audiences, high and low listening and viewing periods (both by hour of the day and season of the year), radio and television usage by county size and geographic region, and types of programming that command most viewer time.

SIZE OF THE BROADCAST AUDIENCE is spelled out in further detail in the three foregoing tables. Here the measurement is in terms of homes listening during an average minute. The county-size classifications are as follows: Class A, all counties assigned to metro areas having central cities with populations over 500,000; Class B, all other counties over 100,000 population, plus certain counties that are parts of metro areas whose central city has population less than 500,000; Class C, all other counties having population over 30,000; Class D, all remaining counties. ## LISTENING IN RADIO-ONLY vs. LISTENING IN TV HOMES

| | Mon.-Fri., 8 a.m.-12 noon Average Audience | | Mon.-Fri., 12 noon-6 p.m. Average Audience | | All nights, 6-11 p.m. Average Audience | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | % | (000) | % | (000) | % | (000) |
| All Homes Using Radio | 15.1 | 7,467 | 10.2 | 5,044 | 6.7 | 3,313 |
| Radio-Only Homes Using Radio | 16.8 | 687 | 15.5 | 614 | 13.9 | 556 |
| Tv Homes Using Radio | 15.0 | 6,780 | 9.8 | 4,430 | 6.1 | 2,757 |

HOW RADIO LISTENING DIFFERS IN TV HOMES. This table, based on Nielsen measurements in March-April 1960, gives the answer. It also shows the extent of radio listening in all radio homes, those with as well as those without tv, thus providing a norm with which to compare the extent of listening in the sub-categories.

RADIO LISTENING PER HOME PER DAY

| | 6 a.m.-12 noon | 12 noon-6 p.m. | 6 p.m.-6 a.m. | Total Hr. | Total Min. |

| Saturday | 41 mins. | 43 mins. | 33 mins. | 1 | 57 |
| Sunday | 30 mins. | 38 mins. | 25 mins. | 1 | 33 |

NUMBER OF HOMES TUNED TO RADIO, TV

IN-HOME AUDIENCES are shown in another way in the tables at right depicting number of homes tuned in per average minute of each daytime hour, Sunday through Saturday. At night the radio tune-in, over a full week, is 4.8 million homes in the average minute between 6 and 7 p.m.; 3.7 million at 7-8, 3.2 million at 8-9, 2.6 million at 9-10; 2.8 million at 10-11 and 2.5 million at 11-12 midnight. Figures are for NRI March-April 1960. Comparable nighttime figures for television are 22.3 million at 6-7, 28.1 million at 7-8, 31.0 million at 8-9, 30.8 million at 9-10, 25.1 million at 10-11, and 13.5 million at 11-12 midnight. Source: NTI March-April 1960.

LOOKING, LISTENING: SUMMER vs. WINTER

| | July-Aug. 1959 | Jan.-Feb. 1960 | Mar.-Apr. 1960 |
|---|---|---|---|
| Monday-Friday Morning | 3.6 | 5.4 | 5.6 |
| Monday-Friday Afternoon | 8.9 | 12.3 | 11.5 |
| All Nights (6-11 p.m.) | 16.2 | 27.5 | 23.6 |

RADIO: HOMES (000,000)

| | July-Aug. 1959 | Jan.-Feb. 1960 | Mar.-Apr. 1960 |
|---|---|---|---|
| Monday-Friday Morning | 5.0 | 6.4 | 6.8 |
| Monday-Friday Afternoon | 4.8 | 5.1 | 5.0 |
| All Nights (6-11 p.m.) | 3.4 | 3.2 | 3.3 |

THE VARIATIONS between summer and winter audiences, in both radio and television, are demonstrated in the tables above. The figures in both tables show in millions the number of homes tuned-in during the average minute. Note that while television's afternoon and evening audiences are substantially higher than radio's, radio's is consistently greater during the morning, winter and summer. Tables from A. C. Nielsen Co.

TV VIEWING PER HOME PER DAY

| | Night (6 p.m.-6 a.m.) | Afternoon (12 n-6 p.m.) | Morning (6 a.m.-12 n) | Total Day |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Monday-Friday | 3 hrs. 32 min. | 1 hr. 38 min. | 43 min. | 5 hrs. 53 min. |
| Saturday | 3 hrs. 53 min. | 1 hr. 38 min. | 53 min. | 6 hrs. 24 min. |
| Sunday | 3 hrs. 32 min. | 1 hr. 49 min. | 20 min. | 5 hrs. 41 min. |
| All Days | 3 hrs. 32 min. | 1 hr. 39 min. | 41 min. | 5 hrs. 55 min. |

TV AUDIENCE COMPOSITION

| | Homes Using Tv | Men | Women | Teens | Children |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Monday-Friday 9 a.m.-12 Noon | 18.1% | 13% | 50% | 4% | 33% |

Extent of Editorializing On Radio and Tv Stations

About 3 out of 10 television and am radio stations are now editorializing, at least occasionally, according to results of a nationwide survey for the BROADCASTING YEARBOOK.

Among fm stations, editorializing is not as widespread. Not quite 2 in 10 independently programmed fm stations are editorializing.

Am Radio Stations

|---|---|
| Stations reporting they editorialize | 1,031 |
| Total am stations on the air | 3,497 |
| Percent of stations editorializing | 29.5% |
| Percent that editorialize daily | 2.7% |
| Percent that editorialize weekly | 3.8% |
| Percent that editorialize occasionally | 23.0% |

Television Stations

|---|---|
| Stations reporting they editorialize | 170 |
| Total tv stations on the air | 535 |
| Percent of stations editorializing | 31.8% |
| Percent that editorialize daily | 3.7% |
| Percent that editorialize weekly | 2.8% |

Fm Stations

(Note: Many fm stations duplicate the programming broadcast by companion am stations. These were not counted in the editorializing survey. A total of 748 fm stations are on the air. Questionnaires were received from 282 that are programmed independently.)

|---|---|
| Stations reporting they editorialize | 54 |
| Total fm stations separately programmed that answered the YEARBOOK questionnaire | 282 |
| Percent of sample editorializing | 19.1% |
| Percent that editorialize daily | 2.8% |
| Percent that editorialize weekly | 1.8% |

Radio-Tv Station Employment

In this table, groupings of full-time staffs have been made and the percentage of total stations employing that number is shown. For example 0.6% of all television stations and 11.0% of all radio stations employ total full-time staffs of from one to five persons.

| Number of Employees | Tv Stations | Radio Stations |
|---|---|---|
| 1 to 5 | 0.6% | 11.0% |
| 6-10 | 1.4 | 42.6 |
| 11-15 | 5.5 | 22.8 |
| 16-20 | 5.2 | 9.7 |
| 21-25 | 4.2 | 4.3 |
| 26-30 | 7.2 | 2.4 |
| 31-35 | 7.2 | 2.1 |
| 36-40 | 5.5 | 1.1 |
| 41-45 | 6.1 | 0.8 |
| 46-50 | 5.2 | 0.7 |
| 51-60 | 11.3 | 0.6 |
| 61-70 | 12.2 | 0.6 |
| 71-80 | 6.1 | 0.5 |
| 81-90 | 5.5 | 0.3 |
| 91-100 | 2.2 | 0.1 |

Foreign Language Programming On U. S. Radio Stations

This list, arranged by languages, reports the stations programming foreign languages and the number of hours weekly. Each station carrying foreign language programs is also listed in the U.S. Am and Fm Radio Directory. The complete list of languages carried by each foreign-language station is reported. Asterisk (*) denotes non-commercial eductional. Where fm duplicates am in programming, a separate listing was not made.
